Telstar, Other U. S. Advances Kept Secret

Nikita Stands Firm, Has People With Him

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
Executive Editor,
Dallas Times-Herald

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Soviet Union I saw is a wasteland of suspicion — simply because it has never been told the truth about the United States of America.

It is buried in doubt and distrust, thoroughly propagandized to view us as greedy war profiteers unconcerned about peace and the rights of man.

The Russian reads only what they want him to read and he does what he is told to do.

Not Single Word Published

Sixteen were killed—one American from Detroit survived. But not a single word was printed in the newspapers. We learned of it through the American Embassy four days later.

Russians had not even been told about Telstar, the magnificent American achievement in international communications satellites, when I left the Soviet Union—although we were constantly needled about joining the Soviets in "Atoms for Peace."

The Soviet Union is a massive conglomeration of incredible contrast. It is vital and progressive in the impressive fields of science and technology—but it is pathetically primitive in the area of living.

No longer is there visible terror in the Soviet Union. Khrushchev deadened the fear of the midnight knock from the NKVD.

Nikita Khrushchev is wily, cunning, shrewd, tough, able — and determined. He stands 5 feet, 5 inches and a disproportionately small head sits atop a bulky body.

Stands Firm as Premier

But he also stands tall and firm as premier of the U.S.S.R. and is likely to remain there for some time.

Now he has the people with him.

He has improved their lot tremendously in recent years through housing and the general elevation of living standards.

Master politician who plays a tough game of international politics, Khrushchev acts like a man who doesn't want war. But not for one minute does it mean that he will abandon the pressures that have kept the world off-balance.

The big goal is still there — world domination.

The man is wildly jealous of the United States and he will go to the limit to reach our levels. He spoke of it in his conference with us. From what I saw, he will never make it. The know-how just isn't there on too many things. The thinking, particularly on agriculture, is primitive and archaic.

Khrushchev is pushing, threatening, and goading to get the sagging agricultural program into some semblance of orderly production.

Credits U.S. System

"What interests us most in America?" the premier asked in his July 13 conference with us. "It is oranization of farm production. In this field you have a great experience worthy of being studied. And the organization of agricultural work in the United States is better than in the Soviet Union. You have a better range of machinery, especially for stock farming."

But, of course, he added that "we will surpass you."

The Soviet Union, its eyes riveted on youth and the future, is bringing along the new generation in the country with tender hands. It lavishes the utmost, from kindergarten through college, on the pliable young.

In all of the Soviet Union, there

Anniversary of Wall Brings Berlin Battle

Gas, Boos, WaterMark Big Fracas

15,000 in Line Along West Side

BERLIN (AP) — Border guards fought a fierce tear gas battle today as massed West Berliners screamed their hatred of the red wall on its first anniversary.

The battle erupted in the Wilhelmstrasse, opposite the former Nazi air ministry. It is now the seat of several East German government ministries.

East German police shot a stream of water from a water cannon at West Berlin youths carrying a wooden cross along the wall.

Enraged West Berliners then hurled stones at the water cannon.

Eastern guards then tossed tear gas grenades into the thickly massed crowd.

West police immediately threw about 150 tear gas grenades over the wall. They fell all around two water cannon, which were enveloped in a thick cloud of gas and withdrew about 30 yards. The choking crews had to get out for fresh air.

Bring in 100 Police

Western police were soaking wet, as were the youths carrying the cross.

A company of 100 West riot police was rushed to the scene. There were about 80 Eastern police—Vopos—massed on the other side of the wall.

East Berliners tried to join in the demonstration. But Communist police kept them back. About 100 persons were seen being pushed back in the Unter den Linden and Wilhelmstrasse, in East Berlin.

Windows in buildings on the east side of the border were flung open as persons inside listened to the Western outcries of anger but Communist officials quickly shut the windows.

Loudspeakers Blare

The din along the wall was tremendous.

The Communists brought up loudspeakers blaring martial music in an attempt to drown out the shouts from the West.

Western police said they heard the rumble of tanks in East Berlin and saw truckloads of steel-bel-

No Landing Indicated Till Tuesday at Least

Nikolayev Makes 35 Orbits by 4 P. M. Moscow Time; Popovich Does 19

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet astronauts wheeled around the earth in tandem today, one entering his third day in space and the other his second in a historic feat putting the Russians ahead in the race to the moon.

Already they had passed the point where they would have been in position to land and that meant almost certainly they would go on through at least another night and morning.

Aboard Vosok III, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, 32, had made 35 circuits of the earth by 4 p.m. Moscow time, since his blastoff Saturday morning, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Aboard Vostok IV, Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, 31, had made 19 circuits since his launching Sunday morning. He thus also had surpassed the 17-orbit flight of Maj. Gherman S. Titov a year ago.

Exchange Greetings

The two exchanged radio greetings this morning after awakening and eating breakfast, but it was not clear how close their space ships were together. Tass reported they were near enough Sunday to see each other's ships.

Trackers in Japan had put the distance between them as about 75 miles Sunday. But the Ohio Research Center in Cleveland, Ohio, said they later had moved 385 miles apart.

At noon, every correspondent in Moscow braced for news that the pilots had begun their descent to Soviet soil. But rumors of a landing proved wrong. One Soviet source declared: "They are not coming down today."

Lauded by Premier

Premier Khrushchev messaged them: "I again congratulate you and embrace you. I wish you successful fulfillment of the program of the flight, and happy landing."

They were shown again on television today. Lying back in their chairs, occasionally rising to a half sitting position to work better with a log book or to keep it from shielding their faces from the television viewer in the cabin of the ship. Gestures and movements were relatively limited.

Surpass Moon Distance

Tass reported that millions of televiewers saw Popovich rise from his seat, look through the porthole, smile and drink something, then take his seat again.

Both had traveled far enough to reach the moon and back but both reported they felt fine, instruments were functioning perfectly, and cabin temperature and other conditions normal, Tass reported.

A midday bulletin said: "The necessary medical and hygienic conditions in the cabins of the cosmonauts are fully maintained."

The cosmonauts' morning hours were devoted to breakfast, setting-up exercises, and then scientific observations, physiological and vestibular (ear) tests and psychological tests, it said.

Nikolayev had far surpassed the 17-orbit record set by Soviet Maj. Gherman Titov a year earlier in Vostok II.

Move Toward Moon Shot

The double flight marked a fantastic feat of Soviet rocketry that the United States does not hope to match until at least next year. The ability to send up a second space ship 24 hours after the first one had gone up, and bring it into orbit in the vicinity of the first ship marked an important advance toward the day when satellites can join in space for construction of a space platform from which a moon shot can be made.

British scientists also said the Soviet accomplishment could lead to the early development of mili-

CAROLINE SIMON

Guest Speaker Is Named for GOP Dinner in Esopus

Guest speaker at the Town of Esopus Republican Club annual campaign dinner will be Mrs. Caroline K. Simon, secretary of state of New York. The event will be held Oct. 2 at the Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen.

Nominated to City Post

As a candidate of the Republican Party for president of the City Council of New York, 1957, she was the first woman ever nominated by a major party for a city-wide office. She polled 684,172 votes, more than any city-wide candidate ever had in the Republican line and 100,000 ahead of the ticket, including the candidate for mayor. National Address at 7 p. m.

Kennedy May Give Tax Plans Hint Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy may offer an advance peek at his plans for a 1963 tax cut when he speaks to the nation tonight on taxes and the lagging economy.

Most observers in and out of government were convinced he would reject suggestions that a quick tax cut offers the best chance of averting any early recession.

Kennedy was likely to call attention in his 7 p.m. EDT television-radio address to his stalled requests for stand-by authority to cut taxes and launch a public works program in the event of a recession. If Congress should approve these proposals, the door would be kept open for a possible tax cut later this year.

Strong recommendations for quick tax reductions have come from such diverse quarters as the AFL-CIO and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Conressional Opposition

Those who were convinced that Kennedy would turn down the appeals said that for one thing, there is formidable congressional opposition to the idea of considering a deficit-expanding tax cut in the waning weeks of an election year session.

Also, major economic indicators surveyed by Kennedy and key advisers at a White House conference Friday showed a moderate business pickup in July.

Perhaps equally important, the Treasury is fearful that a 1962 tax cut would undermine administration efforts to achieve a major reform of tax laws next year.

It was learned that work on the 1963 reform bill was far enough advanced to permit disclosure of certain key details. Several officials said it seemed logical that

Two Saugerties Service Stations Are Burglarized

Two Saugerties gasoline stations within 2,000 feet of each other on Route 212 and 32 were burglarized sometime during Sunday morning and nearly $400 in cash, merchandise and antique guns were stolen, police authorities reported today.

Acting Chief Harold Mills reported that burglars entered Phil's Shell Service station on Ulster Avenue in the village, moved the cigarette vending machine into the garage and removed about $10 in change. They also forced open the coffee vending machine and took an unknown amount of money and removed a roll of quarters, $10,

Russia, Astronauts Saluted

May Require Miracle To Win Race to Moon

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has congratulated the Soviet Union on its latest space accomplishment, but American space officials adopted a wait-and-see attitude and withheld official comment.

While relaxing over the weekend at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Kennedy said in a statement: "I congratulate the Soviet Union on this exceptional technical feat and salute the courage of her two new astronauts. The American people, I know, wish them a safe return."

In Washington, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "Until we know more about the Soviet mission we can't comment intelligently about it."

Recorded in London

American televiewers saw films of the two Soviet cosmonauts orbiting the earth in twin spaceships. The films were flown to New York after they were recorded in London from Eurovision broadcasts picked up from Moscow. ABC, CBS and NBC then transmitted them Sunday across their television networks.

American radio listeners also heard recordings of the voices of cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich reporting back from their orbital flight.

Although U.S. space officials would not be quoted by name, it was clear that America once again was behind in the space race for the moon. Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who circled the earth three times last May, put it this way: "We're behind and trying our best to catch up."

Earlier, the Soviet news agency Tass reported that a message from Carpenter, received in Moscow via The Associated Press, had been relayed to spaceman Nikolayev while he was in orbit.

Expression of best wishes came,

Glaring Defections Roughen Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy may have to develop some political blind spots in campaigning for Democratic candidates for the Senate and House.

While the President can go all-out in praise of the record of party office holders in several states, he will have to overlook some glaring defections from his New Frontiers program in urging the election of others.

In any widespread campaigning Kennedy may find himself calling for the defeat of Republicans who at times have given him vital support on issues he considers important to the success of his administration.

As a case in point, Kennedy will have to gloss over the solid backing given to him in international crises when he campaigns against Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen in Illinois.

Dirksen has fought many of Kennedy's domestic proposals. As an opposition leader in Congress he has criticized Kennedy's handling of international as well as domestic problems.

But when the chips were down in the Berlin crisis and the sending of troops to South Viet Nam, Dirksen and his House counterpart, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, plugged the Republican guns that might have roared in protest.

Similarly, Kennedy may have some mental reservations in urging the replacement of Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits in New York who helped frame the compromise version of the administration's bill for Social Security financing of health care for the elderly.

Kennedy has predicted that medicare will be a major issue in the campaign. If so, can he condemn the record of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the deputy Senate Republican leader? Kuchel worked and voted for the compromise bill.

Kennedy will have to close his eyes to individual opposition to

Thruway Police To Take Closer Look for Safety

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Thruway Authority said today it would take a closer look at vehicles entering the Thruway and bar those with unsafe equipment, particularly bald tires.

The authority said 236 accidents on the superhighway during the first six months of this year were caused by vehicular defects. Bad tires caused 87 of the mishaps.

The crackdown involves detailing extra collectors and supervisors to make frequent inspections of vehicles entering at toll stations, the authority said.

Four Injured in Car Mishaps, Two Drivers Held on Charges

Four highway fatalities in the area pushed the accidental death toll for the weekend in New York State to 33.

The area traffic deaths included three New York City residents who died in a head-on collision on Taconic State Parkway near Putnam Valley, and a Dutchess County youth who burned to death while trapped in his burning vehicle near Red Hook.

Three persons died Saturday as the result of injuries suffered in a two-car head-on collision on the Taconic State Parkway, just north of the Peekskill Hollow Road, Town of Putnam Valley, Putnam County.

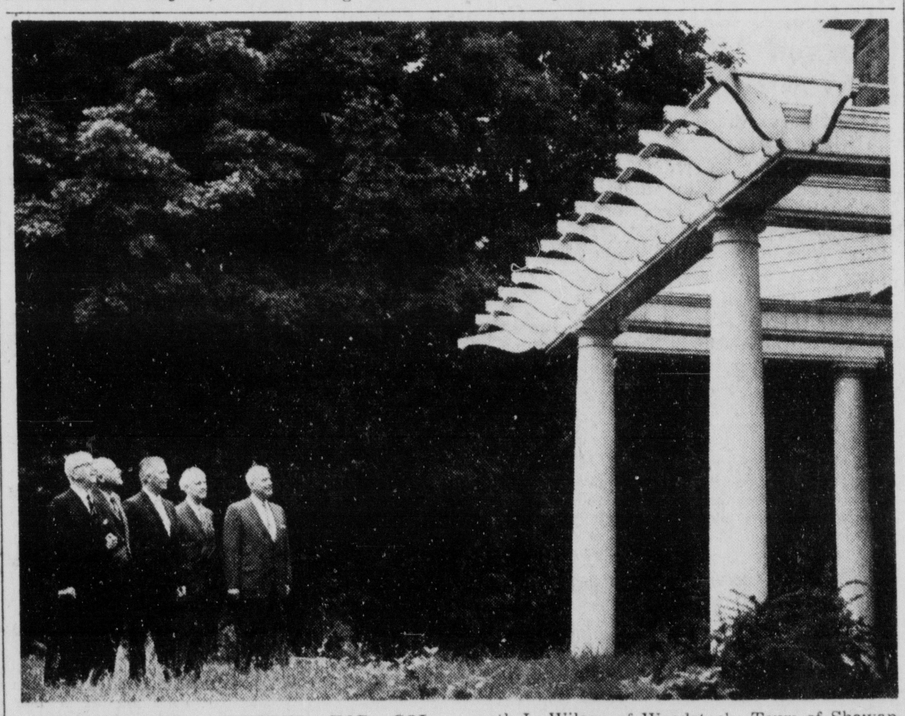

State police identified the victims as Andrew Frank Kelly, 31, of 128 Seaman Avenue, New York City, described as a former state trooper with Troop K, Hawthorne, and Leonard Sitchenko, 39, of 129-21 113th Street, South Ozone Park, L. I., and his wife, Margaret, about 26.

Kelly, reportedly retired as a state trooper about two years ago because of poor health.

Troopers reported the Sitchenko's were homeward bound traveling south and Kelly was going in the opposite direction when the crash occurred. Both cars were demolished.

The Sitchenko's were believed to have been killed instantly. Kelly was dead on arrival at the

Russell of Saugerties, a trustee of the college, was host to the group at his home after the inspection tour conducted by Supervisor Williams, Chamber President Aaron, and Vincent Amrod, chairman of the Chamber's education committee. Four Killed on Area Roads; 33 in State

Four persons were injured in five city traffic mishaps over the weekend, two resulted in charges against drivers, and one was caused by a dog running into a road.

John Crantz, 6, of Colonial Gardens, who suffered head injuries in a mishap at Flatbush Avenue and Colonial Drive Saturday, was reported in fair condition today at Kingston Hospital.

Police said he "ran off a curb into the side of a vehicle" operated by Anthony Naccarato, 37, of 5 Lincoln Street, which was headed west on Flatbush Avenue. Officers John Kennedy and Thomas Carpino investigated.

Ramon Vasques Rivera, 33, of 96 Clinton Avenue, was booked as an unlicensed operator, after a two-car accident at Franklin Street and Clinton Avenue, reported at 9:45 p. m. Saturday. He was listed as the driver of one car and the other was operated by Robert Arthur Edge, 299, of 82 Prospect Street. He reported head and knee injuries, and Rose Marie Albright, 36, of 16 West Union Street, suffered injuries of the face, right arm and hip and left foot. They were treated at Kingston Hospital. Officers Ira Hadsel and James Amato investigated. Rivera was fined $25 in city court.

A 19-year-old Dutchess County youth burned to death early Sunday, when trapped in the wreckage of his flaming car after the vehicle left Route 9G and crashed into a utility pole in the Town of Red Hook.

Dr. William G. Thompson, Rhinebeck, an assistant Dutchess County medical examiner, said James Dembroski Jr., 19, of Tivoli, died of third degree burns of the entire body. His car was demolished.

Trooper Gerald Pine, Rhinebeck, reported the youth was traveling north on Route 9G

See Hoffa, 40 Hours as Big Topics

CHICAGO (AP)—The traditional 40-hour work week and James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, appear likely to be high on the agenda at today's opening session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council's summer meeting.

A number of officials in the big labor federation believe the time has come to cut both down in size.

Labor leaders, including the AFL-CIO president, George Meany, usually have seen shortening the work week as the answer to growing unemployment.

Action Expected

The 26 union vice presidents making up the council are expected to take some action regarding the Teamsters Union.

The union, with 1,500,000 members, was expelled from the AFL-CIO in 1957 amidst charges of corruption. The AFL-CIO has more than 14 million members.

The Teamsters have come under renewed fire from AFL-CIO officials since last week's trial of 21 leaders of the affiliated Communications Workers of America.

All 21 were convicted in a union trial of having conspired to deliver 18,000 CWA members into the hands of Hoffa's union. Nineteen CWA leaders were expelled from the union and two were suspended for three years.

Joseph A. Beirne, CWA president, previously had asked the Executive Council to set up an organization to try and get some Teamsters members back in the AFL-CIO fold.

Kennedy Approved

Any drive for a shorter work week apparently would get no help from the Kennedy administration. President Kennedy has said repeatedly that he would propose no legislation to change the standard 40-hour week. Two of his top aides, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg and Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges, both have warned labor not to seek a shorter work week through legislation.

Employers also have shown they prefer to pay overtime to present workers rather than pay costly fringe benefits to new workers.

Kennedy Flies Home for Speech On TV Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy flew home today from a weekend of sailing and relaxaction off the Maine coast to prepare for a televised talk to the nation on taxes and the economy.

Rain and fog marred much of Kennedy's weekend in Maine. Fog was partly to blame for his delayed departure. It held up his helicopter flight from John's Island to Brunswick Naval Air Station, and shrouded the naval base as the presidential jet took off.

After several summer weekends at Hyannis Port, Mass., Kennedy got a change of scenery this time, visiting Boothbay Harbor, Main. He stayed at the island summer home of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney.

Car Skids on Wet Pavement, Hits Pole

Two Hyde Park residents were injured Saturday when their car skidded on wet pavement on Quaker Lane south of Melville Road, Town of Hyde Park, and struck a utility pole.

Trooper Edward Anderson, Hyde Park, reported Dennis J. Russell, 34, of Melville Road, Hyde Park, was driving north when his car slid on rain-soaked pavement. The driver lost control and the 1953 car hit a utility pole.

Injured and taken to St. Francis' Hospital, Poughkeepsie, were the driver, who suffered scalp lacerations, abdominal contusions and possible chest injuries, and Shirley Russell, 34, same address, who was treated for abrasions of both knees and forehead and contusions of the right thigh.

Six Hurt When Crane Collides With Train

NEW YORK (AP) — A heavy construction crane and a moving Long Island Rail Road passenger train collided today in Woodside Queens. Police reported that six persons were injured, two of them seriously.

Police said there were no reported fatalities and no one was trapped in the train.

Electricity on the line was cut off and a major traffic jam developed in the area.

First reports on how the accident occurred were conflicting. Police said one report indicated that the crane fell on top of the train but another story was that the train ran into the crane while the crane was moving across the tracks.

Troy Soldier Is Sentenced Today In Woman's Death

BALLSTON SPA, N. Y. (AP)—Gerald F. Sawyer of Troy, a 17-year-old Army private who kicked a 35-year-old woman unconscious and into a canal where she was drowned, was sentenced today to an indefinite terms at the Elmira Reception Center.

Justice Michael E. Sweeney of State Supreme Court sentenced Sawyer for second-degree manslaughter. The youth had pleaded guilty.

He kicked Mrs. Cecilia P. Rysscorph of Cohoes April 29 with his combat boots. The two had met in a tavern and quarreled later near the old Erie Canal.

SUNKEN BARGE PROBLEM—Esopus Town Board is reported taking action to prevent the township shorelines on the Hudson River and Rondout Creek from further becoming a graveyard for barges and tugboats. Supervisor Roger W. Mabie points to barges abandoned and gradually decaying where they ran aground along the shores of Sleightsburgh in Rondout Creek. The scene above is at the Sunflower dock where the Mary Powell docked in earlier years. The board is contacting the U. S. Coast Guard and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers to determine what action can be taken to have the barge debris removed and to prevent further abandoning of barges and old tugboats on the township shoreline.

REMAINS OF RIVERAMA — The show barge, Riverama was used by New York Trap Rock Corp. in 1950 to exhibit the operations of the firm. It traveled up and down the river as a floating display for the corporation until last fall when it was sold. The new owners intended to remodel the show barge and use it to display a Hudson River folklore exhibit. It sunk at the pier in Poughkeepsie and was on the bottom all winter. It was raised in June to permit access to the Hudson River Dayline boats and towed to its present site about a half-mile south of Esopus Light Station on the Hudson River. About a half-dozen other assorted barges and tugboats, some partially sunk, others hulking debris left by fire, litter the shorelines of the Town of Esopus. (Freeman photos).

Hospital Is Closing, Not Enough Patients

NEW YORK (AP)—While most hospitals in the nation find themselves with too much of a patient load, St. Peter's Hospital in Brooklyn announces it is closing because it hasn't had enough patients.

St. Peter's, founded by a Roman Catholic order in 1864 as an asylum for Civil War orphans, will end nearly a century of service when its doors shut Oct. 31.

The administrator, Sister Mary Martin of the Franciscan Sisters of the Poor, announced Sunday that there has been "a continued falling off in the use of the hospital's services with the result that today more than 50 per cent of the hospital facilities are not being used."

Heart Seizure Fatal

A 28-year-old prisoner at Green Haven Prison died unexpectedly Friday night of a heart seizure, according to Dr. E. Alan Larkin, Amenia, a Dutchess County medical examiner.

The prisoner, Joseph Murray, a native of the Bronx, was serving a maximum term of one to two years on an attempted second degree assault charge. Murray was found unconscious in a cell by a guard.

Brooklyn Driver Charged After R81 Collision

A Brooklyn motorist was charged with failing to keep to the right after his car was involved in a collision with another car from Brooklyn on Route 81, Town of Coxsackie.

Leeds State Police said Knute Totland, of 618 80th Street, Brooklyn, was summoned to appear Wednesday, Aug. 22, before Justice of the Peace Paul Weddleton, Town of Coxsackie, on the traffic violation.

Troopers reported Totland was driving east on Route 81 and Joseph Dougherty, of Fifth Avenue, Brooklyn, was going in the opposite direction when the vehicles collided. Authorities said Totland accidentally veered into the westbound lane.

Assault Charged

Edward Martini, 31, of 102 Clinton Avenue, was arrested Sunday on a third degree assault charge. The arrest followed a call for police to the above address. Officers Frank Stip and George Barringer, responded. Police said the charge was lodged by Antonia Rios, whose address was not given. The case was put over today for city court hearing Thursday.

Most German Cities Continued Business

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—It was business as usual in most West German cities today during West Berlin's noontime observance of the first anniversary of the Red-built wall dividing the former German capital.

In Hamburg, street traffic halted for a minute in sympathy with the Berliners. In the streets of Bonn, the West German capital on the Rhine, traffic came to a standstill and bells were rung.

In the Ruhr city of Bochum, a motorist stopped in downtown traffic to do his bit and was immediately hooted and scolded by other drivers for blocking traffic.

Garment Union Judged Guilty In Labor Rift

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Ladies Garment Workers Union was judged guilty today of a wide array of unfair labor practices in trying to prevent its employes from forming their own labor organization.

George A. Downing, trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board, made the ruling against the ILGWU, a union affiliated with the AFL-CIO and headed by David Dubinsky, an AFL-CIO vice president.

Among the charges cited by Downing were statements by Dubinsky expressing "hostility" to the Federation of Union Representatives (FOUR) an orgarization formed by ILGWU employes to obtain bargaining rights on wages and grievances.

Downing recommended that the five - man NLRB require the ILGWU to cease interrogating employes regarding membership or activities of FOUR, seeking to get employes to renounce affiliation with FOUR, warning or threatening employes belong to FOUR or withholding usual annual wage increases.

The ILGWU is expected to appeal the case to the NLRB and later possibly to the courts. FOUR narrowly won a recent NLRB election requiring the ILGWU to deal with the union employe organization.

3 Persons Hurt In Two Weekend Highway Mishaps

Three persons received injuries in highway accidents investigated by the sheriff's office.

John Walter Plonski, 19, RD 1, Box 165, Kingston, was driving east on Route 213, Eddyville, Saturday, when his car was forced off the pavement by an unidentified vehicle. Deputy Sheriffs Calvert Harvey and Michael Poole said Plonski said he would see his own physician.

Cars driven by Stanley Roberts Jr., of Olive Bridge, and Edward Lane, of 676 Park Avenue, East Orange, N. J., were involved in a collision at 4 p. m. Sunday on Route 213 near High Falls, according to a report of Deputy Sheriff Daniel Levy.

Roberts was driving east along the highway and Lane pulled from the intersection and the cars collided. Roberts and Carloles Roberts, owner of the vehicle and a passenger in the car said they would see their own physician.

Democrat Coming To Discuss Views For Governorship

It was announced today that Frank D. O'Connor, one of the three announced candidates for the Democratic nomination for Governor of New York State, will visit Kingston and Ulster County Thursday.

O'Connor is the District Attorney of Queens County, prior to which he served three terms in the New York State Senate. He is immediate Past President of the New York State District Attorney's Association and past State President of the Elks, among his many outstanding civic accomplishments.

According to Attorney George A. Beck, Ulster County chairman of "Citizens for O'Connor," tentative plans call for O'Connor to visit the Ulster County Fair next Thursday afternoon, and to address a meeting of the Kingston Men's Democratic Club that evening. Beck said O'Connor's complete itinerary for his Kingston visit would be announced early next week.

Local Truck Driver Hurt in Collision

Michael Cahill, 34, of 157 Bruyn Avenue, driver of a truck of R. K. Ballard, Inc., East Strand, suffered injuries of the right side when the truck he drove and another collided at 11:50 a. m. today at TenBroeck Avenue and Cornell Street. He was to be treated by a doctor.

Police said Cahill was thrown from the truck in the collision with an Island Dock Inc., cement truck operated by Warren Grimm, 31, of Box 2, Lake Katrine.

Officers John Kennedy and Thomas Carpino, who investigated, said the Ballard truck was headed south on Ten Broeck Avenue and the other was headed east on Cornell Street. Grimm's foot slipped as he was about to stop for a full-stop sign at the intersection, the report said.

Shark Patrol Necessary To Enjoy Bathing

MANASQUAN, N.J. (AP)—Restricted ocean bathing under the watchful eyes of a shark patrol was ordered today in the area where a New York man was attacked and bitten by what was described as a large fish.

The shark scare was touched off Sunday when Michael Roman, 24, was bitten on the hand, arm, and thigh in waist-deep water about 50 feet from the shore at Manasquan Beach. He was reported in satisfactory condition at a hospital.

Stripped of Powers

ALGIERS (AP) — Ahmed Ben Bella's ruling Political Bureau today stripped guerrilla troops of their police and judicial powers in a move to bring them into a unified national army.

The six-man Political Bureau is dictating Algerian policy since Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda of the provisional regime stepped down to become a mere figurehead.

Legion Elects Conners, for School Prayer

NEW YORK (AP) — The State American Legion elected Dr. F. Herrick Conners of Cohoes as its commander at a state convention here and urged parents to agree upon a school prayer that would not violate a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision.

The Supreme Court decision outlawed use of a prayer prescribed by the State Board of Regents.

At the final convention session Saturday, the Legionnaires elected their commander and passed a resolution which said:

"It is manifestly clear that a prayer chosen by the pupils or their parents and voluntarily recited by them at the beginning of each school day is not a procedure coming within the prohibition of said decision or the First Amendment of the Constitution.

The convention also staved off efforts by a small group of delegates to gain Legion backing for a $100 bonus for World War I veterans. Such a measure is being considered by the House of Representatives.

The convention, instead, asked that any payments for World War I veterans be made on the basis of need.

Rusk, Dobrynin Talked Today on German Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin discussed the German problem in a 20-minute meeting today.

"We continued to discuss the question of a German peace settlement," picking up where it was left in Geneva by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Rusk, Dobrynin told newsmen after the unusually brief meeting.

He said that no notes were exchanged at the meeting, but declined to answer a question as to whether any new proposals were submitted.

Dobrynin asked for the interview with Rusk, only five days after the previous meeting between the two, when Rusk asked the diplomat to call on him to discuss the new U.S. nuclear test ban proposals.

Dobrynin was asked whether the simultaneous orbiting of two Soviet cosmonauts came up in his conversation with Rusk.

"We talked about it, there was no discussion, only an exchange of views," the diplomat said.

Some Teamsters Ordered to Talk In Perjury Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of Teamsters Union employes were ordered to appear before a federal grand jury today in a perjury investigation based on their accounts of an alleged slugging of another Teamsters aide by the union's president, James R. Hoffa.

U.S. Dist. Judge Charles F. McLaughlin refused to quash subpoenas for the witnesses despite a plea by their attorney that they were about to be "badgered to see if they can't possibly contradict what they said before."

The probe got under way with Asst. U.S. Atty. Edmond T. Daly saying affidavits by the witnesses revealed "such a conflict in testimony that the government feels this investigation should be undertaken."

The case began last May when Samuel Barron, 59, field director for the Teamsters Warehousemen's Division, charged that Hoffa slugged him, knocking him knocking him down twice, and shoved a chair in an altercation in Hoffa's office.

Hoffa pleaded innocent to the assault charge in Municipal Court but the case was dropped after Daly said a group of Teamsters employes had furnished affidavits maintaining that Barron instigated the fight.

The federal grand jury investigation into the accuracy of the affidavits contradicting Barron's charge was revealed over the weekend.

Investor Forum

LIGHT IN THE CLEARING

In these uncertain days, investors should not get gloomy. There are lights in the clearing which can help in ameliorating economic pessimism. This melancholy feeling makes itself manifest in many ways.

Du Pont, the world's top-ranking chemical enterprise, has been ordered to divest itself of the 63,000,000 shares of General Motors it acquired over the years; and scores of letters have passed across my desk asking if both Du Pont and General Motors shouldn't be sold.

Long-pull investors in GM and in Du Pont should not only hold their shares, but they should accumulate them on weakness.

Right now Du Pont is employing about 1,900 research people who have Ph.D. degrees. Du Pont is spending more than $200,000,000 a year adding new plants and equipment and modernizing present facilities. In 1961 the company completed 13 major production units. Du Pont believes that by 1980 — in 18 years — the company will spend $4,000,000,000 in such work.

Is chemistry a good growth industry? Yes. Every investor in America should own some chemical shares.

What other lights in the clearing are there? I shall mention three others, but there are a score.

In 1962 about 60,000,000 housing units are required to house U. S. families. In 1980, probably 85,000,000 units will be required. In 1980 the population here will be crowding 260,000,000 people. Are sound building shares a good long-pull purchase? Of course.

Today in the U. S. there are about 75,000,000 registered motor vehicles. It is estimated that by 1980 there will be double that figure. Is there growth in General Motors, Ford and Chrysler? Sure. Gloomy investors should discard their pessimism if they can look ahead 10 or 20 years.

How about the food industry? Naturally, population growth requires more food. Two major industries are sure to benefit: agricultural equipment and food. In the coming years, expenditures for new farm property and equipment will total more than $4,000,000,000 a year.

A retired midwestern farmer has recently bought a substantial block of the best agricultural equipment common and preferred shares. He sold $50,000 of his farmland to get into a more liquid position.

Any well-diversified investment portfolio should carry some food stocks. Their stable income is satisfactory, and their growth is certain.

There are a hundred and one disquieting social, economic and military forces operating in America, any one of which can disturb investors.

But over against these are the positive forces of good emanating from steady population growth and rising standards of living.

Investors should follow the positive forces rather than the negative. Prices of common stocks are important, but growing values are more important.

Twelfth Night

A strange alarm system came to our attention when we heard that the Ballantine Distillery in Scotland now employs 19 geese to guard their warehouses. The natural curiosity of geese makes them run toward any strangers in the area, letting off a chorus of loud hisses, which alerts the human watchmen, so they say they are really good sentries. Wanna buy a goose, anyone? Perhaps what's good for the goose is good for the gander, but we employ only humans who are expert at serving YOU, guarding YOUR complete satisfaction. J. H. THE HARD 'EASY' WAY

The tragic story of thalidomide, which has been indicted for causing deformities in thousands of infants, concerns more than the issue of better regulation of new drugs.

It raises the fundamental question of why so many modern men—or more particularly, women—seem to have become so dependent upon pills to help them face the strains of living.

Undoubtedly, the new tranquilizers have been a major medical discovery. They are becoming an increasingly valuable adjunct in the treatment of mental illnesses.

But their eager acceptance by average, "normal" persons, who gobble them up by the billions each year, may constitute for some a flight from reality not dissimilar to that of the alcoholic.

A psychiatrist, Dr. Don D. Jackson of Stanford University's Palo Alto Medical Research Foundation, recently warned that the current emphasis on "happy pills" in the treatment of mental illnesses is misleading the public into thinking that a pill will one day cure any type of mental or emotional trouble.

He fears it may "discourage the public from facing the unpleasant facts about the administration and treatment of mental disorders."

The "unpleasant" facts are that, while body chemistry is involved in mental illnesses, these disorders arise from human relationships and are best treated by "simple human measures."

Dr. Jackson draws an analogy between headaches and aspirin. While no one denies that aspirin relieves headaches, the ailment is almost always the result of stressful social situations.

"All of us," he says, "are only too eager to deny an effect on our children and others around us . . . It is small wonder that parents are intrigued by hereditary and chemical explanations of their child's emotional problems."

The same thing can possibly be said of the sometimes vexing give-and-take of ordinary living, the clash of personalities, the burden of responsibilities each of us carries, or the phychological disturbances that come with pregnancy—and the sale of tranquilizers and barbiturates: We are looking for an easy way out of our problems.

NEW DRUG LAW NEEDED

One indisputable conclusion emerges from the emotional hue and cry that has attended revelations about the drug thalidomide. This is that although the United States already has more stringent restrictions on the marketing of food and drugs than any other major nation, a further tightening of some procedures is necessary.

In saying this there is no attempt to place the drug industry in the role of villain; this is no call for more police to thwart nefarious activities. Firmer restrictions are needed, not because drug firms are criminally indifferent to the public welfare, but because drugs have great potential for both good and harm and thus ought to be handled with extreme care.

The most readily apparent flaw in present control procedures lies in the system of inducing a large number of physicians to make "clinical tests" of new drugs by trying them out on selected patients. Sometimes this is done without telling the patient that a test is being made; the doctor is not legally obliged to say so. One unfortunate result is that there is not a quick enough feedback of data if unfavorable side effects crop up.

This system should be corrected. Only doctors with adequate training and equipment to conduct clinical tests of new drugs should be authorized to do so. The FDA should be notified at once if there are bad side effects, and it should have the authority to call back a drug immediately if it is considered hazardous. These and other changes, including a substantial increase in FDA staff, ought to be made. The need has been heavily underscored by the thalidomide tragedy.

Lest We Forget Cuba

In the welter of nationalism, with a hundred nations or more demanding attention, Castro's Cuba seems to have been forgotten. This is a Communist base in the Western Hemisphere from which Fidel Castro and his associates are trying to develop a Caribbean lake designed to damage the United States.

There can be no question as to Castro's purpose. As far back as October 1961, a joint statement issued by Liu Shao-chi, Chairman of the Chinese People's Republic, and Osvaldo Dorticos Torrado, President of the Republic of Cuba, included the statement:

"The two parties noted with great pleasure that the strength of the socialist camp has increased rapidly and is becoming the decisive factor in the cause of defending world peace and human progress; that the revolutionary struggles of the oppressed nations and peoples of the world have become an irrestible torrent which is sweeping away the systems of imperialism and colonialism; and that the process of the disintegration and decline of imperialism is accelerating. The world situation is becoming more and more favorable to the cause of the people of the world who are striving for peace, democracy, national liberation, and socialism, and more and more disadvantageous to imperialism and all the reactionaries."

Further the statement said:

"Both parties agreed that the policies of aggression and imperialism, and especially of U. S. imperialism, are the chief factors threatening world peace and causing international tension. U. S. imperialism is the most vicious enemy of the people of the whole world. To carry out aggression and expansion abroad, it has organized aggressive military blocs, such as NATO, SEATO, and CENTO, signed bilateral or multilateral aggressive military agreements, and established its aggressive military bases on the territories of many countries. It has further used the so-called Berlin crises as a pretext to step up its arms expansion and war preparations and aggravate international tension. All this requires that the peace-loving countries and people of the whole world maintain constant vigilance."

In a word, the enemy of peace and progress is the United States. Everything this country has done or is doing is wrong. Castro joins with the enemies of the United States to denounce this country. The surprising fact is that there are still Americans who believe that Castro might not have been a Communist had the United States been more friendly to him. This is disproved by the record. Even more, in this joint statement with the Red Chinese appears this paragraph:

"The two parties exchanged opinions on the present situation in Latin America and were agreed that the great victory of the Cuban Revolution has set a brilliant example for the other Latin American peoples, that the struggles of the united Latin American peoples in defense of national independence and for democracy and freedom are developing on a wide scale and intensively, and that U. S. domination in Latin America has begun to collapse. However, the United States of America will never give up its colonialist policy of controlling and enslaving Latin America. The Kennedy administration is stepping up its machinations to isolate Cuba and strangle the Cuban Revolution and to suppress and wreck the national and democratic movements of the Latin American peoples. The two parties noted with satisfaction that in order to combat their common enemy — U. S. imperialism — the Latin American peoples are strengenthening their solidarity and mutual support more and more."

There it is — "the enemy — U. S. imperialism"! It is astonishing that all the United States has done for China and Cuba is forgotten in this misery of intensive nationalism overlaid by the bitterness of Marxism. We, who a few years ago were the friend, are now the enemy and we are a hated enemy. Let us not fool ourselves: that is our present status in both Red China and Cuba. Those who have tried to sell us something else have been belied by the Castro Cubans and Red Chinese.

For the United States, Communism must be regarded as principally an external question, as a factor in the Cold War, as perhaps the most vital instrument of the Cold War.

It is essential that our minds be devoted to those Communist developments outside the United States which affect us. Among them, Cuba is outstanding. It would be a national error to forget what harm Fidel Castro has done to the United States.

Hygiene, Medication, Minimize TB Spread

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—We have just learned that my husband has tuberculosis. We have two children and I am expecting a third in a month. What can be done to protect us from infection?

A—There are at least three general methods by which the dangers of a household spread of tuberculosis infection may be reduced almost to the vanishing point.

First, your husband must realize that tubercle bacilli may be present in his sputum and in the droplets he sprays when he coughs. Consequently it is his responsibility to destroy sputum at all times. When he coughs he must cover his mouth with a tissue that can promptly be burned. And when he kisses you or the children — which he must do as infrequently as possible — he must merely bestow a token caress on an indifferent area (top of head) with lips tightly pursed.

To supplement his efforts, you and the children may be protected both by vaccine (BCG) that will help you build your own defenses and by a drug that possesses the power of killing tubercle bacilli (tuberculocide). To give you an idea of the effectiveness of these antituberculous measures, let me quote from three recent reports:

At the Cook County Hospital in Chicago,, a comparison was made of the fate of BCG-vaccinated infants as compared with those who were unvaccinated and equally exposed.

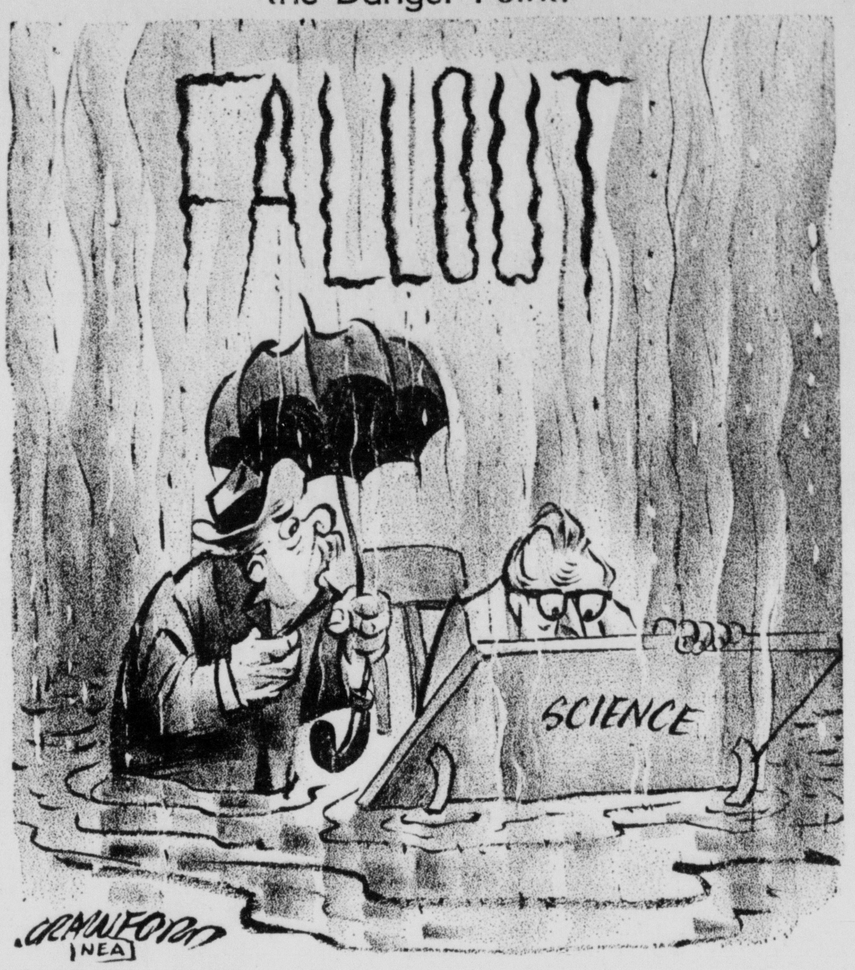

Over a 23-year period of observation, the occurrence of tuberculosis was reduced 75 per cent in the vaccinated, who suffered only a single death, as against six in the group of the unvaccinated.

And, in a similar study, conducted in the province of Quebec, deaths from tuberculous meningitis were reduced from 133 in the nonvaccinated group to 6 of the vaccinated. From their experiences, the Canadian investigators concluded that, of the 543 deaths that occurred from all forms of tuberculosis during the seven-year period of observation, vaccination would likely have prevented 361 of the fatalities.

With the additional aid of a simple tuberculocidal drug (isoniazid or one of its relatives), that can be taken by mouth, the number of cases of active tuberculosis and/or deaths from tuberculosis may be reduced still further. Using the drug alone, the United States Public Health Service observed the effects on more than 25,000 household contacts. Only 9 drug-treated children and 14 adults developed the disease, against 16 children and 62 adults who did not receive tuberculocide.

Thus, you see, there is ample justification for my statement that, with combined vaccine and drug preventive therapies, the risk of an household spread of your husband's tuberculosis infection "may be reduced almost to the vanishing point."

"By the Way, When Does It Reach the Danger Point?

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The annual home stretch sprint is now on in Congress with the money stakes running in billions.

The question before every candidate for reelection is whether to vote for bigger spending bills in Congress to show voters back home how much their representatives in Washington has done for his state and district.

The alternative is to vote big cuts on all appropriation bills in an appeal to economy-minded voters who think the government is already spending too much as it is.

Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., writes his constituents that the $885 million Interior appropriation bill just passed will give his state $11 million in nice, new, federal money.

Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., tells his state it will benefit by $297 million in payroll and $114 million in prime contracts from Department of Defense. Also, $6 million more for hospitals and and another $6 million for schools.

SIMILAR LETTERS are being sent by other congressmen to every state in the union for, so far, this has not been an economizing Congress. On the five appropriation bills for this year approved by Congress as this is written, the total of nearly $60 billion is $44 million above Kennedy budget requests.

These figures include a boost of $229 million to a total of $48.1 billion for Department of Defense. The other four bills appropriating the Legislative, Post Office, Interior, Labor, Health Education and Welfare funds were cut only $185 million below budget requests. Total for these appropriations: $11.8 billion.

House of Representatives has a pretty good record on cutting back money bills. It is the Senate which is profligate, restoring cuts which the House has to accept as a compromise.

Rep. Jerry Ford, R-Mich., has dug up figures to show that in the last 10 years, the Senate has raised House appropriations by $32 billion. In conference, the House has been able to make $10 billion of its cuts stick.

But the net effect is that the ment spending by a $2.2 billion-Senate has increased governa-year average over House-approved appropriations in the last decade.

THE OTHER SIDE of this story is that pressure is now building up in Congress for an all-out economy drive in the remaining weeks of this session. House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck and others have declared open opposition to the quickie tax cut now being considered by President Kennedy. The Halleck alternativve is for a drastic cut in government spending. He can probably muster a lot of conservative Democratic as well as Republican support.

The trouble is that this idea comes pretty late in the session, after two-thirds of the money for this year's government operations has already been appropriated by Congress.

Another trouble is that the economizers have not come up with any carefully prepared, specific proposals on how much to cut or where the cuts should be made.

So if any reductions are made in this year's $93 billion budget, they will be by a slashing, meat ax attack, with ringing election year criticisms of Kennedy administration reckless extravagance with the taxpayers' money.

THE ADMINISTRATION'S $546 million request for fallout shelters has already been cut to $10 million. Land acquisition costs for three new government buildings in Washington have been eliminated, including one for the FBI, which needs more room and usually gets what it wants.

The President's request for $2 billion stand-by authority to start new public works in recessions is threatened.

The $500-million urban transportation measure is endangered. So are the wilderness preservation and land conservation for recreation programs.

The $2.6 billion college bill, now in conference, and the $1.2 billion programs for teacher training, elementary and secondary education grants are in jeopardy. So are medical and dental education aid and the Youth Conservation Corps.

On the other hand, the House Post Office Committee has tentatively approved a $1.2 billion pay increase for postal workers. So, there's no telling what the final score will be.

Supreme Court's Language Called Puzzling on Prayer

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Justice Tom C. Clark of the Supreme Court of the United States broke precedent the other day in discussing publicly the recent decision in the famous "school prayer" case. He said in a speech before the Commonwealth Club at San Francisco that errors in the public's interpretation of court decisions come sometimes largely because of "the haste with which news agencies are obliged to cover our announcements."

Justice Clark may not realize it, but much of the confusion and misinterpretation in this instance arose from statements by members of the court itself—the opinions written by Justice William O. Douglas, who concurred with the majority, and by Justice Potter Stewart, who dissented. They did not prepare their opinions in haste. They had had an opportunity to examine carefully the majority opinion, written by Justice Black, before it was handed down by the court itself. The verbatim text of what Justice Clark said in his speech at San Francisco is now available. He declared flatly that the court had not outlawed religious observance in public schools, and then added:

"I make it a practice not to discuss specific cases. The best place to find out what they hold is in the opinion. But I do think it appropriate to say something in regard to this one. It came down on the last day of the term with some 15 other cases. The news announcements were not complete, most of them reciting the content of this 22-word prayer and the fact that the court had held it unconstitutional for a teacher to have her pupils recite it.

Pointed Criticism

"The public response was immediate and critical. The mail is heaviest in years, the criticism the most pointed. In fact, it was a case that would bring a Martin Luther to say of judges: 'A good jurist but a bad Christian.'

"But I found that as soon as the people understood the ruling the trend changed. In fact, most of my mail was favorable. This was because, I believe, that the news agencies began to interpret the decision in the light of the facts. Rather than jumping at the result and confusing the spiritual or ethical policy involved with the legal one decided, the public saw that here was a state-written prayer circulated to state-employed teachers with instructions to have their pupils recite it in unison at the beginning of each school day. True, a student might leave the room or not stand with his fellows and give the prayer. But could this be said to make it voluntary? . . .

"But whether the school prayer was voluntary or not was not decisive. The Constitution says that the government shall take no part in the establishment of religion. 'No' means 'no'. And, as I have indicated, as soon as the people learned that this was all the court decided—not that there could be no official recognition of a divine being or recognition on silver or currency of 'In God We Trust' or public acknowledgment that we are a religious nation—they understood the basis on which the court acted. The trouble is that so often—like the claim of the wife—the court is never understood."

But it is still a question whether the public understands the "school prayer" case. For what Justices Douglas and Stewart wrote has given rise to much of the continuing criticism inside and outside of Congress concerning the court's own opinion. Thus, Justice Stewart in his dissent said:

"With all respect, I think the court has misapplied a great Constitutional principle. I cannot see how an 'official religion' is established by letting those who want to say a prayer say it. On the contrary, I think that to deny the wish of these school children to join in reciting this prayer is to deny them the opportunity of sharing in the spiritual heritage of our nation. . . .

"The court today says that the state and Federal governments are without Constitutional power to prescribe any particular form of words to be recited by any group of the American people on any subject touching religion. The third stanza of 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' made our National Anthem by act of Congress in 1931, contains these verses . . . 'In God is our trust'."

Justice Stewart also cited the fact that Congress in 1954 amended the pledge of allegiance to the flag to read: "one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

As for Justice Douglas, who "concurred" in the majority opinion of the court, he pointed out that what New York State was doing in opening its public school sessions each day with prayer is what is also done by each house of Congress and by the Supreme Court itself. He questioned the Constitutionality of this, too, and wrote:

"Yet for me the principle is the same, no matter how briefly the prayer is said, for in each of the instances given the person praying is a public official on the public payroll, performing a religious exercise in a governmental institution."

This correspondent, on the day after the court's opinion was handed down, wrote a dispatch for Wednesday, June 27, pointing out the narrow ground covered and stating his conclusion that voluntary prayer had not really been banned in the schools. But, as mentioned in this column on July 5, the public would be better served if the court's own opinion distinguished between the actual ruling in each case and the "dicta" or opinions or reasoning given by individual Justices. For the fault is not with the press or with the public, but with the complex and often ambiguous language in which the opinions of the Justices themselves are presented.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LOS ANGELES — Richard Nixon's greatest political feat was his work with the House Committee on un-American Activities in exposing Alger Hiss and establishing the record on which Hiss was convicted of perjury with clear implications that he had traitorously delivered secret American documents to an agent of the Soviet Empire. Moscow has been the enemy of the United States ever since the original revolution in 1917 and this enemy never before has been as dangerous as it is today. But in the campaign for the Presidency in 1960, Nixon, the Republican candidate, doggedly and mysteriously refused to throw the issue of Communism into Candidate John Kennedy's teeth and thus to put Kennedy and his party on the defensive as the force which delivered vast, piteous masses of Humanity into slavery and reduced this nation to financial bankruptcy.

This year in his campaign against Pat Brown, a humdrum, orthodox Democratic incumbent for the governorship of California, Nixon thus far has followed the same line of reticence. Worst of all, however, in a letter to the Los Angeles Times, Nixon gratuitously insulted and repudiated an element of anti-Communist voters embraced in the John Birch Society. They obviously are numerous in Southern California and the Times, as well as Hearst's Los Angeles Examiner, now defunct, took occasion to attack them in articles in 1961.

The Society has been represented as a "mysterious" political element although it is no more secretive than the United Mine Workers or David Dubinsky's union of Ladies Garment Workers, which maintains its own State Department, or Foreign Office, in New York with embassies and secret agents in foreign countries, and operates a parasitic political party in the State of New York which seems capable of earmarking about 300,000 votes for the Democratic Party in important elections. Thus far the Birch Society has no demonstrated political strength at all and there has been no serious suggestion from any respectable political authority that it has at its command even a tenth of the amount of money which these two unions possess.

It is apparent that Nixon repudiated the Birch Society as a gesture to General Eisenhower in the hope that Ike would be persuaded to exert himself on Nixon's behalf in the California campaign. Robert Welch, the founder of the Birch Society, seems to have expressed à contemptuous political opinion of Ike in a private letter some time before the Society was founded. That at best accused Ike of toleration or "softness" toward Communism, a belief which I professionally hold. It would seem that Nixon went out of his way to offend the Birch people and thus cultivate Ike in the hope that, this time, Ike would bestir himself and hit the road on Nixon's behalf.

It is important to remember that a few days ago Ike admitted that one of the important mistakes of his own political career was his failure to go all out for Nixon against Kennedy in 1960. Obviously Nixon wants his energetic support this time—but was it necessary to turn away an element of rather primly Republican voters without positive assurance that Ike would get out and hustle this time and without any measure of the vote which Ike might deliver to Nixon in the Fall?

The Birch Vote has no alternative but to go fishing unless it is willing to consider that Nixon's reason for this insult was emotional and thus to forgive him—this time. It is hard for people of such conviction to go fishing when they may hold the balance of power. Each member finally decides for himself. No authority can issue orders. And if the Birch People should forgive Nixon and vote for him they might deliver the election to the Republican Party. Some of the Birch People now lean to this decision. They can't vote for Brown. Nixon can't retract his repudiation but he doesn't have to repeat it or emphasize it and by treading tactfully in the meanwhile he might mollify these people.

CHAPEL MADE OF ICE—One of the most unusual chapels in the world is located inside a glacier. It was built by volunteers at Camp Tuto, Greenland, summer base of the Army's Polar Research and Development Center. Every permanent article in the 13-foot-high, 10-foot-wide Gothic vault chapel was formed of ice. The altar, which weighs 700 pounds, was molded by combining water with ice chips hewn from the apse. Candlesticks were hand-rubbed to be as clear as fine glass. Lights reflecting against the ice and hoarfrost on walls give off striking hues of blue and green.

Unusal TV Shows Due During the Coming Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — We're in for some rather unusual television entertainment this coming season, shows notable for omissions rather than excesses.

One new series, "Going My Way," is built around two Roman Catholic priests. The program will scrupulously avoid religious themes.

"The Virginian" has the usual cast of characters — the ranch-owner, the daughter, the foreman and his cowboy buddies. But the basic conflict will be the old West against the new, instead of the good guys against the bad ones.

"Combat" and "The Gallant Men," both about fighting men in World War II, will de-emphasize shot, shell and enemy action and, instead, explore personal relationships under foxhole conditions.

"Mr. Smith goes to Washington" concerns the adventures of a United States senator. But it will avoid all political themes. The hero's party affiliation will never be revealed nor will his state of origin.

Aim of Network

If you think these typical examples indicate a very bland diet of escape entertainment, be assured that this is exactly what network television has been hoping for.

This is the logical reaction to the lambasting the multimillion-dollar industry took from many quarters last season.

It was called a "vast wasteland" by a top administration official, followed by talk of stricter regulation of the public's air. There were Senate subcommittee hearings that produced headlines about concentration on television of unnecessary quantities of violence. There were complaints about controversial themes and stereotyping minorities, some accompanied by lawsuits, threats of boycott and, upon occasion, withdrawal of sponsors.

Was Worrisome

Although it was a profitable season, it was also a worrisome one. Now television, like a spanked child, is trying awfully hard to avoid more punishment.

The non-controversial, non-violent approach of the entertainment shows, together with an extra number of public affairs, current events and cultural programs may indeed take off some of the heat. Whether they will prove interesting to the millions who turn to television more for relaxation and amusement than for raising their sights—is another matter.

One of the nicest bits of news concerns the return to television of Marlin Perkins, the naturalist who too long ago went off the air with his "Zoo Parade." NBC will return him in a Sunday afternoon spot starting in January.

AnnounceFeature At Eastern States Fair Sept. 15-23

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. —An educational exhibit known as the Country Farm Fair will be one of the many highlights of the Eastern States Exposition which is scheduled this year for Sept. 15-23.

Under the direction of Daniel P. Hurld, Jr., extension agent for Essex County in the Eastern End of the state, the exhibit is designed to give city-bred visitors to the huge Exposition a chance to see close-up the intricacies of such farm projects as horseshoeing, milking cows, plus horseback riding demonstrations in both English and American saddles.

Hurld acts as master of ceremonies at Country Farm Fair and keeps up a running commentary on events taking place. He also invites members of his audience to take part in the program by riding his horses and attempting to milk his cows. In addition, he tells from what part of a steer various cuts of beef come from and why there is a difference in their prices.

Library Accepts Vett Resignation

At the recent regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees of the Elting Memorial Library, President William Heidgerd read a letter of resignation from John Vett, who will leave New Paltz to take a position at the New York State Maritime College at Fort Schuyler.

The board accepted Mr. Vett's resignation with regret, and a vote of thanks was extended him for his outstanding work as chairman of the Library Building Fund which has been successfully completed.

The final report on the proceeds of the Elting Memorial Library Fair was given at this time. Louis LeFevre, Treasurer, reported that the Fair held in conjunction with the Library Youth Center Dedication netted $1,252.53.

Detailed report was as follows: Books—$129.84; Childrens Booth—$56.38; Opportunity Booth—$236.01; Jewelry—$189.54; Nursery for Children—$5.30; Ceramics—$11.00; Plants and Flowers—$130.00; Mrs. Earl Stokes garden—$20.00; Cake and Candy—$92.00; Jayncees Refreshment Booth — $116.11; Prizes—$229.30; Contributions—$29.75. Total receipts were $1,318.23. Expenses, $65.70. Leaving a net balance of $1,252.52.

A meeting of the fair committee and the board of trustees will be held on September 13.

A special meeting of New Paltz Central School Board was held recently to discuss with the architects, Fleming and Silverman, the new school building.

The architects feel that a conventional type building is more favorable than a steel-type structure. They feel that in a steel-type building more plans would be required and more time would be needed for bids as these bids would be limited.

As the site of the proposed new school is just outside the village limits and the village has restricted all water-rights outside the village, the possibility of wells was discussed and a comparison on the cost of wells will be investigated.

The board also resolved to ask Jack Erman of the New Paltz Grower's Inc., for a right of way of 50 feet in order to provide a turn-around space which is needed to meet the town's specifications.

The board approved hiring Crosby Wilkins to build the proposed road from the school site to Sunset Ridge. Following a survey, construction will be put out for bid. The Town Board has stated that as soon as the road meets the proper specifications it will be accepted.

A report was made from the committee seeking extra space for renting to be used as classrooms for next year to alleviate split sessions. It was felt that extra space would not provide the educational advances required such as library, special area teachers, school lunches and play areas. There would also be a mix up with bus transportation as the contract is already based on split sessions.

Bids were awarded to the following companies: General Baking Company for bread items; Meadow Valley Stock Farm for milk; Breyer Ice Cream Company for ice cream products.

The board has also approved the following resolutions:

To send a check in the amount of $8,240 to Architects Flemming and Silverman for work completed on the preliminary drawings for the new school building; that a tax anticipation note in the amount of $25,000 be approved from the State of New York National Bank, Huguenot Branch at three and one-half per cent interest; $20,000 of this to be deposited in the construction fund and $5,000 in the general fund.

That the bid for fluorescent fixtures for the high school be awarded to Matthew Fairweather in the amount of $3,587; that the bid for blacktop be given to Abram Paradies, Inc., in the amount of $1,910; contract for roof repairs to Nardone Building Maintenance Company of Poughkeepsie in the amount of $1,-711.15; that the Industrial Arts contract go to the following: Electra Supply Co., for $67.31. Neil and Spanjer, $78.50. Broadhead Garrett Co., $649.50, and Patterson Brothers in the amount of $202.65.

The following committees have been appointed with the person named first to act as chairman: Auditing, Ralph Buchanan and Richard Fall; Building and Grounds, Richard Fall and Joseph Foley; Transportation, Robert Reid Jr., and Jay LeFevre; Faculty Liaison, Dr. William Hagney, Mrs. Nathan Stillman and Ralph Buchanan; Citizens' Committee Liaison, Jay LeFevre, Mrs. Stillman and Ralpt Buchanan; Policy, Ralph Buchanan, Dr. Hagney and Richard Fall; School Evaluation, George Langwick, Dr. Hagney and Robert Reid; Construction Committee, Joseph Foley, Richard Fall, Robert Reid, Jay LeFevre; Co-Ordinations, Public Relations and Publicity, Mrs. Stillman; Insurance, Robert Reid Jr.; Education Law, Dr. Hagney; Co-Op. Board, George Langwick.

The board also approved the following purchase orders: Parallel Bars and Conversion Kit in the amount of $586, Mats for gym horse amounting to $210 and three biology tables for $372.

The following checks were also approved: Nationwide Co. Inc., Workmen's Compensation Insurance Policy, $1,327.37; New York State Insurance Tax Bureau, $2,-492.00 Abram Paradies, $138.00, Crosby Wilkin in the amount of $635.00.

IN THE Service

To Attend Sea Fair

Leland E. Eaton, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Eaton of 15 Shufeldt Street, Kingston, is serving aboard an amphibious force flagship which is participating in the annual "Sea Fair" festivities at Seattle, Wash.

Representing the First Fleet, the ship is one of many ships which took more than 3,000 Bluejackets to the Northwest for the event.

The "Mardi Gras of Seattle," the Sea Fair will be highlighted by the world's championship unlimited hydroplane race on Lake Washington.

Return States Side

Lawson I. Avery, boilerman third class, USN, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Avery of 761 Abeel Street and Dennis W. Longendyke, radarman seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Longendyke of 50 German Street, both of Kingston, were serving aboard a heavy cruiser when she returned to San Diego, Calif., recently after three and one-half years of service with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

The ship arrived in the U. S. from Yokosuka, Japan, flying a homewardbound pennant 674 feet in length. Because the vessel was homeported in the Far East longer than any major combatant ship since before World War 2, this pennant is one of the longest ever flown.

The pennant, which measures one foot for every man aboard who has served more than nine months outside the U. S., was cut up and distributed to the crew upon arrival at San Diego.

The ship will now enter the Long Beach Naval Shipyard for an overhaul and is scheduled to return to duty as a fleet flagship next spring.

Nut Production

Production of the four major edible tree nuts (almonds, filberts, pecans and walnuts) set a new record high of 270,930 tons in the U.S. during 1961. This was 18 per cent greater than the 1960 crop and 35 per cent above the 1950-1960 average crop, according to the 1962 Britannica Book of the Year.

Ike Good Until 18th, Plays His Partner's Ball

BY EDDY GILMORE

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP) —Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower executed some beautiful golf shots here today—but pulled a boner on the 18th hole by mistakenly playing his partner's ball.

His partner was Sir James Gault, an old friend and former military aide.

Ike never knew the difference.

The former president teamed up with Sir James against U.S. Adm. H. P. Smith and Freeman Gosden, of the old Amos and Andy American radio team.

"I'm afraid we've all got bad scores," said Gosden, "but the general really played some marvelous shots."

On this course, the west 18 of the Wentworth Golf Club, a bad score is understandable. It is 6,936 yards long, with numerous traps and plenty of woods. Golfing champion Arnold Palmer once described it as one of the toughest anywhere.

It was the former president's first golf game since he arrived Friday on his European tour.

As in America, Ike used an electric golf cart—but not all the time. Between most of the holes, he walked. His pace was brisk and he certainly didn't look his 71 years.

When photographers closed in, he didn't appear worried and got off a 210-yard drive, slightly hooked. The ball ended up in the fairway, but near the rough.

With the cameramen begging for more pictures, and Ike smilingly accommodating by waving and doffing his cap at their orders, he must have gotten confused.

He walked up to a ball in the middle of the fairway and, for his second shot, sliced and got into the bushes on the other side of the fairway. He played out well and then got on to the green.

In the meanwhile, his partner was searching for his ball—which had been straight down the fairway.

Finally a caddy called and whispered: "I'm afraid the general's played your ball, sir."

Sir James smiled and shrugged.

No scores were announced.

Anniversary

meted troops being deployed on streets leading to the wall.

The Western reinforcements were ordered up after thousands of booing, shouting persons massed along the wall.

At least 15,000 West Berliners were at various points on the wall, witnesses estimated.

Traffic and work had halted for three minutes in West Berlin to mark the anniversary.

Erupts Into Noisy Time

What was planned by authorities as a quiet observance of the anniversary erupted into a noisy demonstration. At the Friedrichstrasse, West Berlin motorists blew their horns for 50 minutes.

People streamed to the wall. They shook their fists, shouted in chorus and waved to any East Berliners they could see.

They booed some Soviet soldiers in a Red army car caught in the stalled traffic.

The crowd hurled insults at four Soviet staff cars driving to Friedrichstrasse to cross into East Berlin. The cars were spat on. Men shouted "pigs" and unprintable expressions at the Russians.

Remember Injustice

In a broadcast carried by all radio stations, Mayor Willy Brandt said: "In this minute we all remember the bitter injustice which has been done our city. We think about our relatives and friends, about our countrymen, who by brutal force are separated from us, and we honor the victims of the wall."

Wreaths were placed along the wall in memory of at least 37 people who have died on it during its year of existence.

One East German guard on the wall marked the day by jumping across the barricade to asylum in West Berlin.

Many West Berliners turned up Sunday evening to wave across the wall to relatives.

Leaflets calling for a rally in West Berlin this evening were distributed. They were signed by the "Committee for an Indivisible Berlin." Police said the rally had not been licensed.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called on the world never to forget the 17 million people living as in a prison in Red-ruled East Germany.

Financial and Commercial

By RICHARD HOENIG
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged upward in continued slow trading early this afternoon.

Most of the advances were less less than a point. The list opened mixed but some small losses were erased during the morning.

There was a little more activity than on Friday when total volume dipped to a 2½-month low.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was higher by .3 at 218.2 with industrials ahead .6, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

The weekend news of Russia's twin orbital spaceshot failed to cause much excitement in the market. Some aerospace issues that might benefit from increased U.S. expenditures in that field gained.

Brokers said however, that most investors were sitting tight to see what President Kennedy would say tonight about his tax cut plans. Most analysts are convinced there will be no cut this year.

Some of the savings and loan holdings companies pushed upward around mid-day. The group has been the subject of a number of market letter recommendations in recent days.

Financial Federation and Great Western Financial were ahead more than 1 while United Financ added about ½.

McDonnell Aircraft was ahead close to 1½.

2 Soviet Astronauts Still Up

tary satellites that would home on such spy-in-the-sky satellites as the U.S. Midas and Samos and destroy them.

Soviet announcements so far gave no indication when the two spaceships would be brought to earth.

Won't Come Down Today

An informed Soviet source said he believed the two cosmonauts would not come down today.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio telescope, said in London Sunday he had been advised by Moscow sources that the flights would continue "a few days."

A U.S. tracking station near Johannesburg, South Africa, calculated from the orbits that both astronauts took off from a launching site in the Baikonur area near the Armenian border.

Robert Citron, chief of the Smithsonian Institution station, predicted the two ships would land near Krasny Kut, in the southeastern part of the Soviet Union.

Nikolayev told control headquarters he could see Popovich's ship through his porthole as the two ships hurtled through space completing each earth orbit in slightly more than 88 minutes.

14 Miles Higher

At its maximum orbital height of 157 miles, Vostok IV was 14 miles higher than Vostok III. They reached a minimum orbital height of 112 and 111 miles respectively.

The faces of both spacemen were flashed on Soviet television screens during their journey. The transmissions showed them doing such tasks as manipulating what appeared to be log books.

At one point, they carried on a three-way radio chat with Yuri Gagarin, the first man in space.

"Everything is fine, friends," Gagarin said. "Congratulations, till we meet on the earth.

"I watch the earth from the clouds," said Popovich. "To the right in the illuminator (porthole) I see the black, black sky. My spirits are wonderful. Everything goes on excellently."

Nikolayev broke in with: "Everything is excellent. I hear you excellently. My spirits are excellent."

Nikita Stands

are 739 higher educational institutions—and the lights burn long on the six-hour day, six-day week schedule. One of the most impressive sights in the Soviet Union is the University of Moscow.

Over the 15 republics of the Soviet Union there is a new skyline — thousands upon thousands of apartment houses.

Push Housing Program

It is the Russians' desperate drive to solve their gravest problem, housing.

If the goal is achieved 22 million apartments will be occupied by the end of 1965, conclusion of the current seven-year plan.

But construction in the main is appallingly bad and crude. Maintenance of the hastily built apartments and buildings is even worse. It is practically nil.

Mass transportation in the Soviet Union is skillfully handled, with equipment that outshines that of many American cities.

It is a fortunate man, indeed, who owns an automobile in the Soviet Union. Consequently, the burden falls on subways, motor-driven and electric buses, electric street cars, superb railroads and the one and only state-owned airline, Aeroflot.

Ninety-nine per cent of the Soviets rely on public transportation —and they get the best the state can offer.

What is the conclusion to be drawn after seeing, first hand, the fountain of communism in the Soviet Union?

Crises, tensions, and struggles for the minds of uncommitted peoples will be the world's sad lot for some time to come.

War? No signs of it — but the threat of it to plague mankind, perhaps interminably.

Communism, despite platitudes of "peaceful coexistence," plans faithfully to follow its original course—domination of the world.

Heavy Clash Reported

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam reported today its forces fought a heavy clash with the Viet Cong last Thursday in the southern province of Ba Xuyen and killed 21 of the Communists.

Rocket Firm Head Thinks Russians Ahead

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A rocket manufacturing firm executive has suggested that Russia's latest successful manned orbital flights may mean the Soviet Union is ahead of the United States in a vital space field.

Robert B. Young, vice president and manager of the liquid rocket plant at Aerojet-General Corp., says they may have developed a cyclical life support system.

Young said the U.S. has been working on a system to produce food and water, needed to sustain life on long flights to the moon and beyond.

Cairo Youth Is Injured in Auto Mishap Saturday

A 20-year-old Cairo youth suffered a broken ankle at 4 p. m. Saturday, when the car in which he was riding went out of control and overturned off Route 20, Town of Durham.

Leeds State Police said Hans Valestine, of Cairo, was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, and treated for a broken ankle. William Trepel, 19, of East Durham, driver of the 1955 vehicle owned by Rita Russell, also of East Durham, apparently escaped injury.

Trepel was driving east on Route 20 when the accident occurred.

Dog Killed, Driver Runs

Area police today sought the driver of a car charged with leaving the scene after striking a dog on Washington Avenue early Sunday. A police report at 3:45 a. m., said Mrs. Joseph J. McConnell, of McConnell's Restaurant, 440 Washington Avenue, said her registered Doberman Pincher was struck and killed by a 1955 black and white Oldsmobile, and it continued out Route 28 without stopping. The dog was valued at approximately $400. Officers Vincent Eckert and Edward Edwards investigated for local police. The sheriff's office and state police were notified.

Dutchess Woman Saves Va. Youth From Drowning

An 8-year-old Virgina boy was rescued from drowning Saturday after he accidentally fell into 17 feet of water in the east branch of the Wappingers Creek at Hibernia Dam.

Mrs. Simon Race had left her home on Hibernia Road, Town of Clinton, with her 10-year-old daughter, Nancy when she heard Michael Melville, a neighbor, shouting for help. Mrs. Race saw the almost motionless boy in the water and she dashed to the creek and jumped in, fully clothed.

Mrs. Race swam about 15 feet and grabbed the boy and brought him back to shore. She applied artificial respiration and revived the boy.

Michael's father, Joseph E. Melville, Alexandria, Va., is spending the summer in Hibernia Road, while attending classes at the International Business Machines Corp. He said his son and Roger White, 10, of Millbrook, went hunting snake skins when Michael fell into the water.

Four Injured

Peekskill Hospital.

Margaret Reynolds, 47, of Broadway, Port Ewen, reported a neck injury, in a mishap early Saturday afternoon at Broadway and the arterial route interchange. Officers Harry Short and Kenneth Radel listed her as the driver of the one car and the other was operated by Ronald Green Jr., 23, of 30 Warren Street. The Reynolds car, the report said, was "stopped in a line of traffic for a signal light and was struck in the rear" by the other car. She was to be treated by a doctor.

Myron Greenspan, 20, of 2139 East 13th Street, Brooklyn, was booked as an unlicensed operator after a mishap on Washington near Hurley Avenue, Saturday. Officers Harry Short and Kenneth Radel said a car driven by Arthur Saver, 60, of 156 Homecrest Avenue, Trenton, N. J. was "attempting to park when it was hit in the left rear" by the car operated by Greenspan. The latter posted $20 bail for city court appearance Wednesday.

Police said a car struck a pole Sunday afternoon at Spring and Wurts Street when a dog ran into the road. The car was driven by Josephine V. Carlton, 41, of Salem Street, Port Ewen, and was making a left turn from Wurts into Spring Street, when the dog ran into its path, the report said. Officer George Barringer investigated.

Donald Wenzel, 8, son of former Alderman and Mrs. Joseph Wenzel, 122 Hasbrouck Avenue, who was injured last Tuesday when he came in contact with a moving car at Hasbrouck Avenue and Theresa Lane, was reported still in critical condition today at the Benedictine Hospital. He is under treatment for internal, head and face injuries.

Grouse Are Scarce

LONDON (AP) — The grouse-shooting season opened today. A cold spring killed off many young birds. Scottish keepers reported the worst shooting prospects for years.

HE KEPT HIS FISH—Mike Besnosoff, 71, kept his fish—"biggest I ever caught. . . and I wasn't going to lose him"—even as firemen hauled him up from the Pacific Ocean at Dead Man's Rock near the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco Aug. 10. The 26¼—pound bass pulled the man into the water from his rocky perch. Waves pounded him against the rocks until rescued by firemen and police, helping him at right. SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

by ROGER E. SPEAR
Investment Adviser and Analyst

ROGER E. SPEAR

Diversification Is Clue To Spreading Risk

Q) "I have about 90 per cent of my funds in International Business Machines and wonder if it would be wise to shift part of my holdings. What would you think of American Telephone 4¼ convertible debentures of 1973? Or would you suggest getting out of the market completely this summer?" R. N.

A) As older readers of this column know, I am all for diversification as a means of spreading investment risk. On this account, I believe you would do well to lighten your commitment in I.B.M. The Telephone 4¼'s of 1973 are convertible at 47½, which means 21 shares for each $1,000 bond. At present the bonds sell at $2,930 each and the shares into which they can be converted are worth $2,380. This seems much too high a premium to pay and I would prefer to switch directly into Telephone common. I wouldn't get out of the market completely this summer, but I would certainly hold strong cash reserves.

Q) I would like to know more about tax-exempt bonds, how they are priced and how many must be bought at a given time." M. V.

A) Tax-exempt bonds come in all shapes and sizes. Their price depends on three factors: (1) their credit standing, (2) maturity date, and (3) scarcity value. Most municipal dealers and buyers use Moody's ratings as a general classification of credit. Bonds which have been given the "AAA" rating, such as the State of New York's are of the highest quality; "AA" rated bonds, which would include the State of California's are next highest! "A" rated bonds which would include such bonds as the New York City's and Philadelphia's are next. Most tax-exempt municipals are quoted on a yield basis rather than a dollar price. They come generally in $1,000 denominations, but I would advise you to buy in units of $5,000. Lesser amounts are referred to as odd lots, and they are sometimes hard to dispose of.

Mr. Spear cannot answer mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

when he lost control. The car left the west side of the highway, traveled 100 feet along the soft shoulder and crashed into the pole. The car burst into flames.

Dembroski was extricated after Red Hook Volunteer Firemen, extinguished the flames, with the assistance of the Red Hook Rescue Squad.

The car overturned after hitting the pole.

Troopers said the Rev. John Kane, of St. Sylvia's Church, Tivoli, went to the scene and administered the last rites of the Catholic Church. The accident happened about 2:35 a. m. Sunday, troopers said.

According to the Associated Press, the dead also included Robert Webster, 29 of Toronto, the Canadian motorcycle champion. He was killed during the 150-mile American championship motorcycle race Sunday at Watkins Glen.

Traffic accidents took a total of 25 lives during the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday. Three other persons drowned and one was killed in a boating accident.

Three Children Die

Three children were the victims of the fire Friday night at North Bayshore, L.I. Tina Ellis, 3, her brother Abraham, 2, and sister Linda, 9 months, perished when flames destroyed their one-story frame house.

from a desk in the office. In addition an 800 by 820 whitewall tire is also reported missing by Philip Schoonmaker of Malden, owner of the service station.

Schoonmaker said the intruders must have known the large shepherd dog he keeps on the premises as a watchdog. The burglars gained entrance by breaking a rear window near the lock.

The owner discovered the burglarly at 8:30 a. m. Sunday.

Kingston state police reported that Ted's Esso Station on Route 212, which is Ulster Avenue in the village, was burglarized between 10 p. m. and 8 a. m. Sunday.

BCI Senior Investigator Frank B. Stainkamp reported entry was gained by a side door which was pried open.

Assisting in the investigation were Trooper David Wachtel, Robert Mackey and Special Town of Saugerties Police Officers Charles Riley and John F. Roderer.

Kennedy May

Kennedy would seize this opportunity.

Dissatisfaction No Secret

To date, Kennedy merely has said he will seek a top-to-bottom cut in individual and corporate tax rates, effective next Jan. 1. He also has promised the resulting revenue loss would be only partly offset by elimination of certain special tax benefits now available to limited numbers of taxpayers.

While Kennedy could point tonight to record July prosperity, in terms of production and income, he has made no secret of his dissatisfaction with recent economic growth.

It seemed likely that Kennedy would urge favorable action on a bill to encourage business investment in more modern equipment, by offering them tax credits. The Treasury has put great stock in this measure, coupled with the recent reform of tax depreciation guide lines, as a means of promoting growth.

Glaring

some of his major proposals in any campaigning he does for a number of Democrats up for re-election.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., who got Kennedy's personal help in the primary, still is explaining his vote against the administration's health care bill. However, Smathers is not likely to need any presidential aid in the general election.

The President already has been to Arizona to endorse the re-election bid of Democratic Sen. Carl Hayden. That was before Hayden voted to kill the health care bill.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., has led the fight against a communications satellite bill the President has put on his must list for passage by this Congress.

The guessing is that Kennedy will decide to take the bad with the good and plug with varying degrees of enthusiasm for the election of Democrats wherever he may be campaigning.

In Hollywood—

Funerals Can Be Dignified, Or They Can Get Out of Hand

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There was a sequence in "A Star is Born"—both the Janet Gaynor and the Judy Garland versions—in which the movie actress is mobbed at the funeral of her actor-husband.

Outlandish? Over - dramatic? Alas, it was not far from the truth.

The least attractive aspect of covering the Hollywood scene is reporting funerals. I have seen all kinds, from those marked by quiet dignity to ones that seemed right out of "A Star is Born."

Last week's services for Marilyn Monroe were conducted in a decorous manner with little of the bad taste that can affect such events. The small cemetery was heavily policed, on the outside by Los Angeles officers and the inside by policemen assigned from several studios.

None of the public was admitted within the cemetery walls. Those who waited outside the gate or watched over the walls were properly subdued. Perhaps if was the heat (93 degrees) or the lack of star names or the realization of the tragedy involved.

Unruly at Power Rites

The all-time low was reached with rites for Tyrone Power. That day could have made a misanthrope of Dr. Schweitzer.

All the creeps were out in force, and little effort was made to keep them in check. They swooped through the cemetery to stare at the interment, stamping over graves and knocking down flowers. One bystander was pushed in a lake.

The funerals of Lionel and Ethel Barrymore, figures of massive dignity in their lifetimes, were both marred by noisy, restive crowds that drowned out the religious intonations within the church. After both occasions, the mob swept through the place like locusts and picked the floral sprays clean.

A Hollywood synagogue was the scene of a near-riot the day Al Jolson was buried. A screaming crowd, largely of middle-aged females, had to be pushed away from the doors after the place became filled.

There Have Been Exceptions

These have been the exceptions, I'm happy to say. In most cases the undertakers and—or the studios involved have the good sense to take precautions against the depredations of the mob. It is easily managed: By keeping the public a respectful distance from the place of mourning.

There have been many funerals of Hollywood famous in recent times and most have been conducted in a fitting manner. Those of Clark Gable, Gary Cooper, Errol Flynn and others have been without embarrassing events.

To my mind the most appropriate of final rites was conducted for Humphrey Bogart. His wasted body was buried in complete privacy. His many friends gathered for a memorial service in a Beverly Hills church. John Huston delivered a touching tribute. Bogie was represented by a replica of his much-loved boat, the Santana.

The saddest of all Hollywood funerals are for those the crowd has passed by. You don't forget the sparse mourners for onetime greats like D. W. Griffith and Mack Sennett.

Hudson Driver Pleads Innocent In Death of Two

KEENE, N.H. (AP) — Leon Stevens, 31, of Hudson, N.Y., has pleaded innocent to charges of reckless driving with death resulting and has been held in $2,000 for a hearing Aug. 21.

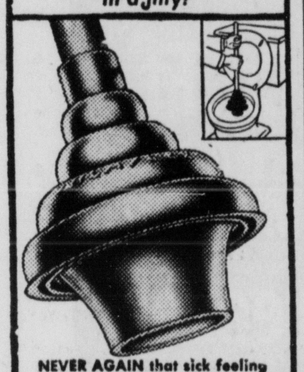

Mrs. Gladys Benson, 38, wife of a Lynn, Mass., minister, and her son, Carl, 5, were killed Friday when their car was demolished in a collision with a tractor-trailer Stevens was driving.

Another son, Mickey, 16, was reported in serious condition in Elliott Community Hospital.

The Rev. Leroy Benson, the husband and father, is pastor of the Johnson Covenent Church in Lynn.

Former Health Official Dies in Albany at 74

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. Walter J. Craig, former director of the Division of Orthopedics of the State Health Department, died unexpectedly Saturday at St. Peter's Hospital. He was 74.

Dr. Craig joined the health department in 1927 and remained with it until his retirement in 1944. Since then, he had been in private practice in Albany and later in Schenectady.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—When President Kennedy tells the nation tonight just what date he thinks the Congress should cut tax rates and why, he'll be ending one episode in the summer's best ballyhooed cliffhanger.

But, like the old movie serials, he may leave as many or more questions than he answers:

What will Congress do? Will tax cuts now or next January be linked with tax reforms that close some loopholes—that is, cost some individuals or industries more? Will a tax cut, when and if voted by Congress, give the economy a real boost or just a trouble-breeding treasury deficit? Will it stave off a recession so many fear, either later this year or sometime in 1963?

Has Much Information

The President has more information than presently available to any outside the government, or to most within it. But the statistics which swayed his decision of necessity reflected the past—some gathered a month ago, a few even farther back.

Some, like orders for durable goods or government spending plans, give a clue to what is likely to happen in the future—but even those are subject to change, either up or down. Historical patterns also offer warnings or promises—although since World War II business history hasn't repeated itself in the precise cyclical ways the economists once preached.

Businessmen will take close note of the President's decision, even if they differ among themselves as to his reasons for it. The stock market especially is likely to react to his prediction of the course the economy seems to be taking and to his plans for guiding or changing that course, if those contain any surprises.

Conflicting Factors

But since World War II, businessmen have had to learn to live with two sometimes conflicting factors:

1. Day by day changes, often unpredictable and in unlikely corners of the world, can upset well laid plans more quickly now than in the past.

2. Many of the old influences have lost their zip, or have been dulled by economic tranquilizers.

Recessions or booms, therefore, aren't as predictable as before, nor as strong as a given set of circumstances once would have assured.

Entirely new forces in the world today give different coloring to old economic indicators. What the Common Market in Europe can do, what the Soviet Union may do, what forces the U.S. government may bring into play, all can soften the impact of a recession or curb the zest of a boom.

But this doesn't mean that reading the economic tea leaves is any easier.

Nor does President Kennedy's decision on the timing of a tax cut change all the forces pressing on the economy, some pushing it higher and some holding it back.

The economic story is still a serial—and for some time to come is likely to continue to be a cliffhanger.

FOOD FOR FAIR—Twelve-year old Sharon Duffy of the Hurley Bluebirds 4-H Club bakes molasses cookies for the Ulster County Fair Aug. 15 and 16 at Forsyth Park. She will be among the many county 4-H girls entering cooking and food exhibits. Food demonstrations will be given by 4-H members Wednesdday all day and Thursday 9 to 5 p. m. at the 4-H Club tent. (Freeman photo).

4-H Members Getting Ready For County Fair

County fair time is close at hand, and proves itself to be a busy time for area 4-H Club girls.

Preparations for food entries are numerous as the 4-H homemakers practice their baking and food preparations skills and complete the preservation of garden vegetables and fruits, or jams, marmalades and preserves. Each member seeks to utilize the knowledge and skill she has learned from her local 4-H Club Leaders teaching of this year's foods projects at her club meetings. All club entries must comply with the County Fair 4-H premium listings, and also be an exhibit of the products studied in the foods project in which the member has been enrolled this year. Practice teaches skill and understanding of the science of foods and nutrition. It assists the member in developing standards for their products. Each 4-H'er strives to enter her very best exhibit for judging at the fair.

The 4-H Club foods program is a popular one in Ulster County. Its importance as an educational program is shown through the results of member participation in activities and learnings in this field of study. Nutrition is an important phase of the foods program, as girls 9-21, learn the value of balanced meals and wholesome food nutrients in the growing teenage diet. Learning to plan, select, and prepare foods with nutritional value also demands skill, in retaining the color, shape and nutrients in the food products. Members also learn how to bake a better cake, pie or loaf of bread, by concentrating on the science of the ingredients used, and their function and value in the baked product.

Supplementing the regular foods project activity is the 4-H demonstration program. Demonstrations in foods include a variety of offerings. The local cherry pie bake held each fall and the apple pie bake prior to the Horticultural Show, both concentrate on pantomine demonstrating of skill and technique, along with the mastery of an excellent finished product. The county demonstration day is when members teach others what they have learned in foods projects with talking demonstrations. From this event opportunities for district and state participation of older members is made possible.

Demonstrations at Fair

Foods demonstrations will be given by 4-H members at the county fair. This activity will take place all day Wednesday and from 9 to 5 p. m. on Thursday, in the food booth of the 4-H Club Tent. Dishes to be shown include cakes, cookies, pastry, bread, salads and other one-dish meals. The products demonstrated will be baked in the booth and sold to the public. Also on sale in the food booth will be many homemade baked goods made by 4-H Club members. The food booth is sponsored by the Ulster County 4-H Club Leaders Association and will be directed by Mrs. William Larshen, Stone Ridge, local leader and 4-H Club executive committee member. All proceeds received from this stand will be turned over to the county 4-H Club camp fund.

Luck Factor Gains Points

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

This week's series will discuss hands from the World Championship match between Italy and the United States last winter. This was played on International Match Points, or IMPs, in which the point differences on a hand were worth a certain number of IMPs.

Italy jumped off to a one IMP lead on the first hand. The American East-West pair reached two spades without any interference bidding by Italy and made their contract for a score of plus 110.

At the other table the American South chose to double the one heart opening and eventually the American North became declarer at three clubs. East opened the spade ace and continued with the ace and another heart. The eventual result was down three for a loss of 150. This left a net loss to American of 40 points which is one IMP.

The strategy represented by South's double with only 12 points and a balanced hand is rather doubtful, but if North had not run into a cross ruff he would have been down only one trick and America would have shown a profit rather than a loss. Thus, the match opened with a lucky result for Italy.

Railroads Given Right to Cut Rates On Drought Hay

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Railroads have received permission from the Interstate Commerce Commission to reduce freight rates by 25 per cent for hay shipped to drought areas in New York State.

The ICC action was announced Sunday by Joseph Sugden, chairman of the State Disaster Committee.

To receive the reduction, Sugden said, a farmer must present a certificate of entitlement signed by an official of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service in his county.

The U.S. Agriculture Department has designated 34 counties in the state as drought-disaster areas. As a result, farmers in the counties may graze livestock and cut hay on lands retired under the soil bank and other federal programs.

The freight-rate reductions are available to farmers in the same 34 counties, Sugden said.

Training Institute Planned by Rocky For Youth Help

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has announced establishment of a training institute to help meet the growing need of several state agencies for experienced youth-workers.

Rockefeller appointed Robert Coulson of New York City to assist in organizing the institute. It will be administered by the governor's interdepartmental Committee on Youth, headed by Alexander Aldrich. Aldrich is director of the Division for Youth.

The governor said the institute would be "broadly experimental and will draw upon the experiences of the academic and applied youth-serving fields."

To Prepare Exam For Determining College Degrees

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Education Department has appointed Norman D. Kurland of Boulder, Colo., to develop an examination for students who do college work independently or by television.

The test would enable the state to determine whether a person who did not attend college regularly was entitled to a degree.

A person might attain college-level proficiency through adult education courses or courses offered by industry, as well as by television.

Kurland, 34, will be paid $15,000 a year. The appointment was announced Sunday.

Watching Family That Had Contact With Meningitis

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A family of six has been placed under medical observation here because of their contact with a victim of spinal meningitis in Massachusetts.

However, health officials said Sunday they doubted that Vincent Barone, a history professor, his wife, or their four children had caught the disease.

Police in Bedford, Mass., said one of the Barone children had played with a three-year-old child there who had been stricken with spinal meningitis.

They relayed a warning to the Barones through Syracuse police Saturday night. The Barones went at once to Syracuse City Hospital for tests. They returned home afterward.

The outcome of the tests has not been learned, but doctors expressed the belief that there was no danger to the Barones because of the brief contact with the child in Bedford.

Derived From Initials

The word "posh" derives from the initials of the phrase "port out, starboard home." The phrase was stamped on the cabin tickets of passengers sailing through the Red Sea. Westerly winds, which provided relief from the heat, blew on port cabins of ships sailing out and on starboard cabins of ships sailing home to England.

Murrow Rules Self Out Again For Senate Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward R. Murrow, director of the U.S. Information Agency, once again has ruled himself out as a possible Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate from New York State.

Murrow said Sunday that a candidate for public office must have "a certain appetite and a special temperament."

"I have neither one," he said.

Murrow made the comments in reply to a question from Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., during a program taped here for use by New York State radio and television stations.

Murrow also said he does not plan to seek the nomination in 1964, when Keating will be up for re-election.

However, the former radio and television personality added:

"I have never had a horizon of more than 90 days."

Two Station Wagons To Replace Cadillacs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Guilderland Central School District has bought two station wagons and intends to deprive Walter F. Wessendorf Jr., a lawyer, out of a job.

Wessendorf was the center of a furor last year when he bid $1,300 and won a contract from the school district to drive his two daughters to a private school in Albany.

One other bid was received.

The girls, Marcia, 8, and Chanty, 6, attended Albany Academy for girls, which is about eight miles from their home in suburban Westmere.

Under state law, a school district is required to provide transportation for pupils at non-public schools that are within 10 miles of their homes.

Wessendorf used his two Cadillacs to fulfill the contract.

Alton U. Farnsworth, school district superintendent, said Saturday the station wagons had been purchased as an economy move.

Aluma manufactures aluminum and fiber glass boats up to 20 feet long. Alpex, which already makes a lightweight sailboat, produces plastic products here and in Bayonne, N.J.

Taxpayers Endorse Winston Site; Seek Traffic Relief

The Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association is the latest area organization to endorse the Winston property at Saugerties as the site for the proposed Ulster County Community College.

A resolution endorsing the site and calling on the college's Board of Trustees to make an early selection of the Winston site was passed at the annual meeting of the taxpayers group, Saturday night at Deanie's.

A second resolution authorized a committee to draw up a petition to the New York State Traffic Commission seeking special consideration for the Township of Woodstock with respect to alleviating dangerous traffic conditions in the township.

On the Winston site resolution, several members of the taxpayer group who had inspected the Saugerties property said it was an ideal location for a college campus. They said the generous offer of 50 acres of land and a magnificent building would mean a saving of at least $200,000 to county taxpayers. If the building is rejected, a gift of $50,000 plus the 50 acres will be available. It was the unanimous opinion of the members present that no site in Ulster County could compare with he Winston property, if the final selection is made on merit and nothing else.

Individual members of the organization were also urged to write letters to Harry Rigby Jr., chairman of the selections committee, endorsing the Winston site.

Ask Quick Action

The resolution endorsing the site will ask speedy selection of of a site, since, it was felt, the longer the decision is delayed, the bigger a political football the issue will become.

The association took cognizance of two negative State Traffic Commission reports on the Woodstock traffic situation.

It was the feeling of the group, however, that despite these reports, the citizens of Woodstock should not be deterred in their efforts to eliminate dangerous traffic bottlenecks and intersections. It noted that the Rotary Club had recently petitioned the Town Board on the subject.

It was felt that, if enough local organizations and individuals protest to the State Traffic Commission, some concessions may be made by the state group. The association felt that since the Town Board has indicated it will not pursue the matter further, local organizations and individuals should continue the fight to have the traffic blight of Woodstock alleviated.

The mere fact that Woodstock does not meet state minimum requirement on traffic density and other factors should not consign the township to these conditions now and forever, it was decided.

Re-Elect Melia To Second Term As WTTA Prexy

John Melia of Lake Hill was re-elected president of the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association at the annual election meeting Saturday night at Deanie's.

Also re-elected were Lawrence G. Casey, Lake Hill, vice president, and Mrs. Frederick P. Platt, secretary. Arthur P. Shepard was named treasurer.

Six members were elected to the Board of Directors as follows: Fred G. Freitag, Karl Sieger, William Rudman, Benjamin Merch, Charles Greco and Alexander Settino. A seventh member will be named at the September meeting.

The resignations of James McVitty and Albert Jacquez were accepted.

Mrs. Fred Freitag, chairman of the bake sale, reported a profit of $32.66. She also read a detailed report on expenditures by the organization during the past fiscal year. She and her committee were given a vote of thanks.

Fred G. Freitag, delegate to the New York State Taxpayers Association convention at Schenectady, said the association is concentrating its heaviest fire on the Housing Bill amendment to be submitted to the voters this fall.

Freitag said the bill is designed to expand housing for middle income brackets, since very few vacancies now exist in lower income brackets. The bill, however, stipulates that 10 percent of the building in the new program be made available to lower income families.

Banquet Saturday

Freitag also reported progress on the Association's annual banquet next Saturday night, Aug. 18, at Deanie's. Councilman William West Jr., will be the toastmaster and the dinner is open to the public.

J. Stewart Slocum of Zena won the annual bond award of the club and Mrs. J. Monroe Longendyke won second prize of $10 in cash.

The president was instructed to address a letter to Supervisor Molyneaux asking for a reply to an earlier letter addressed to him seeking clarification of the status of individual members of the Planning Board in lawsuits involving the board and petitioners.

At the June meeting of the Town Board, the supervisor promised vice president Casey that an answer would be forthcoming in 30 days. The association has not received a reply.

During the discussion president Melia and ex-president Casey pointed out that communication from the association to the supervisor have been largely ignored in the past. Casey said that on one occasion he was given an answer to a letter by telephone. On another occasion, Melia recalled, he was told that letters could not be answered because the supervisor did not have a secretary.

Conservatives Meet Tonight; File State Suit

The Conservative Party Club of Woodstock will elect officers for the coming year at an open meeting tonight at 8:30 at Deanie's.

Besides the election of officers, the agenda includes: introduction of new members, kickoff of the Conservative Party and adoption of a petition of support of the following state candidates of the Conservative Party:

For governor, David H. Jaquith; lieutenant-governor, E. Vernon Carbanara; comptroller, Thomas D. Cole; attorney general, Frederick S. Dennin, U. S. Senator, Keiran O'Doherty.

William A. Jackson has been serving as temporary chairman of the Woodstock club for the past several months.

The Conservative Party on Aug. 8, instituted legal action to invalidate the law requiring that a state-wide indepent nominating petition contain 50 signatures for each county. Section 138 (5) (A) of the Election Law provides that such a petition must contain 12,000 signatures, with at least 50 from each of the state's sixty two counties, with Fulton and Hamilton Counties to be considered as one county.

The Conservative Party is attacking this requirement as a violation of the right to vote guaranteed by the New York State Constitution, as a denial of the equal protection of the laws guaranteed by the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution, and as a violation of the right to vote for United States Senators as protected in the 17th Amendment.

Supreme Court Justice Lawrence H. Cooke of Albany signed an order, returnable on Aug. 10, requiring Mrs. Caroline K. Simon, the Secretary of State, to show cause why she should not be prohibited from enforcing the 50-vote requirement. If the Conservative Party's action succeeds, it will mean that the Conservative petition, as well as a petition of any other party whatever belief, will be valid if it contains 12,000 signatures regardless of the counties in which they are obtained.

Issues Statement

David H. Jaquith and O'Doherty, Conservative candidates for governor and senator, issued the following statement about the legal action:

"The conservative voters of New York State have had no meaningful vote for years. One device used to disenfranchise them is the requirement that an independent nominating petition must be signed by 50 voters from each county. A petition could contain one million valid signatures, but if it had only forty nine from one of the many small counties, it would be invalid. Thereby, the numerous signers of the petition throughout the state would be denied the right to cast a meaningful ballot, a denial effected by an absurdly minute handful of residents of one small county.

"The American system of representative democracy depends upon the ability of the electorate to make a reasoned choice in the privacy of the polling booths. Such a choice is manifestly impossible if absurdly technical impediments are erected to deny a large and responsible political body a place on that ballot. It is only through reasonable access of serious political bodies to the ballot that the integrity of the electoral process can be assured.

"The Rockefeller-Javits machine has typically relied upon the 50-signature requirement in its plans to stymie the Conservative Party. They have done so because they know that the Conservative Party has struck such a responsive chord that its success can no longer be prevented by any mean which would appeal to the conscience of a fair-minded citizen. That is why the entrenched oligarchs of the Republican Party are sparing no effort to reduce the Conservative hold in a few sparsely settled counties.

'If they can reduce our signatures in any one to less than 50, they will gratefully shelter themselves from the popular storm behind a legalistic facade. Their efforts, however, are destined to fail. For not only will the Conservative Party get on the ballot this year, it will in so doing consign to oblivion this archaic petition requirement which the most rigid and unreasonable of any in the nation.

"Henceforth, we intend that all New York voters shall have a genuine right of suffrage. In this design, all principled citizens of whatever political philosophy, can and ought to join."

Inspection Trip To Hyde Park School Saturday

An inspection trip to Hyde Park's Netherwood Elementary School is scheduled Saturday, Aug. 18, for all interested persons in the Onteora Central Schools District.

Free transportation will be available at 9 a. m. at the firehouse in Ashokan and the Village Green in Woodstock.

The visitation will be conducted between 10 a. m. and 12 noon and George C. Simpson, administrative assistant at the Hyde Park School, will conduct the tour.

The Hyde Park School was built, fully furnished, at a cost of $965,000. It has 18 classrooms, two kindergarten rooms and has accommodations for 600 to 650 pupils.

All persons desiring the free transportation are requested to contact Dr. George Sullivan, district principal.

Planning Board Sets Hearing on Plans

The Woodstock Planning Board will hold a public hearing on the application of William Whitney for approval of a subdivision plan known as Woodstock Gardens. The subdivision is located on the northerly side of Old Witch Tree Road in the Town of Woodstock.

The hearing is scheduled Thursday, Aug. 16, at 8 p. m. in the firemen's hall in Woodstock. All interested persons will be given an opportunity to be heard on the application.

Health for All

Digestive System

Was it something you ate or someone you hate? The finest meal, eaten in bitterness, will upset your digestion.

When you get emotionally, upset, any part of your digestive tract can get upset too. This state of affairs can bring on nausea, vomiting, pain, diarrhea . . . you name it, you can get it. Continued tension and upset can help cause ulcers, constipation, spastic colon, colitis. Some people, without organic disease, are never free from some abdominal distress. That's because they're upset practically all the time.

Anger, fear, and other unpleasant feelings interfere with the flow of digestive juices and the rich blood supply the stomach needs for good digestion. So if you have had a shock or a severe disappointment, if you're fearful or angry, postpone your meal for a couple of hours. Wait until your uncomfortable emotions die down.

The dinner table is not the place for criticism, nagging or sharp arguments. Don't use mealtimes to relate all the frustrations and complaints of the day. Try not to think of them while you're eating. Don't pick on the kids at mealtime, even if they don't eat up all their vegetables. They're better off enjoying a relaxed meal, and you'll feel better, too, if you don't argue with them while you're eating.

If you have frequent digestive discomfort, don't decide for yourself that the cause is purely emotional. Constant digestive trouble calls for a visit to your doctor. Whatever the basic cause of your indigestion, the doctor is in the best position to help you.

Agreement Made By Marbletown to Join Chest Drive

Citizens of Marbletown have agreed to participate in the 1963 Ulster County Community Chest Campaign, Chest President John F. Schuehler announced today.

For several months Marbletown citizens have been meeting with Chest officials. Finally, the Marbletown citizens' group, satisfied that participation in the Chest would be advantageous to the community, agreed to tool up for next fall's campaign.

Formerly the Kingston Area Community Chest, it became the Ulster County Community Chest last year and was expanded to include Saugerties and New Paltz, Both communities exceeded their quotas.

"The inclusion of Marbletown," says President Schuehler, "is another step in providing better health, recreation and social welfare services for the citizens of Ulster County. Through a strong Community Chest, essential agency services are assured support."

Schuehler continues, "Single communities cannot usually afford to support a balanced program of health, recreation and social welfare services. Many communities joining together can. This is the advantage of a county community chest."

In the fall of each year, the Community Chest conducts its annual campaign for funds to provide its affiliated agencies with operating income. Presently, eleven separate agencies belong to the Chest. Six of these agencies serve the entire county. The Chest means one campaign rather than six or eleven.

The Chest also accepts fiscal stewardship of contributed funds. It therefore, assumes the responsibility for seeing that funds are budgeted and spent wisely in the greatest public interest.

Ulster Alloted $140,089.96 in Per Capita Aid

Ulster County has been alloted $140,089.96 as its share of $11,186.26 distributed as per capita assistance to the cities, towns and villages of New York State it was announced today by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt.

This payment is the second quarterly installment in the state's 1962-63 fiscal year.

The checks were mailed to the fiscal officers of the state's 61 cities, 550 villages and 932 towns.

Unlike other types of state aid, which are granted for a specific purpose (such as education, highways and health) the per capita aid can be used for any general municipal purpose.

This payment is allocated to the local units of government on a per capita basis. Each city receives annually the sum of $6.75 times the amount of its population, towns receive $3.55 for each inhabitant, and villages $3 for each inhabitant.

Big Chunk of Meat Lures Lion Back Again

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Timba is a lion who keeps a close eye on the attendants at Ross Park Zoo. From now on, the attendants will be keeping a closer eye on Timba.

Daniel Berina apparently failed to lock a door when he moved Timba, a 10-year-old male, to another cage Saturday while cleaning up.

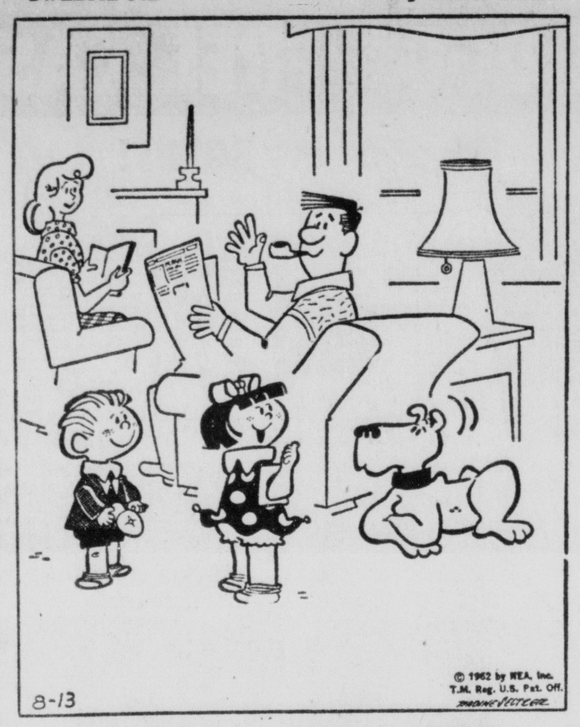

"He followed me out of the cage," said Berina. "He just walked out."

Timba was lured back to his cage by the sight of Park Commissioner Michael Bednar waving a good-sized chunk of meat through the bars.

It was Timba's third bid for freedom in five years. The others, the most recent in January, also failed.

Old Arguments Are Reviewed by School Board

All the old arguments heard at the time of the last school bond vote were reviewed at the Board of Education meeting (on Wednesday) recently.

But despite all differences of opinion the board members were agreed that the present number of 700 boys and girls who will be on part time this fall must not be allowed to increase indefinitely.

Accordingly the board will within a few weeks announce the choice of an architect with whom to study the problems of how many school rooms and where to put them. The two chief arguments heard at the board meeting were the issue of how many classrooms and the site.

Most board members were not adamant about the choice of a site, though two members think the Main Street Building should be added to. The opponents of the proposal pointed out that the acreage available is not what it ought to be for additional rooms, and that the State Department stndards will not permit it. Most members seemed to feel that the question of site ought to be able to be settled amicably and wisely. The cost of the land, one board member pointed out is the smallest part of the total cost.

The second question, the number of rooms, found advocates on one side who believe that the public is unwilling to approve a bond issue at this time for more than one building. While others stated that one building of 14 rooms will not take care of those who are or will be on part time by the year the building is completed.

The latter numbers expressed the opinion that the people of Saugerties to finance the construction of enough school facilities to house their children provided they are properly informed of all the facts.

The board approved the appointment of Mrs. Herminone Kleeger of Rhinebeck as a teacher of remedial reading. Mrs. Kleeger is currently a teacher of that subject at Columbia University. She is a graduate of New Paltz State Teachers College and has several years of teaching experience.

The board approved the assignment of the following grade groups to the Malden and N. Flatbush Schools; Malden: 1st grade to be taught by Mrs. Gertrude Peetoom; second and third grades by Mrs. Marjorie King; 4th and 5th grades by Dean M. Bullock. It is expected that the 6th grade pupils of that area will go to the Main Street building this fall.

At the N. Flatbush building this fall 1st grade will be taught by Miss Goodrich; the 4th and 5th grades by Mrs. Leola Wilt. It is expected that the pupils in K, 3 and 6 will attend at Glasco. The assignments both at Malden and N. Flatbush were made on the basis of the grades in question having the right number in them to make up a group of reasonable size. School officials will shortly announce which pupils who are to be on a part time schedule will attend in the morning and which will attend in the afternoon. The 717 pupils who will attend on part time are in this year's second, third and fourth grades. Last year the fifth, sixth and ungraded classes were on part time.

Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools, stated at the meeting that there appears to be no way to avoid placing part of the high school pupils on a part time schedule beginning a year from this fall.

The board acted to renew the insurance policy carried by the Roy Helsmoortel Agency that provides coverage against accidents of pupils under certain conditions.

This year the coverage will apply only while the pupil is on the school grounds. The upper limits are $2,500 against accident, and $1,000 death and dismemberment coverage. The policy also covers members of the football squad.

The board approved the tax warrant which authorizes the tax collector to collect local taxes in the amount of $692,991.71 between Sept. 1 and Nov. 10, inclusive.

President Robert Herb announced the following standing committees of the board for the year 1962-63.

Finance: Harry Hoffman Jr., chairman; Charles Riccardi, Richard Smith, Jack O. Pakanen.

Grades and Classifications: Edwin E. Olson, chairman; Smith, Riccardi and Buchan.

Regents, Academic, library apparatus: Pakanen, chairman; Stycos, Buchan and Hoffman.

Grievance, Discipline, Compulsory Education: Stycos, chairman; Riccardi, Smith and Olson.

Textbooks: Riccardi, chairman; Olson, Breitenbach and Pakanen.

Use of school property: Richard Smith and Henry Breitenbach.

Recommendations by all committees must be given a majority vote of the board before becoming the policy of the district.

Pacific Crossed By Japanese Boy With Sailboat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Japanese youth who crossed the Pacific alone in a 19-foot sailboat on a diet of Japanese rice, beer, sake and fresh fish wants to stay in the United States two years to learn English.

The plans of Kenichi Horie, 23, of Osaka, are somewhat clouded by the fact he arrived without passport, visa, immunization record, proof of financial stability or a sponsor.

While the U.S. Immigration Service, the Public Health Service and the Japanese consulate work on the problem, Horie is staying at the home of a consulate employe in amiable protective custody.

Horie sailed into San Francisco Bay Sunday after a three-month voyage from Osaka. The surprised U.S. Coast Guard escorted him to St. Francis yacht harbor and called for the Immigration Service.

With the aid of his Japanese-English dictionary Horie got across to officials his plan to stay two years and learn English. Then he passed around cups of sake, a rice wine to curious onlookers.

The Coast Guard studied the little sailboat with small cabin forward and found only a tiny radio-direction finder, sextant and a compass. No auxiliary engine or radio communications gear encumbered Horie.

"Obviously one hell of a navigator," mused one Coast Guard man.

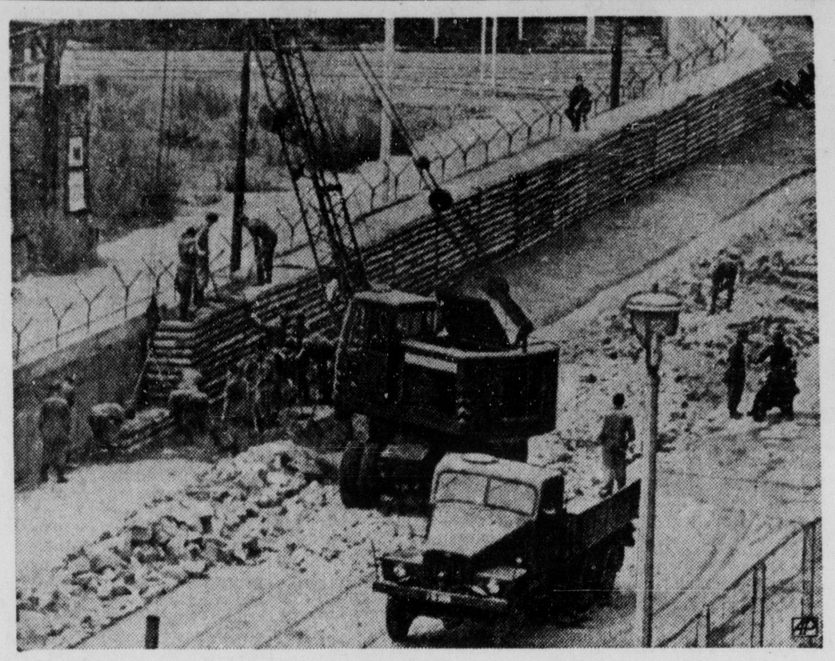

Horie's family in Osaka was overjoyed at the news of his arrival.

The Japanese government, which had given him up for dead, said it was astounded.

Japan had denied Horie a passport on the ground the planned trip was suicidal. His family was against it, too, but explained that Horie was a determined, adventurous youth.

Would Cut Service

The New York Central railroad today was expected to seek permission from the Interstate Commerce Commission to discontinue passenger and freight service on its Harlem division from Chatham, Columbia County, to Millerton, Dutchess County. A railroad spokesman said Saturday passenger and freight traffic moving between the two communities was not sufficient to justify continued operation.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I have a Freeman of July 25, 1907 at which time they list Section 8 and Section 9 of the Ashokan Reservoir lands, which included the business section and center of population of West Shokan to be taken down.

No doubt some of these people moved to Kingston. It was a trying time for many, for they had to give up their homesteads. In those days folks did not move around so much.

One of the big fires of that year happened when lightning during a severe thunder storm struck the coal elevator of the Kingston Coal Co. Just before it was struck the electric lights went out on the city streets.

They tried to sound the alarm from box 73 but it was out of order due to the storm. Then box 61 was sounded and the firemen responded immediately. By this time it is said the top of the building was a mass of flames and several streams of water could not quell the blaze. The coal pockets were of yellow pine and they burned furiously. They started working on the buildings nearby, and what they feared most was the burning of the coal pockets containing hundreds of tons. This was not easy to fight, and the firemen had to retreat from the intense heat of the hot coal fire.

A train of cars on the Ulster and Delaware siding caught fire from the coal pockets and they finally were able to pull it away. Telephone poles and cables were melted by the fire, it was said. Before the fire spread B. J. Murray, John J. Cuneo and Joseph Diamond were able to break down the company's gate and rescue the horses from the barn.

It was said at the time, the fire which took place that Saturday night was so spectacular because the lights were out all over the city and the sky was solely lit by the Kingston Coal Co., fire and witnessed by thousands of people.

In spite of the heavy rain, it is said, soon everyone wanted to get to the fire. I take it the electric power was resumed, for it is said, that trolleys from both ends of Kingston were coming in crowded with sightseers to the fire.

The building was owned by S. D. Coykendall and valued at about $20,000 the news item said. The coal company had between two and three thousand tons of coal in the pockets and shed. This paper of Thursday, July 25, 1907 said that the Kingston Coal Co., was able to resume its business early Monday morning with new coal loaded from cars which arrived since the fire.

That Saturday night July 1907 storm did damage in various places. During the storm the dwelling of Mrs. Richard Schrowang on the Saugerties Road near Andrew Kohl's Mountain View Hotel was struck. The lightning struck a chimney and followed it down to the house, wrecking the rear porch, taking the doors at the rear of the house off their hinges and knocking down the plaster in several of the rooms. The family were seated around a table in the room near the chimney where the lightning struck, but no one was injured.

A teddy bear which was standing in one corner of the room was carried across the room and demolished. Many fires were listed from that storm, especially of farm buildings, some filled with hay. No doubt some of the readers remember this storm and the Kingston Coal Co., fire.

Has 1 Chance to Look Good

No Tax Cut Is General Belief in Washington

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has two chances to get mussed up and one to look good in deciding whether an income tax cut is necessary now to give the economy a transfusion.

There is general belief in Washington the President in his nationwide broadcast tonight will decide against a cut at this time.

Any cut now would be based on the hope, and even that is in dispute, that people with more money to spend would spend enough of it to make the economy pick up and sail.

Can't Be Positive

Since economics is not an exact science, neither the President nor his advisers can be positive what turn the economy will take before the end of the year.

All he can do is make an educated guess based on the July economic statistics, with the help of those around him. If the economy holds up well until 1963, without a tax cut, he will look good.

There are two ways in which he could suffer damage, no matter what he decides.

If he asked for a cut this late in Congress, with the members anxious to get home for the election campaigns, he might be ignored. There is some powerful Democratic opposition in Congress to a cut now.

To be ignored on this would be one more Kennedy defeat in a Congress run by Democrats at a time when he plans to stump the country, asking the voters to elect even more Democrats.

While such a defeat would be a reflection on his leadership, a no tax-cut decision now, if the economy took a dive before the end of 1962, could be interpreted as a reflection on his judgment.

Has Caused Opposition

One thing is sure: A cut now, meaning less revenue for the government, would put the nation deeper in the red. The very thought of this has caused some sturdy opposition to a 1962 reduction.

Once through this rocky year, without a cut or a bad slump, then in 1963 Kennedy could ask for both a tax cut and tax reforms. The reforms would provide revenue to make up for that lost through a cut.

The President is expected to talk about the economy in general but such a talk might have been more effective, and made tonight's unnecessary, if he had made it last spring at the time of the steel dispute.

Let Criticism Pile Up

Kennedy thought he had persuaded the steel industry and the Steelworkers Union to reach a settlement making a price increase unnecessary. Suddenly steel boosted prices. Kennedy got angry. Steel dropped the increase.

Then Kennedy's relations with business began to deteriorate.

A nationwide talk by the President then — on the state of the economy and why he wanted moderation by business and labor — might have cleared the air, encouraged business, and done the economy real good.

Instead, Kennedy let the criticism pile up. Eventually he brought businessmen to the White House for talks. What he did then he probably could have done better in a broadcast.

Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elisha Hanson, 73, former general counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers Association, died Saturday. Hanson, a former newspaperman who became a lawyer and defended freedom of the press in cases before the Supreme Court, was the association's general counsel from 1935 until his retirement last April.

APPLETON, Wis. (AP)—Dr. Thomas Barrows, 62, former president of Lawrence College of Appleton, died Saturday of a heart attack while playing golf. Barrows served as president of Lawrence from 1937 until he resigned in 1943. In recent years he had been counseling director at the Robert Lewis Stevenson School in Pebble Beach, Calif.

Convicted Spy's Attorneys Will Challenge Order

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen's attorneys go to Britain's high court again Tuesday for another legal attempt to save the fugitive spy from the life sentence waiting for him in the United States.

The lawyers for the 61-year-old psychiatrist said they would ask the court for Soblen's release on a writ of habeas corpus and challenge the order Home Secretary Henry Brooke issued Saturday for Soblen's deportation to the United States.

Brooke issued the deportation order after repeated frustration of British government attempts to send Soblen to New York by El Al, the Israeli government-owned airline which landed Soblen in Britain July 1. The Israeli government, under severe political pressure at home, said it would take Soblen out of Britain but it would only take him to Israel, not to the United States.

Soblen late in June jumped $100,000 bail in New York and fled to Israel on a dead brother's passport. The Israeli government expelled him and put him on an El Al plane bound for New York with a U.S. marshal aboard.

As the plane crossed Europe, Soblen slashed a wrist and stabbed himself in the abdomen to get himself landed in Britain.

The British high court and the Court of Appeals already have denied Soblen a writ of habeas corpus and upheld the government's contention that the doctor had no legal right to remain in Britain.

It is estimated by linguists that at least 145 different languages are spoken in the Soviet Union.

New Paltz Gallery To Show Paintings By Modern Artists

Hugh Mesibov and John Gregoropoulos are exhibiting paintings and drawings, respectively, at the New Paltz Gallery through Aug. 28.

Mesibov shows paintings; watercolor, collage and gouache. He paints in the modern idiom, with boldness and spontaneity.

Hugh Mesibov is Philadelphia born and raised. He studied at the Pennsylvania Academy and at the Barnes Foundation in Pennsylvania. He has shown at the Brooklyn Museum, in the Whitney Annuals, the Pennsylvania Academy Annuals, the Library of Congress, the Corcoran Gallery, and has held one-man shows in Philadelphia, Chicago and in three New York Galleries. He has received awards and purchase prizes in six shows, including the Pennsylvania Academy Annual, and the Audubon Show. He is in the permanent collections of the Metropolitan Museum, the Pennsylvania Academy, the Barnes Foundation, the Philadelphia Museum, and the Canadian Society of Graphic Arts.

Mesibov lives in Monsey, N. Y., with his wife and three children. He has been art therapist at the Wiltwyck School for Boys for the past five years.

John Cregoropoulos, of Willimantic, Conn., combines power and grace in his strong black and white drawings. Sometimes powerful, sometimes purely calligraphic, these drawings are dynamic examples of abstract expression.

Gregoropoulos was born and educated in Greece. He took a masters of philosophy in Athens, Greece. He teaches painting at the University of Connecticut, Storrs, Conn., and this year is on a year's sabbatical leave in Greece with his wife and three small children. Upon his return the New Paltz Gallery will exhibit his latest canvases of the Greek scene.

Gregoropoulos has shown throughout the east, at the Boston Annuals, the Silvermine, Connecticut shows, in Essex and Mystic Connecticut, at the Lyman Allyn Museum in New London, Conn., where he has held several one-man shows. He has had one-man shows in two New York City galleries.

The New Paltz Gallery is located ¼-mile east of the New York State Thruway Exit 18. Hours are 10:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily; 10:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Friday, and from 1 to 6 p. m. on Sunday. The gallery is closed on Monday.

LADIES SHAKING HANDS WHEN INTRODUCED

Q: Recently I attended a convention with my husband. During the course of this convention I was introduced to many of his business associates. I extended my hand at each introduction. My husband criticized me for this, saying, "Ladies do not shake hands when introduced." May I have your opinion on this, please?

A: Ladies do not generally shake hands when introduced, but there was certainly nothing wrong in your doing so, and if the man being introduced to you extended his hand, it would have been very rude not give him yours.

Unusual But Not Improper

Q: I am not going to dress as a bride but am being married in a large church and would like to invite many friends and relatives to the ceremony. The number makes it very difficult to invite people verbally and by personal notes, and yet someone told me that I could not send formal invitations to a wedding at which the bride is not to be dressed in bridal clothes. Is this true?

A: It would be very strange to receive a formal wedding inviation and then arrive at the church and see the bride in an ordinary dress, but if you wish to send engraved invitations to your wedding and not dress as a bride there is no rule to prevent your doing so.

Q: In two weeks my husband and I are going to a 25th wedding anniversary dinner which is being held in a hotel. The men are going to wear white dinner jackets and the women cocktail dresses. Several of the younger men, including my husband, would like to wear plaid ties and plaid cummerbunds with their white dinner jackets. Would this be proper?

A: No, not for a party as formal as a 25th anniversary dinner.

Hyde Park Man Burned When Oil Stove Explodes

A 50-year-old Hyde Park man, injured early Saturday when he was forced to leap through a kitchen window as flames blocked exits, today was reported in fair condition at St. Francis' Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Hyde Park Trooper Edward Anderson said John Kwant, suffered first and second degree burns of his right side.

Troopers reported that Kwant told Anderson at the hospital that an oil stove in the living room of his home burst into flames. He assisted his wife, Bertha, 47, and children John Kwant Jr., 13, and Debby, 4, from the house and dashed back into the living room and tried to extinguish the fire.

Flames spread rapidly and Kwant was forced to smash a kitchen window and make his escape to safety.

Staatsburg, West Clinton and Roosevelt Fire companies responded to a call and on arrival firemen found the house in flames. The one-story four-room residence was completely destroyed.

Today Is Circus Day, Matinee and Evening Shows

Today is circus day in Kingston.

Back in 1892 Charles T. Hunt left Kingston with two wagons, four horses, and five men — to begin the now famous Hunt Bros. Circus which is showing at the Dietz Stadium lot at 2 p. m. this afternoon and 8 p. m. tonight. Doors to the main show open one hour earlier.

Hunt Bros. Circus today is the second oldest show on the road, and one of the largest of the traveling tent shows. The 1962 version is billed as the Royal International Circus, and the program of acts underlines the international flavor with famous names of Spangleland appearing from many parts of the world.

The current edition of Hunt Bros. also features an enlarged menagerie, plus the side shows, barkers, and all the features that spells out the American tradition known as the circus.

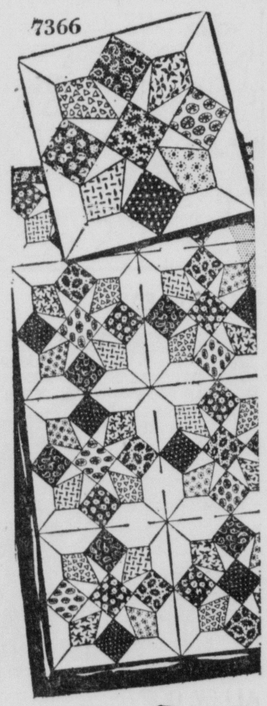

In speaking of the 1962 season thus far, Harry Hunt, director of the Hunt Bros. show, said that "this has been a pretty good year so far, and we are certainly happy to be back in Kingston where my Dad started this show."

matter of Fact

The 1961 per capita consumption of major food commodities in this country continued at 3 per cent above the 1947-1949 level. Also continuing was the significant change in the eating habits of Americans. Namely, the decline in consumption of potatoes and cereal products, the substitution of vegetable for animal fats and an increase in the eating of poultry, as well as the degree to which citrus fruits replaced some other fruits.

3-County Airport Needs Survey Is In Final Phase

Field interviews are being conducted by the State Department of Commerce's Bureau of Aviation as the final phase of a survey to determine airport needs in the Ulster-Orange-Dutchess Counties area.

Edmund T. Lynch, director of the Bureau, said a report is possible before the end of 1962. He stated that only 3,000 of 35,000 persons in the tri-county area who received questionnaires to determine the air service requirements which could be served by an airport in the Newburgh-Poughkeepsie area, have responded.

Lynch said the percentage of replies was sufficient to reach a valid conclusion. He noted the survey was begun in May and at that time he said that while the Dutchess County airport at New Hackensack is virtually the center of gravity of the three counties, expenditures would be required there if the survey suggested its use as a tri-county airport.

Lynch stated that an analysis of replies to area questionnaires and interviews might suggest efforts to seek use of Stewart Air Force base, Newburgh, by civilian planes needing long runways.

Vacationer Found Alive; Fell After Overdose of Pills

A Rockland County man vacationing at Boiceville was reported in fairly good condition today at Kingston Hospital where he was taken Sunday suffering from an overdose of sleeping pills, Kingston state police reported.

Troopers said Louis Pape Sleezer, 36 of Stony Point, staying at a summer cottage on Traver Hollow Road, Boiceville was discovered at the foot of a stairway Sunday by a neighbor.

Kingston troopers alerted by Sleezer's wife, Elaine, who called from Stony Point, arrived a short time later and found Sleezer on the floor. He admitted taking the barbiturates and was conveyed to the hospital in Gormley's Ambulance.

According to troopers, Sleezer said he took the pills Thursday and fell down the stairs where he lay until discovered by a neighbor.

Braves Defeat Poughkeepsie, 5-3, in Stormy NY-NJ Game

Did the Poughkeepsie Hoe-Bowls forfeit their NY-NJ League game with the Kingston Braves Saturday night at Dietz Stadium? Or is the official result a 5 to 3 victory for the locals?

What Poughkeepsie player (or players) took a swing (or swings) at base umpire Tony Crispino, following the conclusion of the stormy ball game?

Answers to these questions are somewhat obscure today, in the absence of official statements from the local management or league headquarters.

General Manager Fred J. Davi of the Kingston Braves told the Freeman sports department that he did not attend the special meeting called by league president, William Straub of Saugerties, Sunday night at Poughkeepsie.

Field manager Dick Bartsch of the Braves, who represented the local club, declined comment and said that any report on the Saturday night episode would have to come from President Straub. Efforts to reach Straub by telephone this morning were unavailing. He was reported to be in Hyde Park and would not be available until this afternoon.

Ted Kilburn, league statistician and official scorer for the Braves, who reports the games from the Braves, declined to comment beyond a terse statement in his weekly report to the sports department.

Jordan's Version

Fritz Jordan, the Poughkeepsie field manager, was not so reluctant to discuss the incidents that occurred. In addition to admitting that he was ejected from the game by Umpire Crispino for questioning a decision at first base in the 5th inning, Jordan criticized Crispino for appearing on the field in civilian clothes and for smoking on the field. He said the league will send a letter of protest to the Kingston Umpires Association. A KUA official said, however, that Crispino is not a member of the Association.

At the meeting in Poughkeepsie last night, plate umpire Herb Wolf's report was read and it said he thought somebody had swung at Crispino near the entrance gate in a scuffle after the game was over.

Wolf's report, however, did not give names.

However, it was learned that two members of the Poughkeepsie team — right fielder Butch Veronesi and catcher Maynard Darrow — are receiving letters from president Straub this morning. According to information available, no fines were levied by the league president.

It was also established that Manager Jordan concentrated a steady verbal fire at the umpires after he was ejected from the game and went to sit in the stands and refused to leave the premises as ordered by Umpire Crispino.

Shortly after the 5th inning incident, Umpire Crispino made a public announcement that the game was being forfeited to Kingston. The game continued, however, for the regulation nine-inning distance.

Early Trouble

There were a couple of calls early in the game that also produced flareups between Jordan and the umpires. In one inning, Jordan said, Crispino called a Kingston batter out after the third baseman (Rich Sewell) had caught a line drive. Sewell threw to first base apparently completing double play to end the inning. Jordan claims that Umpire Crispino called the double play ending the inning and the Poughkeepsie players trotted off the field. However, Jordan said, after his club had left the field, plate umpire Harold Wolf overruled Crispino and and said it was not a legal catch and sent the Poughkeepsie team back on the field.

It was also established that after Crispino had announced the forfeit to Kingston, Umpire Wolf ordered Jordan to leave the stands and go to some remote place in the stadium and let the game continue.

A notation on the blotter at police headquarters this morning acknowledged a call to Dietz Stadium at 10:42 Saturday night. Officers Thomas Carpino and John Kennedy responded to the call. In their report, the officers said that when they arrived, "all was straightened out."

Gardner Impressive

The incidents during and after the game overshadowed a brilliant pitching performance by Kingston's Paul Gardner. He allowed three runs (all unearned) in the first two innings and then applied the collar to the visitors during the remainder of the tilt.

Deke Johnson started the Hoe-Bowl first by reaching base on an error. After he swiped second, Howie Mann drew a base on balls and then Butch Darrow singled to score Deke. Mann reached third on the hit when Ron Secreto dropped the throw from the outfield. A single by Butch Veronesi scored Mann.

Kingston struck back with a pair off Mickey SaVino, the Poughkeepsie southpaw. Bob Bondar walked with one out and then stole second. With two outs, Chick Boice walked and Bill Chase delivered both runners with a base hit to left.

Gardner was plagued by bad support in the second. SaVino led off with an infield hit and when Bob Bondar didn't hustle after the ball, Mickey scooted all the way to second base. A sacrifice by Johnson moved him to third and Mann then hit a sacrifice fly to center.

The locals knotted the count in the second when Gardner singled and two outs later scored on a hit by Joe Modica.

Gardner was simply supberb over the last seven innings. He allowed only three hits after the second inning. Paul finished the evening with seven strikeouts and he walked only two batters.

SaVino was tagged for the winning markers in the sixth when Boice singled with one out and went to second on a passed ball. Dick Bartsch then applied the clincher with a two-out triple to the bank in left-center. Paul Gianuzzi's infield hit scored Bartsch with the final run.

Gary Brown hurled two scoreless relief innings for the visitors but his teammates couldn't solve the offerings of Gardner.

Giants Sweep Los Angeles Club

Marichal Halts Leaders, 5-1; Mets Are Beaten

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

You might say the Dodgers spent a lost weekend with the beats in San Francisco.

Thanks to Felipe Alou and friends, the San Francisco Giants have saved the National League pennant race. A three-straight sweep over Los Angeles has slashed a fat 5½ game lead to a mere 2½ games.

Instead of an early knockout in mid-August, the Dodgers may have to fight it out right down to the wire. Al Dark, manager of the Giants, said he needed to win five of seven from the Dodgers to have a chance. He already has won three.

The three straight were accomplished with Felipe Alou getting eight hits and scoring seven runs in 12 at bats, boosting his average 10 points to .328. In the Dodgers series he batted .667. Willie Mays, a pigeon for Dodger pitching in earlier games, awoke with four hits and five runs scored in 10 trips.

Tommy Davis and Frank Howard, who ruined the Giants in Los Angeles in late July were kept under control. Tommy had three for 12 and Howard managed only two hits in 11 at bats in three games. However Davis took over the league batting lead at .345.

Juan Marichal turned back the Dodgers with four hits Sunday while the Giants won 5-1. Alou had three singles among the 10 hits off loser Stan Williams and Larry Sherry.

Cincinnati's surge, interrupted last weekend by the New York Mets, has been renewed. The Reds have won eight in a row, climbing within seven games of the Dodgers. They made Freddy Hutchinson's 43rd birthday a happy one Sunday with an 8-4 victory over the Mets. Gordie Coleman, Lee Cardenas and Wally Post hit home runs.

Pittsburgh outlasted Chicago 5-4 in the finale of their long series. The three games consumed nine hours and 53 minutes with respective times of 3:12, 3:09 and 3:32. Bob Skinner hit his 15th and 16th homer on successive at bats to win for relief man Jack Lamabe over Don Elston.

Callison Slugs

Johnny Callison drove in seven runs to lead the Philadelphia Phillies in a doubleheader sweep over St. Louis 7-3 and 9-7. Callison's two-run triple in the first game was an important blow. He won the second game with a three-run homer in the eighth.

Houston broke its seven-game losing streak by beating Milwaukee 8-5 in 105-degree temperature although the Braves scored two in the ninth and had the bases loaded when the final out was made. Bob Bruce was the winner over Lew Burdette.

Joey Jay got off to a shaky start at Cincinnati when Charlie Neal of the Mets hit a three-run homer in the first. But the Reds bombed Roger Craig and successors for three homers. It was Jay's 18th victory and Craig's 18th defeat.

Cal McLish won the opener for the Phillies with the aid of Callison's hitting and Clay Dalrymple's homer. Don Demeter, who had three hits in each game, drove in three runs in the second game with his 18th homer and a double. Dallas Green won it in relief over Lindy McDaniel. Ernie Broglio lost the first. Stan Musial lost the batting lead to Davis when he went hitless.

Pittsburgh trailed 4-3 in the seventh when Skinner hit his second homer, following Dick Groat's single.

Norm Larker homered for the Colts and Roy McMillan and Amado Samuel for the Braves in the contest that finally ended when Russ Kemmerer, fourth Colt pitcher, made Frank Bolling ground out.

Atlanta Player Wrecks Syracuse

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When husky Fred Hopke was with the Syracuse Chiefs he delighted in delivering game-winning blows against Atlanta.

So the Crackers acquired his services earlier this season, and he responded by wrecking Syracuse in a couple of ball games.

The Chiefs got Hopke back, and just in time.

The first baseman banged out three homers for Syracuse Sunday, the last one with two on and two out and the Chiefs trailing by one run, to provide the muscle for an 8-6 nightcap victory over the Crackers. Atlanta won the opener 3-2.

Columbus and Buffalo tangled in another doubleheader that had an important bearing on the last playoff spot, but neither made any progress.

The Jets whitewashed the Bisons 9-0 in the opener, and Buffalo returned the favor 3-0, in the second game. The split left Buffalo in fourth, a game ahead of the Jets.

Seventh place Richmond took a 6-2 win in the opener over the second place Toronto Maple Leafs but the Leafs swarmed back for a 4-0 victory in the nightcap.

The Rochester Red Wings topped the league leading Jacksonville Suns 9-6.

Charleston Wins Eastern Twinbill

The Charleston Indians swept a doubleheader from Binghamton Sunday, 5-4 and 4-0, to extend their winning streak to eight—their longest this season — and move into third place, a half game ahead of York in the Eastern League.

In other games, second-place Elmira defeated league - leading Williamsport 3-0 and York beat Springfield 4-3.

Charleston built up a 5-0 lead in the first four innings of the opener. Four of the runs were unearned as the result of three Binghamton errors.

George Denyer tossed a four-hitter for the Indians in the nightcap victory.

Elmira spoiled Dave Goetz Day at Williamsport by handing the young lefthander his sixth loss against seven wins. Bonus Baby Dave McNally tossed the four-hit shutout to post his 12th victory against 10 losses.

A single to right by Dean Robbins with two out in the ninth gave York its victory over Springfield.

Yankees Win on Hit by Maris

Eighth Inning Single Defeats Detroit, 2-0

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roger Maris isn't going to hit 61 home runs this season. He may not even hit .269. He did both last season.

Right now Roger is hitting .254, which is a very good average for most pitchers. It isn't so hot for one of baseball's highest paid hitting stars.

The New York Yankees gave the green-eyed, blond slugger a $70,000 contract this season well knowing he wasn't going to hit 61 homers, but full of high hopes he might improve his batting average.

He's done neither, but still may be worth the money.

Over the weekend Maris either scored or drove in every Yankee run in three games.

New York edged Detroit 2-0 Sunday. Roger drove in the first one and scored the second. That, along with the five-hit pitching of Bill Stafford (10-7), was all it took.

The victory, plus Minnesota's 5-3 conquest of second place Los Angeles, gave the Yanks a 5½ game edge as they started a two-week road trip. Chicago edged Kansas City 1-0, Boston beat Baltimore 4-1 and Cleveland defeated Washington 5-3 in the other American league action.

Maris, departing from his hit-'em-out theory of 1961, used most of the weapons in a hitter's arsenal in his weekend performance. In the first game of a doubleheader Saturday, won by Detroit 7-2, Roger drove in one run with a single, the other with a sacrifice squeeze bunt.

In the second game, won by the Yanks 3-2 in 10 innings, he scored the first one after drawing a full-count base on balls. His 26th homer of the season accounted for the second, tying the game.

Then he won it in the 10th with a ground smash off the first baseman's glove, driving in Bobby Richardson, who had doubled.

Stafford was locked in a scoreless duel Sunday with Ron Kline when the Yanks broke through in the eight. Tom Tresh drew a lead-off walk and was sacrificed to second. Maris singled to right, driving in Tresh. He moved to second when Mickey Mantle was walked intentionally, and scored on Elston Howard's single.

Bob Allison drove in two runs and scored two himself in leading the Twins to the triumph over the Los Angeles. It pulled Minnesota to within one game of the second-place Angeles. The Twins, helped by two Angel errors, had built a 5-0 lead for lefty Dick Stigman (7-3) when Felix Torres' eighth-inning homer accounted for all the Los Angeles runs.

Earl Wilson (9-5) spaced four hits and struck out nine Orioles in leading Boston to its fifth straight. A three run homer by Ed Bressoud was the big hit for the Red Sox.

Jim Landis' 15th homer accounted for the only run in Chicago's fourth straight victory and eighth in 10 starts. The six-hit pitching of Ray Herbert (12-7), who left after walking two men in the eighth, and Juan Pizarro shut out Kansas City.

Harry Bright staked Washington to a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning, but Cleveland's Jim (Dudcat) Grant shut out the senators the rest of the way. A pair of two-run homers by Gene Green brought the Indians from behind.

Palmer Wins Tourney, Sets Mark in Earnings

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the great one, came to the American Golf Classic with two goals in mind and achieved them both.

First, Palmer wanted to master the treacherous 7,165-yard Firestone layout with its monstrous No. 16 hole, which measures 625 yards. Then he wanted to win enough money to surpass his own earnings record, established in 1960.

The Pennsylvania pounder, whose galleries resemble Ghengis Khan's hordes, put together four magnificent rounds of 67-69-70-70 for a 276 total, four strokes under Firestone's par 35-35—70, to win top money of $9,000.

By Five Strokes

He finished five strokes ahead of the field to boost his total earnings to $80,198, surpassing the mark of $75,262 he established two years ago. It was his eighth tournament triumph this year. Palmer, 32, now has a career total of 36 victories.

No. 16, which cost Palmer the PGA victory in 1960, was humbled this time. In each and every round, Palmer scored a birdie.

"I played it differently this time," said Palmer. "But despite four birdies, I still have a lot of respect for that monster."

Palmer, who will forgo action until the "World Series of Golf" at Firestone next month, defeated Mason Rudolph by five strokes. Rudolph, putting together a 31-35—66 in the final round, finished with a 281 for second money of $4,600. Finishing in a tie for third place with 284s were U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, Don January, Al Geiberger and Billy Maxwell—all earning $2,500.

Leading scorers and earnings:

Porterhouse Wins Big Trot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rodney's offspring made the American Trotting Championship a family affair by taking the top two positions in the $50,000 event Saturday night at Roosevelt Raceway.

Porterhouse, a 4-year-old son of the master sire, slipped between horses and beat Duke Rodney, another son by Rodney, to the wire by a neck.

The victory, worth $32.40 for a $2 win ticket, qualified Porterhouse for the International Trot at Roosevelt next Saturday.

Porterhouse's time of 2:32 3-5 for the mile-and-a-quarter knocked two-fifths of a second off the world record set in 1953 by Florican and equalled by Su Mac Lad winning the International last year.

Su Mac Lad plagued by hoof trouble, finished fourth in the American Championship, three-quarters of a length behind the third-place horse, Silver Song.

New Zealand's entry in the International, Ordeal, who has been racing in this country, won the first $10,000 leg of Batavia Downs' Autumn Gold Trotting series two weeks ago, and finished fourth in the second leg Saturday.

Helen Brooke K, a 16-1 shot, won the second leg in 2:02 4-5.

At other tracks Saturday night:

Vernon Downs — Ted Hanover ($28.20) won the first $1,000 leg of the August Pacing Series in 2:00 1-5.

Saratoga Raceway — Yankee Tardios ($7.20) easily won the $2,200 Malone Pace over a muddy track in 2:12 1-5.

Late Rallies Enable Winners To Top Rivals

S and E Inc. won a City Baseball League doubleheader last night at Dietz Stadium, stopping the 50 Club, 4-3 and trimming Acker Bus Lines, 9-3.

Gary Barnes had three singles, including one which drove in two runs for S and E in the sixth inning against the 50 Club. Chick Boice doubled for the winners, who had six hits off the slants of Tony Gallo.

Mike Spada hurled the second game triumph. He allowed only six hits while walking one and striking out 11 batters. A six-run rally in the fourth frame did the trick for the winners.

Bob Bondar socked three hits for the winners and Gene Spada doubled and had three runs batted in. Len Whitten had a single and triple for Acker's.

Tonight, S and E will meet the 50 Club at 8 o'clock.

On Friday, 50 Club beat Acker's, 4-2, after losing to the same team, 7-6, in a suspended contest. Frank Allen was the winner over John Nolan.

Ciarlante Hurls No-Hitter In Glasco-East Kingston Loop

Randy Ciarlante hurled a no-hitter in the Glasco-East Kingston Little League as the Dodgers whitewashed the Giants, 12-0.

In addition to his hurling, Ciarlante was also the big batter of the game. He had a double and single. Steve Sasso and Tom Greco also doubled while Joe Fiore had three straight singles. Ciarlante walked two and fanned 10 in boosting his season's mark to 4-3.

Gary Van Dine's 3-hit pitching and a three-run homer by Bob Jones combined to give the Toni Lynn Maternities a 3-0 victory over Fil-Jon Mfg. in the American Little League.

Jones' blast came in the top of the fifth inning off Mike Weishaupt whiffed seven and also issued two passes.

Jones added a double to his homer. Phil Clum stroked two singles for Fil-Jon and Weishaupt's single accounted for the third Fil Jon safety. Dewight Byrd, Van Dine, Larry Crantz, Rich Heppner and Gary Flowers hit singles for the winners.

Jaipur, Ridan, Decidedly At Saratoga Track Saturday

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jaipur and Ridan and possibly Decidedly slug it out Saturday in the 1¼ miles of the $75,000-added Travers Stakes at Saratoga with a strong claim to the 3-year-old turf title awaiting the winner.

The highly regarded filly, Cicada, also is scheduled to start.

Jaipur, owned by George D. Widener and with Willie Shoemaker in the saddle, is the likely choice for America's oldest horse race off victories in the Belmont Stakes, Choice, Jersey Derby, Withers and Gotham.

Ridan, star of Mrs. Moody Jolley's stable, lost face when he bowed to the lightly regarded Black Sheep in the recent American Derby at Arlington Park. But the son of Nantallah, unbeaten in seven starts as a 2-year-old, never has been out of the money in 10 outings this year, if you don't count the Florida race in which he ran third and was disqualified.

Whether Kentucky Derby winner Decidedly will be in the race probably will be decided after a workout at Saratoga today. Other probables include Cyane, Prego and possibly Black Beard.

Cicada Will Start

Trainer Casey Hayes said Sunday that C. T. Chenery's Cicada was trained for the race and will start. But she was a disappointment in last Saturday's $57,000 Alabama Stakes over the same track, running third behind E. Barry Ryan's Firm Policy and the lightly regarded Lincoln Center in the 1¼-mile race for 3-year-old fillies.

Eastern campaigned fillies ran one-two in the 1⅛ miles of the $61,800 Pucker Up Stakes for 3-year-old fillies at Arlington Park. Royal Patrice, the 2 to 1 choice from the Harbor View Farm, beat the Darby Dan Farm's Polylady by a length to earn $39,300. She was timed in 1:48 1-5.

Hughes Captures Washburn "500" Race at Rhinebeck

Overhauling Harry Brazee on the 133rd lap, Carleton Hughes of Troy never relinquished the lead and went on to win the coveted Washburn "500" Memorial Trophy race, Saturday night at Rhinebeck Speedway.

Brazee led up to the 133rd lap when a car driven by Hoppy Jensen of Bristol, Conn. blew its engine, spilling oil and causing Tom McGrath and Brazee to tangle. Later in the race Ron Van Etten and Brazee tangled with the race continuing on the caution flag.

John Van Leuvan took second place, with the ill-fated Brazee finishing third. Following the three leaders were Ben Stone, Ron Kidd, Hoppy Jensen, Cavanaugh, Glass and Mehm.

In addition to the lion's share of the purse, Hughes won two trophies — the Keller Fire Company Award and the Hayes Mercury Award.

Tom Miller of Kingston captured the sedan feature.

Garrison Is Winner

Doug Garrison of Hudson captured the feature race and the $500 purse and Dobler Brewing Company Trophy that went with it, Saturday night at Lebanon Valley Speedway.

Garrison needled his way through the early traffic to build up a quarter-lap lead, then fought off challenges by Stretch Van Steenburg and Johnny Flach.

Van Steenburg was second, followed by Flach, Don Rounds, Nels Grignon and Link Pettit.

Heat winners included Garrison, Link Pettit, Van Steenburg. John Roelphs captured the consolation.

The four-state 35-lap championship event will be held Saturday night at Lebanon Valley.

Moore, Maeki In Main Fight

Traveling Davey Moore, the world featherweight boxing champion, ventures into Helsinki, Finland, Friday night for a defense of his title against Finland's Olli Maeki.

Maeki, a local favorite with only 10 pro fights and an 8-1-1 record, will be a real long shot against the consistent 29-year-old champ from Columbus, Ohio and his 55-6-1 record.

The first world title fight ever held in Scandinavia will be staged at Olympic Stadium, built for the 1952 Games, and will be seen by some 25,000 paying $160,600. Moore is supposed to get $30,000 for his end.

Barney Ross, the former lightweight and welter champ, will referee the 15-round match.

It will be Moore's fifth defense of the crown he won by knocking out Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria, March 18, 1959. He has lost only once in a 34-bout span over six years. His last previous defense was against Kazuo Takayama in Tokyo last Nov. 13.

Emile Griffith, the welter king, also will be busy this week, renewing an old acquaintance with Denny Moyer in a 10-round nontitle match at Tacoma, Wash., Saturday. The fight will be a feature of the annual convention of the National Boxing Association, Aug. 18-24.

Griffith and Denny, younger of the fighting Moyer boys from Portland, Ore., met twice before Griffith won the title. Each won once.

In his last outing, July 13, Griffith successfully defended against Ralph Dupas at Las Vegas.

The fight will be carried on network (ABC) television.

Giant Players Back in NL Race

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Neither popoff optimism from Giants quarters nor sinking pessimism from the Dodgers is in evidence today despite San Francisco's three-game weekend sweep over Los Angeles that rebuilt a neck-and-neck National League pennant race.

Juan Marichal, hurling an excellent four - hitter, stopped the Dodgers 5-1 Sunday to complete the sweep that began with 11-2 and 5-4 victories Friday and Saturday.

The second-place Giants thus pulled within 2½ games of the leaders and cancelled the Los An-Angeles 3-game sweep of two weeks ago that apparently had knocked the Giants from the race.

"I don't want to pop about this," smiled Giants manager Alvin Dark. "Talk to the players, they all played great the whole series."

From the players came only pats on the back for each other and confident smiles, but no cocky blasts as they realized the season has seven weeks left.

Dodger Manager Walt Alston, asked if he thought a 2½ game lead was sufficient, reminded listeners he had never said a 5½ game margin, which the Dodgers had before Friday's game, was enough.

"Sometimes even 13½ hasn't been enough," he said, referring to 1951 when the Giants overcame a Dodger lead which was that big at precisely this time of the season.

"But just because the Giants won three," he added, "I don't think they ought to get overconfident."

Mickey Wright Wins Tournament

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mickey Wright of Dallas figures she learned a valauable lesson in the Kansas City Women's Open Golf Tournament, even though she took first place.

The ball had been bouncing right for the LPGA's top money-winner of the year until she came to the four-day, 72-hole test on Hillcrest's 6,804-yard par 72 course.

Her 69 on the first round was matched by Jackie Pung of Daly City, Calif. Then she had to make a one-stroke lead stand up the rest of the way, as she shot 73-73-71 for 286.

Mary Lena Faulk of Sea Island, Ga., was her challenger the second and third rounds.

In the last go-round Sunday it was Mary Mills of Gulfport, Miss. who had a chance to tie Miss Wright on the last hole.

Double bogeys plagued Miss Wright on the third round and she had to bear down hard to keep ahead.

"I've needed that," she said later, referring to the bad holes. "I've needed it all year. I've developed an attitude where I think that all I need to do is step up to the ball and hit it. But that shook me up."

Miss Mills turned in 71-79-69-68—287 for second place. Miss Faulk slipped to third at 290 with a 74 Sunday.

Green Bay, Houston Win Exhibition Tilts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After the Green Bay Packers crushed the College All-Stars 42-20 with three last quarter scores, Packer ace Paul Hornung gave it as his opinion that a good pro team would have beaten the NFL champs "by five touchdowns."

If that is so, the Packers have improved by eight touchdowns and a field goal in only a week. That cannot be happy news to the other 13 NFL clubs.

In the American Football League things looked familiar today, too. The Houston Oilers, twice champions, and the San Diego Chargers, twice runners-up, both looked powerful.

All 14 NFL clubs and all eight AFL entries played weekend exhibitions. It was the kickoff for all the NFL clubs except the Packers, and for half the AFL teams.

The Packers toppled the Dallas Cowboys at Dallas 31-7 and the Oilers whipped Denver 33-17 at Atlanta Friday night. Houston quarterback George Blanda, reduced to kicking chores by a thyroid operation, kicked four field goals and three points after touchdown.

In NFL Saturday action, the Los Angeles Rams smothered the Washington Redskins 37-7 at Los Angeles, Cleveland took the Detroit Lions 17-14 at Detroit, Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Bears 19-14 at Atlanta, San Francisco outscored the Minnesota Vikings 30-24 at Seattle and the New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals played a 21-21 tie at Canton Ohio in pro football's first Hall of Fame game.

In the AFL, San Diego shut out Dallas 17-0 at San Diego, and Oakland tripped the Boston Patriots 21-20 at Providence, R.I., Saturday. The Buffalo Bisons handed the New York Titans their second exhibition loss 20-10 at New Haven, Conn., Sunday.

Johnny Unitas looked to be back in peak form, after being handicapped last season by an injured finger on his throwing hand, as he passed for two Colt touchdowns and scored another. For the Eagles, Sonny Jurgensen showed no effects of the shoulder separation he suffered in January's runner-up bowl game.

In a battle of traded quarterbacks, Jim Ninowski of the Browns passed for two touchdowns against his old Detroit mates, now handled by ex-Brown Milt Plum. A field goal by Lou Groza was the difference.

Another quarterback at a new address, Ed Brown, moved the Steelers well against his old Bear team, with two field goals by Lou Michaels, one for 48 yards providing the margin.

DiMaggio Back For Last Farewell To Former Wife

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Joe DiMaggio was among the hundreds of mourners who returned to Marilyn Monroe's crypt after the funeral to say a last farewell.

She was entombed last Wednesday at a cemetery in Westwood.

Guy R. Hockett, managing director of the Memorial Park, said DiMaggio, second of the blonde actress' three husbands, said his goodby last Friday.

"He came to the office to check over the flower cards and read the hundreds of telegrams," said Hockett.

"When he left the office there were about 18 or 20 persons in front of the crypt. 'I guess I can't say goodby now,' he said dejectedly.

"I told him to wait a moment. I walked over to the people and explained that Mr. DiMaggio wanted a moment or two alone at his former wife's crypt," said Hockett.

"The people were all very nice. They walked away and let Mr. DiMaggio have his moment alone in front of the crypt."

Hockett said the park was full of mourners Sunday with cars bumper to bumper, some who drove through and some who brought flowers — "people who care a little, people who loved and admired her.

Candidates Talk About Bringing Space Age Work

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Democratic gubernatorial and senatorial candidates have pledged themselves to attracting space age industry into Pennsylvania through expanded technical education opportunities.

Richardson Dilworth and his running mate, U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, outlined what they termed their "Program for Prosperity" in Pennsylvania in a joint statement issued at the biennial convention of the Pennsylvania's Young Democrats.

The candidates had no specific cost estimate for their proposal, although it was labeled a multi-million-dollar, 10-to-20-year program.

Clark, who seeks election to a second six-year term in the Senate, said the bulk of the cost would be borne by federal programs already in effect or near enactment.

Junk President's Farm Bill, Advice of Sen. Keating

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., urged Congress today to junk the Kennedy administration's farm bill this year and organize a study commission to recommend a program next year.

"This administration has failed to chart new directions for American agriculture," he said in a prepared Senate speech. "The time has come for Congress to take the initiative."

He said the administration's wheat program amounts to a bread tax on consumers and he contended Congress could save the taxpayers $1.5 billion by junking the farm program proposed by President Kennedy.

He urged the chairman of the Senate and House agriculture committees to organize a joint bi-partian study commission on the farm problem.

DONALD W. McDONOUGH

Trap Rock Firm Names Assistant Chief Engineer

Appointment of Donald W. McDonough, 8 Bradley Drive, New City, as assistant chief engineer of New York Trap Rock Corp., was announced today.

McDonough joined the stone crushing firm's engineering staff, June 30, 1952, after graduating from Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn, with a bachelor's degree in civil engineering.

While attending college, McDonough worked as a summer employe assisting in the general layout and installation of recrushing equipment in the Clinton Point screening house. One of the engineer's prime projects was the investigation and comparison of shale deposits in the Hudson Valley in preparation for selection of a lightweight aggregate production plant.

In the Nytralite Aggregate plant's preliminary work, McDonough directed the important task of securing properties in the Kingston area. This consisted of making property maps from deeds and tracing ownerships so that options could be secured. He also helped develop the preliminary plant design.

McDonough is an active member of the American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers, Chi Epsilon, and honorary civil engineering fraternity and the Rockland County Chapter of the New York State Society of Professional Engineers.

He and his wife, Marilyn, are parents of three children, Donald, Jane and Nancy.

Believe Red Test Created Most Fallout

TOKYO (AP)—The Central Meteorological Agency said today it has detected this year's highest amount of radioactivity believed scattered by a Russian nuclear blast early this month.

It said 76 micro-micro-curies of radioactivity per one cubic meter of dust were measures in Osaka, central western Japan, last Friday.

This compared to the previous high of 24 micro-micro-curies recorded in Fukuoka, northern Kyushu Island, last Jan. 8. But it was far less than the 278 micro-micro-curies detected in Osaka last Nov. 8 shortly after Russia exploded a 50-megaton nuclear bomb.

MRS. GRACE O'TOOLE

New Executor For Catholic Charities Here

Mrs. Grace O'Toole has replaced Mrs. Mary Ceysens as executive social worker in charge of the Ulster County office of Catholic Charities, 261 Fair Street, Kingston. Mrs. Ceysens resigned at the end of May. Miss Ruth Garrity continues to serve as the agency's secretary.

Mrs. O'Toole is a graduate of the Fordham School of Social Service and has had extensive experience in the family service program of Catholic Charities. She served most recently in the agency's Bronx office. She now resides with her husband and children in the nearby Catskill mountains area.

The Ulster County unit, of which Mrs. O'Toole takes charge immediately, is one of the longest established of the almost 200 welfare and health agencies comprising the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York. Its total budget is furnished from the funds raised in the annual springtime Appeal of Catholic Charities. In 1962 the Rev. James Keating of St. Joseph's parish, Kingston, was again the Ulster County District Manager of a very successful campaign in the county.

Mrs. O'Toole's professional specialty is in family relations counselling. Available to her, in addition to her own knowledge and skills, are many services of the total Catholic Charities organization centralized for economy's sake in various specific locations. These together with the health and welfare resources of Ulster County and New York State comprise the helping tools with which Mrs. O'Toole will work in behalf of families and individuals overwhelmed by trouble and in need of guidance and help.

Negroes Turned Away at Some Churches Sunday

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Singly or in small groups, Negroes tried to worship at segregated white churches in this racially troubled city but only one got past the doors on an otherwise relaxed Sabbath.

A Negro woman, Doris Derby, 22, was admitted to St. Paul's Episcopal church. Two other Negroes attended Mass at St. Teresa's Catholic church, but members of their race have worshipped there before.

Two churches turned Negroes away. A white New York minister, the Rev. Ralph Lord Roy, led two Negroes to Trinity Methodist church. He said they were asked to come back some other time.

Two Negroes who tried to attend Central Baptist church said a white man told them they would have to leave or he would summon a policeman.

The president of the Albany Movement, W. G. Anderson, said it was "sacrilegious that worshippers are turned away from a house of God."

He disclosed plans for a major drive in Albany to register Negro voters and said his organization would "continue to test public facilities."

The efforts to use segregated facilities, he said, were being made on the basis of a statement by the city attorney, H. Grady Rawls, who said Friday in Recorder's Court that the city did not enforce its segregation ordinances.

Albany's city parks and library remained closed after they were locked Saturday when Negroes tried to use them.

Telstar, Other U. S. Advances Kept Secret

Nikita Stands Firm, Has People With Him

EDITOR'S NOTE — Felix R. McKnight, vice president and executive editor of the Dallas Times-Herald, is one of 12 U.S. editors who recently went on an 8,000-mile, 23-day tour of the Soviet Union. Following is a condensation of a series of articles he wrote on his findings.

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
Executive Editor,
Dallas Times-Herald

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Soviet Union I saw is a wasteland of suspicion — simply because it has never been told the truth about the United States of America.

It is buried in doubt and distrust, thoroughly propagandized to view us as greedy war profiteers unconcerned about peace and the rights of man.

The Russian reads only what they want him to read and he does what he is told to do.

Not Single Word Published

Sixteen were killed—one American from Detroit survived. But not a single word was printed in the newspapers. We learned of it through the American Embassy four days later.

Russians had not even been told about Telstar, the magnificent American achievement in international communications satellites, when I left the Soviet Union—although we were constantly needled about joining the Soviets in "Atoms for Peace."

The Soviet Union is a massive conglomeration of incredible contrast. It is vital and progressive in the impressive fields of science and technology—but it is pathetically primitive in the area of living.

No longer is there visible terror in the Soviet Union. Khrushchev deadened the fear of the midnight knock from the NKVD.

Nikita Khrushchev is wily, cunning, shrewd, tough, able — and determined. He stands 5 feet, 5 inches and a disproportionately small head sits atop a bulky body.

Stands Firm as Premier

But he also stands tall and firm as premier of the U.S.S.R. and is likely to remain there for some time.

Now he has the people with him.

He has improved their lot tremendously in recent years through housing and the general elevation of living standards.

Master politician who plays a tough game of international politics, Khrushchev acts like a man who doesn't want war. But not for one minute does it mean that he will abandon the pressures that have kept the world off-balance.

The big goal is still there — world domination.

The man is wildly jealous of the United States and he will go to the limit to reach our levels. He spoke of it in his conference with us. From what I saw, he will never make it. The know-how just isn't there on too many things. The thinking, particularly on agriculture, is primitive and archaic.

Khrushchev is pushing, threatening, and goading to get the sagging agricultural program into some semblance of orderly production.

Credit U.S. System

"What interests us most in America?" the premier asked in his July 13 conference with us. "It is oranization of farm production. In this field you have a great experience worthy of being studied. And the organization of agricultural work in the United States is better than in the Soviet Union. You have a better range of machinery, especially for stock farming."

But, of course, he added that "we will surpass you."

The Soviet Union, its eyes riveted on youth and the future, is bringing along the new generation in the country with tender hands. It lavishes the utmost, from kindergarten through college, on the pliable young.

In all of the Soviet Union, there

Kennedy May Give Tax Plans Hint Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy may offer an advance peek at his plans for a 1963 tax cut when he speaks to the nation tonight on taxes and the lagging economy.

Most observers in and out of government were convinced he would reject suggestions that a quick tax cut offers the best chance of averting any early recession.

Kennedy was likely to call attention in his 7 p.m. EDT television-radio address to his stalled requests for stand-by authority to cut taxes and launch a public works program in the event of a recession. If Congress should approve these proposals, the door would be kept open for a possible tax cut later this year.

Strong recommendations for quick tax reductions have come from such diverse quarters as the AFL-CIO and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

Confressional Opposition

Those who were convinced that Kennedy would turn down the appeals said that for one thing, there is formidable congressional opposition to the idea of considering a deficit-expanding tax cut in the waning weeks of an election year session.

Also, major economic indicators surveyed by Kennedy and key advisers at a White House conference Friday showed a moderate business pickup in July.

Perhaps equally important, the Treasury is fearful that a 1962 tax cut would undermine administration efforts to achieve a major reform of tax laws next year.

It was learned that work on the 1963 reform bill was far enough advanced to permit disclosure of certain key details. Several officials said it seemed logical that

Two Saugerties Service Stations Are Burglarized

Two Saugerties gasoline stations within 2,000 feet of each other on Route 212 and 32 were burglarized sometime during Sunday morning and nearly $400 in cash, merchandise and antique guns were stolen, police authorities reported today.

Acting Chief Harold Mills reported that burglars entered Phil's Shell Service station on Ulster Avenue in the village, moved the cigarette vending machine into the garage and removed about $10 in change. They also forced open the coffee vending machine and took an unknown amount of money and removed a roll of quarters, $10,

Glaring Defections Roughen Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy may have to develop some political blind spots in campaigning for Democratic candidates for the Senate and House.

While the President can go all-out in praise of the record of party office holders in several states, he will have to overlook some glaring defections from his New Frontiers program in urging the election of others.

In any widespread campaigning Kennedy may find himself calling for the defeat of Republicans who at times have given him vital support on issues he considers important to the success of his administration.

As a case in point, Kennedy will have to gloss over the solid backing given to him in international crises when he campaigns against Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen in Illinois.

Dirksen has fought many of Kennedy's domestic proposals. As an opposition leader in Congress he has criticized Kennedy's handling of international as well as domestic problems.

But when the chips were down in the Berlin crisis and the sending of troops to South Viet Nam, Dirksen and his House counterpart, Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, plugged the Republican guns that might have roared in protest.

Similarly, Kennedy may have some mental reservations in urging the replacement of Republican Sen. Jacob K. Javits in New York who helped frame the compromise version of the administration's bill for Social Security financing of health care for the elderly.

Kennedy has predicted that medicare will be a major issue in the campaign. If so, can he condemn the record of Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California, the deputy Senate Republican leader? Kuchel worked and voted for the compromise bill.

Kennedy will have to close his eyes to individual opposition to

Thruway Police To Take Closer Look for Safety

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Thruway Authority said today it would take a closer look at vehicles entering the Thruway and bar those with unsafe equipment, particularly bald tires.

The authority said 236 accidents on the superhighway during the first six months of this year were caused by vehicular defects. Bad tires caused 87 of the mishaps.

The crackdown involves detailing extra collectors and supervisors to make frequent inspections of vehicles entering at toll stations, the authority said.

Four Injured in Car Mishaps, Two Drivers Held on Charges

Four highway fatalities in the area pushed the accidental death toll for the weekend in New York State to 33.

The area traffic deaths included three New York City residents who died in a head-on collision on Taconic State Parkway near Putnam Valley, and a Dutchess County youth who burned to death while trapped in his burning vehicle near Red Hook.

Three persons died Saturday as the result of injuries suffered in a two-car head-on collision on the Taconic State Parkway, just north of the Peekskill Hollow Road, Town of Putnam Valley, Putnam County.

State police identified the victims as Andrew Frank Kelly, 31, of 128 Seaman Avenue, New York City, described as a former state trooper with Troop K, Hawthorne, and Leonard Sitchenko, 39, of 129-21 113th Street, South Ozone Park, L. I., and his wife, Margaret, about 26.

Kelly, reportedly retired as a state trooper about two years ago because of poor health.

Troopers reported the Sitchenko's were homeward bound traveling south and Kelly was going in the opposite direction when the crash occurred. Both cars were demolished.

The Sitchenko's were believed to have been killed instantly. Kelly was dead on arrival at the

Gas, Boos, WaterMark Big Fracas

15,000 in Line Along West Side

BERLIN (AP) — Border guards fought a fierce tear gas battle today as massed West Berliners screamed their hatred of the red wall on its first anniversary.

The battle erupted in the Wilhelmstrasse, opposite the former Nazi air ministry. It is now the seat of several East German government ministries.

East German police shot a stream of water from a water cannon at West Berlin youths carrying a wooden cross along the wall.

Eastern guards then tossed tear gas grenades into the thickly massed crowd.

West police immediately threw about 150 tear gas grenades over the wall. They fell all around two water cannon, which were enveloped in a thick cloud of gas and withdrew about 30 yards. The choking crews had to get out for fresh air.

Bring in 100 Police

Western police were soaking wet, as were the youths carrying the cross.

A company of 100 West riot police was rushed to the scene. There were about 80 Eastern police—Vopos—massed on the other side of the wall.

East Berliners tried to join in the demonstration. But Communist police kept them back. About 100 persons were seen being pushed back in the Unter den Linden and Wilhelmstrasse, in East Berlin.

Windows in buildings on the east side of the border were flung open as persons inside listened to the Western outcries of anger but Communist officials quickly shut the windows.

Loudspeakers Blare

The din along the wall was tremendous.

The Communists brought up loudspeakers blaring martial music in an attempt to drown out the shouts from the West.

Western police said they heard the rumble of tanks in East Berlin and saw truckloads of steel-hel-

Russia, Astronauts Saluted

May Require Miracle To Win Race to Moon

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has congratulated the Soviet Union on its latest space accomplishment, but American space officials adopted a wait-and-see attitude and withheld official comment.

While relaxing over the weekend at Boothbay Harbor, Maine, Kennedy said in a statement: "I congratulate the Soviet Union on this exceptional technical feat and salute the courage of her two new astronauts. The American people, I know, wish them a safe return."

In Washington, a spokesman for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said: "Until we know more about the Soviet mission we can't comment intelligently about it."

Recorded in London

American televiewers saw films of the two Soviet cosmonauts orbiting the earth in twin spaceships. The films were flown to New York after they were recorded in London from Eurovision broadcasts picked up from Moscow. ABC, CBS and NBC then transmitted them Sunday across their television networks.

American radio listeners also heard recordings of the voices of cosmonauts Andrian Nikolayev and Pavel Popovich reporting back from their orbital flight.

Although U.S. space officials would not be quoted by name, it was clear that America once again was behind in the space race for the moon. Astronaut Malcolm Scott Carpenter, who circled the earth three times last May, put it this way: "We're behind and trying our best to catch up."

Earlier, the Soviet news agency Tass reported that a message from Carpenter, received in Moscow via The Associated Press, had been relayed to spaceman Nikolayev while he was in orbit.

Expression of best wishes came,

Nikolayev Makes 35 Orbits by 4 P. M. Moscow Time; Popovich Does 19

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet astronauts wheeled around the earth in tandem today, one entering his third day in space and the other his second in a historic feat putting the Russians ahead in the race to the moon.

Already they had passed the point where they would have been in position to land and that meant almost certainly they would go on through at least another night and morning.

Aboard Vosok III, Maj. Andrian Nikolayev, 32, had made 35 circuits of the earth by 4 p.m. Moscow time, since his blastoff Saturday morning, the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Aboard Vostok IV, Lt. Col. Pavel Popovich, 31, had made 19 circuits since his launching Sunday morning. He thus also had surpassed the 17-orbit flight of Maj. Gherman S. Titov a year ago.

Exchange Greetings

The two exchanged radio greetings this morning after awakening and eating breakfast, but it was not clear how close their space ships were together. Tass reported they were near enough Sunday to see each other's ships.

Trackers in Japan had put the distance between them as about 75 miles Sunday. But the Ohio Research Center in Cleveland, Ohio, said they later had moved 385 miles apart.

At noon, every correspondent in Moscow braced for news that the pilots had begun their descent to Soviet soil. But rumors of a landing proved wrong. One Soviet source declared: "They are not coming down today."

Lauded by Premier

Premier Khrushchev messaged them: "I again congratulate you and embrace you. I wish you successful fulfillment of the program of the flight, and happy landing."

They were shown again on television today. Lying back in their chairs, occasionally rising to a half sitting position to work better with a log book or to keep it from shielding their faces from the television viewer in the cabin of the ship. Gestures and movements were relatively limited.

Surpass Moon Distance

Tass reported that millions of televiewers saw Popovich rise from his seat, look through the porthole, smile and drink something, then take his seat again.

Both had traveled far enough to reach the moon and back but both reported they felt fine, instruments were functioning perfectly, and cabin temperature and other conditions normal, Tass reported.

A midday bulletin said: "The necessary medical and hygienic conditions in the cabins of the cosmonauts are fully maintained."

The cosmonauts' morning hours were devoted to breakfast, setting-up exercises, and then scientific observations, physiological and vestibular (ear) tests and psychological tests, it said.

Nikolayev had far surpassed the 17-orbit record set by Soviet Maj. Gherman Titov a year earlier in Vostok II.

Move Toward Moon Shot

The double flight marked a fantastic feat of Soviet rocketry that the United States does not hope to match until at least next year. The ability to send up a second space ship 24 hours after the first one had gone up, and bring it into orbit in the vicinity of the first ship marked an important advance toward the day when satellites can join in space for construction of a space platform from which a moon shot can be made.

British scientists also said the Soviet accomplishment could lead to the early development of mill-

Four Killed on Area Roads; 33 in State

Four persons were injured in five city traffic mishaps over the weekend, two resulted in charges against drivers, and one was caused by a dog running into a road.

John Crantz, 6, of Colonial Gardens, who suffered head injuries in a mishap at Flatbush Avenue and Colonial Drive Saturday, was reported in fair condition today at Kingston Hospital.

Police said he "ran off a curb into the side of a vehicle" operated by Anthony Naccarato, 37, of 5 Lincoln Street, which was headed west on Flatbush Avenue. Officers John Kennedy and Thomas Carpino investigated.

Ramon Vasques Rivera, 33, of 96 Clinton Avenue, was booked as an unlicensed operator, after a two-car accident at Franklin Street and Clinton Avenue, reported at 9:45 p. m. Saturday. He was listed as the driver of one car and the other was operated by Robert Arthur Edge, 299, of 82 Prospect Street. He reported head and knee injuries, and Rose Marie Albright, 36, of 16 West Union Street, suffered injuries of the face, right arm and hip and left foot. They were treated at Kingston Hospital. Officers Ira Hadsel and James Amato investigated. Rivera was fined $25 in city court.

A 19-year-old Dutchess County youth burned to death early Sunday, when trapped in the wreckage of his flaming car after the vehicle left Route 9G and crashed into a utility pole in the Town of Red Hook.

Dr. William G. Thompson, Rhinebeck, an assistant Dutchess County medical examiner, said James Dembroski Jr., 19, of Tivoli, died of third degree burns of the entire body. His car was demolished.

Trooper Gerald Pine, Rhinebeck, reported the youth was traveling north on Route 9G

See Hoffa, 40 Hours as Big Topics

CHICAGO (AP)—The traditional 40-hour work week and James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, appear likely to be high on the agenda at today's opening session of the AFL-CIO Executive Council's summer meeting.

A number of officials in the big labor federation believe the time has come to cut both down in size.

Labor leaders, including the AFL-CIO president, George Meany, usually have seen shortening the work week as the answer to growing unemployment.

Action Expected

The 26 union vice presidents making up the council are expected to take some action regarding the Teamsters Union.

The union, with 1,500,000 members, was expelled from the AFL-CIO in 1957 amidst charges of corruption. The AFL-CIO has more than 14 million members.

The Teamsters have come under renewed fire from AFL-CIO officials since last week's trial of 21 leaders of the affiliated Communications Workers of America.

All 21 were convicted in a union trial of having conspired to deliver 18,000 CWA members into the hands of Hoffa's union. Nineteen CWA leaders were expelled from the union and two were suspended for three years.

Joseph A. Beirne, CWA president, previously had asked the Executive Council to set up an organization to try and get some Teamsters members back in the AFL-CIO fold.

Kennedy Approved

Any drive for a shorter work week apparently would get no help from the Kennedy administration. President Kennedy has said repeatedly that he would propose no legislation to change the standard 40-hour week. Two of his top aides, Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg and Commerce Secretary Luther H. Hodges, both have warned labor not to seek a shorter work week through legislation.

Employers also have shown they prefer to pay overtime to present workers rather than pay costly fringe benefits to new workers.

SUNKEN BARGE PROBLEM—Esopus Town Board is reported taking action to prevent the township shorelines on the Hudson River and Rondout Creek from further becoming a graveyard for barges and tugboats. Supervisor Roger W. Mabie points to barges abandoned and gradually decaying where they ran aground along the shores of Sleightsburgh in Rondout Creek. The scene above is at the Sunflower dock where the Mary Powell docked in earlier years. The board is contacting the U. S. Coast Guard and the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers to determine what action can be taken to have the barge debris removed and to prevent further abandoning of barges and old tugboats on the township shoreline.

REMAINS OF RIVERAMA — The show barge, Riverama was used by New York Trap Rock Corp. in 1950 to exhibit the operations of the firm. It traveled up and down the river as a floating display for the corporation until last fall when it was sold. The new owners intended to remodel the show barge and use it to display a Hudson River folklore exhibit. It sunk at the pier in Poughkeepsie and was on the bottom all winter. It was raised in June to permit access to the Hudson River Dayline boats and towed to its present site about a half-mile south of Esopus Light Station on the Hudson River. About a half-dozen other assorted barges and tugboats, some partially sunk, others hulking debris left by fire, litter the shorelines of the Town of Esopus. (Freeman photos).

Kennedy Flies Home for Speech On TV Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy flew home today from a weekend of sailing and relaxaction off the Maine coast to prepare for a televised talk to the nation on taxes and the economy.

Rain and fog marred much of Kennedy's weekend in Maine. Fog was partly to blame for his delayed departure. It held up his helicopter flight from John's Island to Brunswick Naval Air Station, and shrouded the naval base as the presidential jet took off.

After several summer weekends at Hyannis Port, Mass., Kennedy got a change of scenery this time, visiting Boothbay Harbor, Main. He stayed at the island summer home of former heavyweight boxing champion Gene Tunney.

Car Skids on Wet Pavement, Hits Pole

Two Hyde Park residents were injured Saturday when their car skidded on wet pavement on Quaker Lane south of Melville Road, Town of Hyde Park, and struck a utility pole.

Trooper Edward Anderson, Hyde Park, reported Dennis J. Russell, 34, of Melville Road, Hyde Park, was driving north when his car slid on rain-soaked pavement. The driver lost control and the 1953 car hit a utility pole.

Injured and taken to St. Francis' Hospital, Poughkeepsie, were the driver, who suffered scalp lacerations, abdominal contusions and possible chest injuries, and Shirley Russell, 34, same address, who was treated for abrasions of both knees and forehead and contusions of the right thigh.

Six Hurt When Crane Collides With Train

NEW YORK (AP) — A heavy construction crane and a moving Long Island Rail Road passenger train collided today in Woodside Queens. Police reported that six persons were injured, two of them seriously.

Police said there were no reported fatalities and no one was trapped in the train.

Electricity on the line was cut off and a major traffic jam developed in the area.

First reports on how the accident occurred were conflicting. Police said one report indicated that the crane fell on top of the train but another story was that the train ran into the crane while the crane was moving across the tracks.

Hospital Is Closing, Not Enough Patients

NEW YORK (AP)—While most hospitals in the nation find themselves with too much of a patient load, St. Peter's Hospital in Brooklyn announces it is closing because it hasn't had enough patients.

St. Peter's, founded by a Roman Catholic order in 1854 as an asylum for Civil War orphans, will end nearly a century of service when its doors shut Oct. 31.

Most German Cities Continued Business

Garment Union Judged Guilty In Labor Rift

WASHINGTON (AP)—The International Ladies Garment Workers Union was judged guilty today of a wide array of unfair labor practices in trying to prevent its employes from forming their own labor organization.

George A. Downing, trial examiner for the National Labor Relations Board, made the ruling against the ILGWU, a union affiliated with the AFL-CIO and headed by David Dubinsky, an AFL-CIO vice president.

Among the charges cited by Downing were statements by Dubinsky expressing "hostility" to the Federation of Union Representatives (FOUR) an orgarization formed by ILGWU employes to obtain bargaining rights on wages and grievances.

Downing recommended that the five - man NLRB require the ILGWU to cease interrogating employes regarding membership or activities of FOUR, seeking to get employes to renounce affiliation with FOUR, warning or threatening employes belong to FOUR or withholding usual annual wage increases.

The ILGWU is expected to appeal the case to the NLRB and later possibly to the courts. FOUR narrowly won a recent NLRB election requiring the ILGWU to deal with the union employe organization.

Legion Elects Conners, for School Prayer

NEW YORK (AP) — The State American Legion elected Dr. F. Herrick Conners of Cohoes as its commander at a state convention here and urged parents to agree upon a school prayer that would not violate a recent U.S. Supreme Court decision.

The Supreme Court decision outlawed use of a prayer prescribed by the State Board of Regents.

At the final convention session Saturday, the Legionnaires elected their commander and passed a resolution which said:

"It is manifestly clear that a prayer chosen by the pupils or their parents and voluntarily recited by them at the beginning of each school day is not a procedure coming within the prohibition of said decision or the First Amendment of the Constitution.

The convention also staved off efforts by a small group of delegates to gain Legion backing for a $100 bonus for World War I veterans. Such a measure is being considered by the House of Representatives.

The convention, instead, asked that any payments for World War I veterans be made on the basis of need.

Rusk, Dobrynin Talked Today on German Problem

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin discussed the German problem in a 20-minute meeting today.

"We continued to discuss the question of a German peace settlement," picking up where it was left in Geneva by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko and Rusk, Dobrynin told newsmen after the unusually brief meeting.

He said that no notes were exchanged at the meeting, but declined to answer a question as to whether any new proposals were submitted.

Dobrynin asked for the interview with Rusk, only five days after the previous meeting between the two, when Rusk asked the diplomat to call on him to discuss the new U.S. nuclear test ban proposals.

Dobrynin was asked whether the simultaneous orbiting of two Soviet cosmonauts came up in his conversation with Rusk.

"We talked about it, there was no discussion, only an exchange of views," the diplomat said.

Some Teamsters Ordered to Talk In Perjury Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some of Teamsters Union employes were ordered to appear before a federal grand jury today in a perjury investigation based on their accounts of an alleged slugging of another Teamsters aide by the union's president, James R. Hoffa.

U.S. Dist. Judge Charles F. McLaughlin refused to quash subpoenas for the witnesses despite a plea by their attorney that they were about to be "badgered to see if they can't possibly contradict what they said before."

The probe got under way with Asst. U.S. Atty. Edmond T. Daly saying affidavits by the witnesses revealed "such a conflict in testimony that the government feels this investigation should be undertaken."

The case began last May when Samuel Barron, 59, field director for the Teamsters Warehousemen's Division, charged that Hoffa slugged him, knocking him knocking him down twice, and shoved a chair in an altercation in Hoffa's office.

Hoffa pleaded innocent to the assault charge in Municipal Court but the case was dropped after Daly said a group of Teamsters employes had furnished affidavits maintaining that Barron instigated the fight.

The federal grand jury investigation into the accuracy of the affidavits contradicting Barron's charge was revealed over the weekend.

Six Go to Hospital After Drinking Fluid

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Correction Department disclosed today that six women inmates at Westfield State Farm in Bedford were hospitalized after drinking fluid used with duplicating machines.

A department spokesman said one was in serious condition.

The women were among 19 inmates who admitted they had consumed the fluid after it was stolen from a typing class. The liquid contains a form of alcohol known as menthenol, which is harmful if taken in large quantities, the spokesman said.

LIGHT IN THE CLEARING

In these uncertain days, investors should not get gloomy. There are lights in the clearing which can help in ameliorating economic pessimism. This melancholy feeling makes itself manifest in many ways.

Du Pont, the world's top-ranking chemical enterprise, has been ordered to divest itself of the 63,000,000 shares of General Motors it acquired over the years; and scores of letters have passed across my desk asking if both Du Pont and General Motors shouldn't be sold.

Long-pull investors in GM and in Du Pont should not only hold their shares, but they should accumulate them on weakness.

Right now Du Pont is employing about 1,900 research people who have Ph.D. degrees. Du Pont is spending more than $200,000,000 a year adding new plants and equipment and modernizing present facilities. In 1961 the company completed 13 major production units. Du Pont believes that by 1980 — in 18 years — the company will spend $4,000,000,000 in such work.

Is chemistry a good growth industry? Yes. Every investor in America should own some chemical shares.

What other lights in the clearing are there? I shall mention three others, but there are a score.

In 1962 about 60,000,000 housing units are required to house U. S. families. In 1980, probably 85,000,000 units will be required. In 1980 the population here will be crowding 260,000,000 people. Are sound building shares a good long-pull purchase? Of course.

Today in the U. S. there are about 75,000,000 registered motor vehicles. It is estimated that by 1980 there will be double that figure. Is there growth in General Motors, Ford and Chrysler? Sure. Gloomy investors should discard their pessimism if they can look ahead 10 or 20 years.

How about the food industry? Naturally, population growth requires more food. Two major industries are sure to benefit: agricultural equipment and food. In the coming years, expenditures for new farm property and equipment will total more than $4,000,000,000 a year.

A retired midwestern farmer has recently bought a substantial block of the best agricultural equipment common and preferred shares. He sold $50,000 of his farmland to get into a more liquid position.

Any well-diversified investment portfolio should carry some food stocks. Their stable income is satisfactory, and their growth is certain.

There are a hundred and one disquieting social, economic and military forces operating in America, any one of which can disturb investors.

But over against these are the positive forces of good emanating from steady population growth and rising standards of living.

Investors should follow the positive forces rather than the negative. Prices of common stocks are important, but growing values are more important.

THE HARD 'EASY' WAY

The tragic story of thalidomide, which has been indicted for causing deformities in thousands of infants, concerns more than the issue of better regulation of new drugs.

It raises the fundamental question of why so many modern men—or more particularly, women—seem to have become so dependent upon pills to help them face the strains of living.

Undoubtedly, the new tranquilizers have been a major medical discovery. They are becoming an increasingly valuable adjunct in the treatment of mental illnesses.

But their eager acceptance by average, "normal" persons, who gobble them up by the billions each year, may constitute for some a flight from reality not dissimilar to that of the alcoholic.

A psychiatrist, Dr. Don D. Jackson of Stanford University's Palo Alto Medical Research Foundation, recently warned that the current emphasis on "happy pills" in the treatment of mental illnesses is misleading the public into thinking that a pill will one day cure any type of mental or emotional trouble.

He fears it may "discourage the public from facing the unpleasant facts about the administration and treatment of mental disorders."

The "unpleasant" facts are that, while body chemistry is involved in mental illnesses, these disorders arise from human relationships and are best treated by "simple human measures."

Dr. Jackson draws an analogy between headaches and aspirin. While no one denies that aspirin relieves headaches, the ailment is almost always the result of stressful social situations.

"All of us," he says, "are only too eager to deny an effect on our children and others around us . . . It is small wonder that parents are intrigued by hereditary and chemical explanations of their child's emotional problems."

The same thing can possibly be said of the sometimes vexing give-and-take of ordinary living, the clash of personalities, the burden of responsibilities each of us carries, or the phychological disturbances that come with pregnancy—and the sale of tranquilizers and barbiturates: We are looking for an easy way out of our problems.

NEW DRUG LAW NEEDED

One indisputable conclusion emerges from the emotional hue and cry that has attended revelations about the drug thalidomide. This is that although the United States already has more stringent restrictions on the marketing of food and drugs than any other major nation, a further tightening of some procedures is necessary.

In saying this there is no attempt to place the drug industry in the role of villain; this is no call for more police to thwart nefarious activities. Firmer restrictions are needed, not because drug firms are criminally indifferent to the public welfare, but because drugs have great potential for both good and harm and thus ought to be handled with extreme care.

The most readily apparent flaw in present control procedures lies in the system of inducing a large number of physicians to make "clinical tests" of new drugs by trying them out on selected patients. Sometimes this is done without telling the patient that a test is being made; the doctor is not legally obliged to say so. One unfortunate result is that there is not a quick enough feedback of data if unfavorable side effects crop up.

This system should be corrected. Only doctors with adequate training and equipment to conduct clinical tests of new drugs should be authorized to do so. The FDA should be notified at once if there are bad side effects, and it should have the authority to call back a drug immediately if it is considered hazardous. These and other changes, including a substantial increase in FDA staff, ought to be made. The need has been heavily underscored by the thalidomide tragedy.

Lest We Forget Cuba

In the welter of nationalism, with a hundred nations or more demanding attention, Castro's Cuba seems to have been forgotten. This is a Communist base in the Western Hemisphere from which Fidel Castro and his associates are trying to develop a Caribbean lake designed to damage the United States.

There can be no question as to Castro's purpose. As far back as October 1961, a joint statement issued by Liu Shao-chi, Chairman of the Chinese People's Republic, and Osvaldo Dorticos Torrado, President of the Republic of Cuba, included the statement:

"The two parties noted with great pleasure that the strength of the socialist camp has increased rapidly and is becoming the decisive factor in the cause of defending world peace and human progress; that the revolutionary struggles of the oppressed nations and peoples of the world have become an irrestible torrent which is sweeping away the systems of imperialism and colonialism; and that the process of the disintegration and decline of imperialism is accelerating. The world situation is becoming more and more favorable to the cause of the people of the world who are striving for peace, democracy, national liberation, and socialism, and more and more disadvantageous to imperialism and all the reactionaries."

Further the statement said:

"Both parties agreed that the policies of aggression and imperialism, and especially of U.S. imperialism, are the chief factors threatening world peace and causing international tension. U.S. imperialism is the most vicious enemy of the people of the whole world. To carry out aggression and expansion abroad, it has organized aggressive military blocs, such as NATO, SEATO, and CENTO, signed bilateral or multilateral aggressive military agreements, and established its aggressive military bases on the territories of many countries. It has further used the so-called Berlin crises as a pretext to step up its arms expansion and war preparations and aggravate international tension. All this requires that the peace-loving countries and people of the whole world maintain constant vigilance."

In a word, the enemy of peace and progress is the United States. Everything this country has done or is doing is wrong. Castro joins with the enemies of the United States to denounce this country. The surprising fact is that there are still Americans who believe that Castro might not have been a Communist had the United States been more friendly to him. This is disproved by the record. Even more, in this joint statement with the Red Chinese appears this paragraph:

"The two parties exchanged opinions on the present situation in Latin America and were agreed that the great victory of the Cuban Revolution has set a brilliant example for the other Latin American peoples, that the struggles of the united Latin American peoples in defense of national independence and for democracy and freedom are developing on a wide scale and intensively, and that U.S. domination in Latin America has begun to collapse. However, the United States of America will never give up its colonialist policy of controlling and enslaving Latin America. The Kennedy administration is stepping up its machinations to isolate Cuba and strangle the Cuban Revolution and to suppress and wreck the national and democratic movements of the Latin American peoples. The two parties noted with satisfaction that in order to combat their common enemy — U.S. imperialism — the Latin American peoples are strengenthening their solidarity and mutual support more and more."

There it is — "the enemy — U.S. imperialism"! It is astonishing that all the United States has done for China and Cuba is forgotten in this misery of intensive nationalism overlaid by the bitterness of Marxism. We, who a few years ago were the friend, are now the enemy and we are a hated enemy. Let us not fool ourselves: that is our present status in both Red China and Cuba. Those who have tried to sell us something else have been belied by the Castro Cubans and Red Chinese.

For the United States, Communism must be regarded as principally an external question, as a factor in the Cold War, as perhaps the most vital instrument of the Cold War.

It is essential that our minds be devoted to those Communist developments outside the United States which affect us. Among them, Cuba is outstanding. It would be a national error to forget what harm Fidel Castro has done to the United States.

Hygiene, Medication, Minimize TB Spread

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—We have just learned that my husband has tuberculosis. We have two children and I am expecting a third in a month. What can be done to protect us from infection?

A—There are at least three general methods by which the dangers of a household spread of tuberculosis infection may be reduced almost to the vanishing point.

First, your husband must realize that tubercle bacilli may be present in his sputum and in the droplets he sprays when he coughs. Consequently it is his responsibility to destroy sputum at all times. When he coughs he must cover his mouth with a tissue that can promptly be burned. And when he kisses you or the children — which he must do as infrequently as possible — he must merely bestow a token caress on an indifferent area (top of head) with lips tightly pursed.

To supplement his efforts, you and the children may be protected both by vaccine (BCG) that will help you build your own defenses and by a drug that possesses the power of killing tubercle bacilli (tuberculocide). To give you an idea of the effectiveness of these antituberculous measures, let me quote from three recent reports:

At the Cook County Hospital in Chicago,, a comparison was made of the fate of BCG-vaccinated infants as compared with those who were unvaccinated and equally exposed.

Over a 23-year period of observation, the occurrence of tuberculosis was reduced 75 per cent in the vaccinated, who suffered only a single death, as against six in the group of the unvaccinated.

And, in a similar study, conducted in the province of Quebec, deaths from tuberculous meningitis were reduced from 133 in the nonvaccinated group to 6 of the vaccinated. From their experiences, the Canadian investigators concluded that, of the 543 deaths that occurred from all forms of tuberculosis during the seven-year period of observation, vaccination would likely have prevented 361 of the fatalities.

With the additional aid of a simple tuberculocidal drug (isoniazid or one of its relatives), that can be taken by mouth, the number of cases of active tuberculosis and/or deaths from tuberculosis may be reduced still further. Using the drug alone, the United States Public Health Service observed the effects on more than 25,000 household contacts. Only 9 drug-treated children and 14 adults developed the disease, against 16 children and 62 adults who did not receive tuberculocide.

Thus, you see, there is ample justification for my statement that, with combined vaccine and drug preventive therapies, the risk of an household spread of your husband's tuberculosis infection "may be reduced almost to the vanishing point."

"By the Way, When Does It Reach the Danger Point?"

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The annual home stretch sprint is now on in Congress with the money stakes running in billions.

The question before every candidate for reelection is whether to vote for bigger spending bills in Congress to show voters back home how much their representatives in Washington has done for his state and district.

The alternative is to vote big cuts on all appropriation bills in an appeal to economy-minded voters who think the government is already spending too much as it is.

Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., writes his constituents that the $885 million Interior appropriation bill just passed will give his state $11 million in nice, new, federal money.

Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., tells his state it will benefit by $297 million in payroll and $114 million in prime contracts from Department of Defense. Also, $6 million more for hospitals and and another $6 million for schools.

SIMILAR LETTERS are being sent by other congressmen to every state in the union for, so far, this has not been an economizing Congress. On the five appropriation bills for this year approved by Congress as this is written, the total of nearly $60 billion is $44 million above Kennedy budget requests.

These figures include a boost of $229 million to a total of $48.1 billion for Department of Defense. The other four bills appropriating the Legislative, Post Office, Interior, Labor, Health Education and Welfare funds were cut only $185 million below budget requests. Total for these appropriations: $11.8 billion.

House of Representatives has a pretty good record on cutting back money bills. It is the Senate which is profligate, restoring cuts which the House has to accept as a compromise.

Rep. Jerry Ford, R-Mich., has dug up figures to show that in the last 10 years, the Senate has raised House appropriations by $32 billion. In conference, the House has been able to make $10 billion of its cuts stick.

But the net effect is that the ment spending by a $2.2 billion-Senate has increased governa-year average over House-approved appropriations in the last decade.

THE OTHER SIDE of this story is that pressure is now building up in Congress for an all-out economy drive in the remaining weeks of this session. House Minority Leader Charles A. Halleck and others have declared open opposition to the quickie tax cut now being considered by President Kennedy. The Halleck alternativve is for a drastic cut in government spending. He can probably muster a lot of conservative Democratic as well as Republican support.

The trouble is that this idea comes pretty late in the session, after two-thirds of the money for this year's government operations has already been appropriated by Congress.

Another trouble is that the economizers have not come up with any carefully prepared, specific proposals on how much to cut or where the cuts should be made.

So if any reductions are made in this year's $93 billion budget, they will be by a slashing, meat ax attack, with ringing election year criticisms of Kennedy administration reckless extravagance with the taxpayers' money.

THE ADMINISTRATION'S $546 million request for fallout shelters has already been cut to $10 million. Land acquisition costs for three new government buildings in Washington have been eliminated, including one for the FBI, which needs more room and usually gets what it wants.

The President's request for $2 billion stand-by authority to start new public works in recessions is threatened.

The $500-million urban transportation measure is endangered. So are the wilderness preservation and land conservation for recreation programs.

The $2.6 billion college bill, now in conference, and the $1.2 billion programs for teacher training, elementary and secondary education grants are in jeopardy. So are medical and dental education aid and the Youth Conservation Corps.

On the other hand, the House Post Office Committee has tentatively approved a $1.2 billion pay increase for postal workers. So, there's no telling what the final score will be.

Supreme Court's Language Called Puzzling on Prayer

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Justice Tom C. Clark of the Supreme Court of the United States broke precedent the other day in discussing publicly the recent decision in the famous "school prayer" case. He said in a speech before the Commonwealth Club at San Francisco that errors in the public's interpretation of court decisions come sometimes largely because of "the haste with which news agencies are obliged to cover our announcements."

Justice Clark may not realize it, but much of the confusion and misinterpretation in this instance arose from statements by members of the court itself—the opinions written by Justice William O. Douglas who concurred with the majority, and by Justice Potter Stewart, who dissented. They did not prepare their opinions in haste. They had had an opportunity to examine carefully the majority opinion, written by Justice Black, before it was handed down by the court itself. The verbatim text of what Justice Clark said in his speech at San Francisco is now available. He declared flatly that the court had not outlawed religious observance in public schools, and then added:

"I make it a practice not to discuss specific cases. The best place to find out what they hold is in the opinion. But I do think it appropriate to say something in regard to this one. It came down on the last day of the term with some 15 other cases. The news announcements were not complete, most of them reciting the content of this 22-word prayer and the fact that the court had held it unconstitutional for a teacher to have her pupils recite it.

Pointed Criticism

"The public response was immediate and critical. The mail is heaviest in years, the criticism the most pointed. In fact, it was a case that would bring a Martin Luther to say of judges: 'A good jurist but a bad Christian.'

"But I found that as soon as the people understood the ruling the trend changed. In fact, most of my mail was favorable. This was because, I believe, that the news agencies began to interpret the decision in the light of the facts. Rather than jumping at the result and confusing the spiritual or ethical policy involved with the legal one decided, the public saw that here was a state-written prayer circulated to state-employed teachers with instructions to have their pupils recite it in unison at the beginning of each school day. True, a student might leave the room or not stand with his fellows and give the prayer. But could this be said to make it voluntary? . . .

"But whether the school prayer was voluntary or not was not decisive. The Constitution says that the government shall take no part in the establishment of religion. 'No' means 'no'. And, as I have indicated, as soon as the people learned that this was all the court decided—not that there could be no official recognition of a divine being or recognition on silver or currency of 'In God We Trust' or public acknowledgment that we are a religious nation—they understood the basis on which the court acted. The trouble is that so often—like the claim of the wife—the court is never understood."

But it is still a question whether the public understands the "school prayer" case. For what Justices Douglas and Stewart wrote has given rise to much of the continuing criticism inside and outside of Congress concerning the court's own opinion. Thus, Justice Stewart in his dissent said:

"With all respect, I think the court has misapplied a great Constitutional principle. I cannot see how an 'official religion' is established by letting those who want to say a prayer say it. On the contrary, I think that to deny the wish of these school children to join in reciting this prayer is to deny them the opportunity of sharing in the spiritual heritage of our nation. . . .

"The court today says that the state and Federal governments are without Constitutional power to prescribe any particular form of words to be recited by any group of the American people on any subject touching religion. The third stanza of 'The Star-Spangled Banner,' made our National Anthem by act of Congress in 1931, contains these verses . . . 'In God is our trust'."

Justice Stewart also cited the fact that Congress in 1954 amended the pledge of allegiance to the flag to read: "one nation under God, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

As for Justice Douglas, who "concurred" in the majority opinion of the court, he pointed out that what New York State was doing in opening its public school sessions each day with prayer is what is also done by each house of Congress and by the Supreme Court itself. He questioned the Constitutionality of this, too, and wrote:

"Yet for me the principle is the same, no matter how briefly the prayer is said, for in each of the instances given the person praying is a public official on the public payroll, performing a religious exercise in a governmental institution."

This correspondent, on the day after the court's opinion was handed down, wrote a dispatch for Wednesday, June 27, pointing out the narrow ground covered and stating his conclusion that voluntary prayer had not really been banned in the schools. But, as mentioned in this column on July 5, the public would be better served if the court's own opinion distinguished between the actual ruling in each case and the "dicta" or opinions or reasoning given by individual Justices. For the fault is not with the press or with the public, but with the complex and often ambiguous language in which the opinions of the Justices themselves are presented.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

LOS ANGELES—Richard Nixon's greatest political feat was his work with the House Committee on un-American Activities in exposing Alger Hiss and establishing the record on which Hiss was convicted of perjury with clear implications that he had traitorously delivered secret American documents to an agent of the Soviet Empire. Moscow has been the enemy of the United States ever since the original revolution in 1917 and this enemy never before has been as dangerous as it is today. But in the campaign for the Presidency in 1960, Nixon, the Republican candidate, doggedly and mysteriously refused to throw the issue of Communism into Candidate John Kennedy's teeth and thus to put Kennedy and his party on the defensive as the force which delivered vast, piteous masses of Humanity into slavery and reduced this nation to financial bankruptcy.

This year in his campaign against Pat Brown, a humdrum, orthodox Democratic incumbent for the governorship of California, Nixon thus far has followed the same line of reticence. Worst of all, however, in a letter to the Los Angeles Times, Nixon gratuitously insulted and repudiated an element of anti-Communist voters embraced in the John Birch Society. They obviously are numerous in Southern California and the Times, as well as Hearst's Los Angeles Examiner, now defunct, took occasion to attack them in articles in 1961.

The Society has been represented as a "mysterious" political element although it is no more secretive than the United Mine Workers or David Dubinsky's union of Ladies Garment Workers, which maintains its own State Department, or Foreign Office, in New York with embassies and secret agents in foreign countries, and operates a parasitic political party in the State of New York which seems capable of earmarking about 300,000 votes for the Democratic Party in important elections. Thus far the Birch Society has no demonstrated political strength at all and there has been no serious suggestion from any respectable political authority that it has at its command even a tenth of the amount of money which these two unions possess.

It is apparent that Nixon repudiated the Birch Society as a gesture to General Eisenhower in the hope that Ike would be persuaded to exert himself on Nixon's behalf in the California campaign. Robert Welch, the founder of the Birch Society, seems to have expressed a contemptuous political opinion of Ike in a private letter some time before the Society was founded. That at best accused Ike of toleration or "softness" toward Communism, a belief which I professionally hold. It would seem that Nixon went out of his way to offend the Birch people and thus cultivate Ike in the hope that, this time, Ike would bestir himself and hit the road on Nixon's behalf.

It is important to remember that a few days ago Ike admitted that one of the important mistakes of his own political career was his failure to go all out for Nixon against Kennedy in 1960. Obviously Nixon wants his energetic support this time—but was it necessary to turn away an element of rather primly Republican voters without positive assurance that Ike would get out and hustle this time and without any measure of the vote which Ike might deliver to Nixon in the Fall?

The Birch Vote has no alternative but to go fishing unless it is willing to consider that Nixon's reason for this insult was emotional and thus to forgive him—this time. It is hard for people of such conviction to go fishing when they may hold the balance of power. Each member finally decides for himself. No authority can issue orders. And if the Birch People should forgive Nixon and vote for him they might deliver the election to the Republican Party. Some of the Birch People now lean to this decision. They can't vote for Brown. Nixon can't retract his repudiation but he doesn't have to repeat it or emphasize it and by treading tactfully in the meanwhile he might mollify these people.

CHAPEL MADE OF ICE—One of the most unusual chapels in the world is located inside a glacier. It was built by volunteers at Camp Tuto, Greenland, summer base of the Army's Polar Research and Development Center. Every permanent article in the 13-foot-high, 10-foot-wide Gothic vault chapel was formed of ice. The altar, which weighs 700 pounds, was molded by combining water with ice chips hewn from the apse. Candlesticks were hand-rubbed to be as clear as fine glass. Lights reflecting against the ice and hoarfrost on walls give off striking hues of blue and green.

AnnounceFeature At Eastern States Fair Sept. 15-23

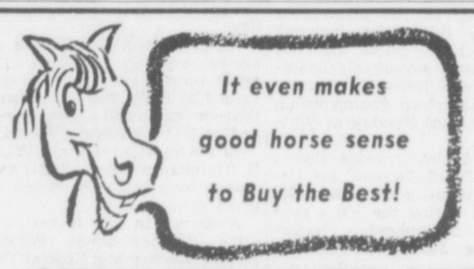

WEST SPRINGFIELD, Mass. —An educational exhibit known as the Country Farm Fair will be one of the many highlights of the Eastern States Exposition which is scheduled this year for Sept. 15-23.

Under the direction of Daniel P. Hurld, Jr., extension agent for Essex County in the Eastern End of the state, the exhibit is designed to give city-bred visitors to the huge Exposition a chance to see close-up the intricacies of such farm projects as horseshoeing, milking cows, plus horseback riding demonstrations in both English and American saddles.

Hurld acts as master of ceremonies at Country Farm Fair and keeps up a running commentary on events taking place. He also invites members of his audience to take part in the program by riding his horses and attempting to milk his cows. In addition, he tells from what part of a steer various cuts of beef come from and why there is a difference in their prices.

Honesty is the best policy, but it's surprising how many people think they can't afford the best.

Unusal TV Shows Due During the Coming Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — We're in for some rather unusual television entertainment this coming season, shows notable for omissions rather than excesses.

One new series, "Going My Way," is built around two Roman Catholic priests. The program will scrupulously avoid religious themes.

"The Virginian" has the usual cast of characters — the ranch-owner, the daughter, the foreman and his cowboy buddies. But the basic conflict will be the old West against the new, instead of the good guys against the bad ones.

"Combat" and "The Gallant Men," both about fighting men in World War II, will de-emphasize shot, shell and enemy action and, instead, explore personal relationships under foxhole conditions.

"Mr. Smith goes to Washington" concerns the adventures of a United States senator. But it will avoid all political themes. The hero's party affiliation will never be revealed nor will his state of origin.

Aim of Network

If you think these typical examples indicate a very bland diet of escape entertainment, be assured that this is exactly what network television has been hoping for.

This is the logical reaction to the lambasting the multimillion-dollar industry took from many quarters last season.

It was called a "vast wasteland" by a top administration official, followed by talk of stricter regulation of the public's air. There were Senate subcommittee hearings that produced headlines about concentration on television of unnecessary quantities of violence. There were complaints about controversial themes and stereotyping minorities, some accompanied by lawsuits, threats of boycott and, upon occasion, withdrawal of sponsors.

Was Worrisome

Although it was a profitable season, it was also a worrisome one. Now television, like a spanked child, is trying awfully hard to avoid more punishment.

The non-controversial, non-violent approach of the entertainment shows, together with an extra number of public affairs, current events and cultural programs may indeed take off some of the heat. Whether they will prove interesting to the millions who turn to television more for relaxation and amusement than for raising their sights—is another matter.

One of the nicest bits of news concerns the return to television of Marlin Perkins, the naturalist who too long ago went off the air with his "Zoo Parade." NBC will return him in a Sunday afternoon spot starting in January.

Library Accepts Vett Resignation

At the recent regular monthly meeting of the board of trustees of the Elting Memorial Library, President William Heidgerd read a letter of resignation from John Vett, who will leave New Paltz to take a position at the New York State Maritime College at Fort Schuyler.

The board accepted Mr. Vett's resignation with regret, and a vote of thanks was extended him for his outstanding work as chairman of the Library Building Fund which has been successfully completed.

The final report on the proceeds of the Elting Memorial Library Fair was given at this time. Louis LeFevre, Treasurer, reported that the Fair held in conjunction with the Library Youth Center Dedication netted $1,252.53.

Detailed report was as follows: Books—$129.84; Childrens Booth—$56.38; Opportunity Booth—$236.01; Jewelry—$189.54; Nursery for Children—$5.30; Ceramics—$11.00; Plants and Flowers—$130.00; Mrs. Earl Stokes garden—$20.00; Cake and Candy—$92.00; Jayncees Refreshment Booth — $116.11; Prizes—$229.30; Contributions—$29.75. Total receipts were $1,318.23. Expenses, $65.70. Leaving a net balance of $1,252.52.

A meeting of the fair committee and the board of trustees will be held on September 13.

A special meeting of New Paltz Central School Board was held recently to discuss with the architects, Fleming and Silverman, the new school building.

The architects feel that a conventional type building is more favorable than a steel-type structure. They feel that in a steel-type building more plans would be required and more time would be needed for bids as these bids would be limited.

As the site of the proposed new school is just outside the village limits and the village has restricted all water-rights outside the village, the possibility of wells was discussed and a comparison on the cost of wells will be investigated.

The board also resolved to ask Jack Erman of the New Paltz Grower's Inc., for a right of way of 50 feet in order to provide a turn-around space which is needed to meet the town's specifications.

The board approved hiring Crosby Wilkins to build the proposed road from the school site to Sunset Ridge. Following a survey, construction will be put out for bid. The Town Board has stated that as soon as the road meets the proper specifications it will be accepted.

A report was made from the committee seeking extra space for renting to be used as classrooms for next year to alleviate split sessions. It was felt that extra space would not provide the educational advances required such as library, special area teachers, school lunches and play areas. There would also be a mix up with bus transportation as the contract is already based on split sessions.

Bids were awarded to the following companies: General Baking Company for bread items; Meadow Valley Stock Farm for milk; Breyer Ice Cream Company for ice cream products.

The board has also approved the following resolutions:

To send a check in the amount of $8,240 to Architects Flemming and Silverman for work completed on the preliminary drawings for the new school building; that a tax anticipation note in the amount of $25,000 be approved from the State of New York National Bank, Huguenot Branch at three and one-half per cent interest; $20,000 of this to be deposited in the construction fund and $5,000 in the general fund.

That the bid for fluorescent fixtures for the high school be awarded to Matthew Fairweather in the amount of $3,587; that the bid for blacktop be given to Abram Paradies, Inc., in the amount of $1,910; contract for roof repairs to Nardone Building Maintenance Company of Poughkeepsie in the amount of $1,-711.15; that the Industrial Arts contract go to the following: Electra Supply Co., for $67.31. Neil and Spanjer, $78.50. Broadhead Garrett Co., $649.50, and Patterson Brothers in the amount of $202.65.

The following committees have been appointed with the person named first to act as chairman: Auditing, Ralph Buchanan and Richard Fall; Building and Grounds, Richard Fall and Joseph Foley; Transportation, Robert Reid Jr., and Jay LeFevre; Faculty Liaison, Dr. William Hagney, Mrs. Nathan Stillman and Ralph Buchanan; Citizens' Committee Liaison, Jay LeFevre, Mrs. Stillman and Ralpt Buchanan; Policy, Ralph Buchanan, Dr. Hagney and Richard Fall; School Evaluation, George Langwick, Dr. Hagney and Robert Reid; Construction Committee, Joseph Foley, Richard Fall, Robert Reid, Jay LeFevre; Co-Ordinations, Public Relations and Publicity, Mrs. Stillman; Insurance, Robert Reid Jr.; Education Law, Dr. Hagney; Co-Op. Board, George Langwick.

The board also approved the following purchase orders: Parallel Bars and Conversion Kit in the amount of $586, Mats for gym horse amounting to $210 and three biology tables for $372.

The following checks were also approved: Nationwide Co. Inc., Workmen's Compensation Insurance Policy, $1,327.37; New York State Insurance Tax Bureau, $2,-492.00 Abram Paradies, $138.00, Crosby Wilkin in the amount of $635.00.

Representing the First Fleet, the ship is one of many ships which took more than 3,000 Bluejackets to the Northwest for the event.

The "Mardi Gras of Seattle," the Sea Fair will be highlighted by the world's championship unlimited hydroplane race on Lake Washington.

Lawson I. Avery, boilerman third class, USN, nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Avery of 761 Abeel Street and Dennis W. Longendyke, radarman seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold K. Longendyke of 50 German Street, both of Kingston, were serving aboard a heavy cruiser when she returned to San Diego, Calif., recently after three and one-half years of service with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.

The ship arrived in the U. S. from Yokosuka, Japan, flying a homewardbound pennant 674 feet in length. Because the vessel was homeported in the Far East longer than any major combatant ship since before World War 2, this pennant is one of the longest ever flown.

The pennant, which measures one foot for every man aboard who has served more than nine months outside the U. S., was cut up and distributed to the crew upon arrival at San Diego.

The ship will now enter the Long Beach Naval Shipyard for an overhaul and is scheduled to return to duty as a fleet flagship next spring.

Nut Production

Production of the four major edible tree nuts (almonds, filberts, pecans and walnuts) set a new record high of 270,930 tons in the U.S during 1961. This was 18 per cent greater than the 1960 crop and 25 per cent above the 1950-1960 average crop, according to the 1962 Britannica Book of the Year.

Ike Good Until 18th, Plays His Partner's Ball

BY EDDY GILMORE

SUNNINGDALE, England (AP) —Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower executed some beautiful golf shots here today—but pulled a boner on the 18th hole by mistakenly playing his partner's ball.

His partner was Sir James Gault, an old friend and former military aide.

Ike never knew the difference.

The former president teamed up with Sir James against U.S. Adm. H. P. Smith and Freeman Gosden, of the old Amos and Andy American radio team.

"I'm afraid we've all got bad scores," said Gosden, "but the general really played some marvelous shots."

On this course, the west 18 of the Wentworth Golf Club, a bad score is understandable. It is 6,936 yards long, with numerous traps and plenty of woods. Golfing champion Arnold Palmer once described it as one of the toughest anywhere.

It was the former president's first golf game since he arrived Friday on his European tour.

As in America, Ike used an electric golf cart—but not all the time. Between most of the holes, he walked. His pace was brisk and he certainly didn't look his 71 years.

When photographers closed in, he didn't appear worried and got off a 210-yard drive, slightly hooked. The ball ended up in the fairway, but near the rough.

With the cameramen begging for more pictures, and Ike smilingly accommodating by waving and doffing his cap at their orders, he must have gotten confused.

He walked up to a ball in the middle of the fairway and, for his second shot, sliced and got into the bushes on the other side of the fairway. He played out well and then got on to the green.

In the meanwhile, his partner was searching for his ball—which had been straight down the fairway.

Finally a caddy called and whispered: "I'm afraid the general's played your ball, sir."

Sir James smiled and shrugged. No scores were announced.

Anniversary

meted troops being deployed on streets leading to the wall.

The Western reinforcements were ordered up after thousands of booing, shouting persons massed along the wall.

At least 15,000 West Berliners were at various points on the wall, witnesses estimated.

Traffic and work had halted for three minutes in West Berlin to mark the anniversary.

Erupts Into Noisy Time

What was planned by authorities as a quiet observance of the anniversary erupted into a noisy demonstration. At the Friedrichstrasse, West Berlin motorists blew their horns for 50 minutes.

People streamed to the wall. They shook their fists, shouted in chorus and waved to any East Berliners they could see.

They booed some Soviet soldiers in a Red army car caught in the stalled traffic.

The crowd hurled insults at four Soviet staff cars driving to Friedrichstrasse to cross into East Berlin. The cars were spat on. Men shouted "pigs" and unprintable expressions at the Russians.

Remember Injustice

In a broadcast carried by all radio stations, Mayor Willy Brandt said: "In this minute we all remember the bitter injustice which has been done our city. We think about our relatives and friends, about our countrymen, who by brutal force are separated from us, and we honor the victims of the wall."

Wreaths were placed along the wall in memory of at least 37 people who have died on it during its year of existence.

One East German guard on the wall marked the day by jumping across the barricade to asylum in West Berlin.

Many West Berliners turned up Sunday evening to wave across the wall to relatives.

Leaflets calling for a rally in West Berlin this evening were distributed. They were signed by the "Committee for an Indivisible Berlin." Police said the rally had not been licensed.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer called on the world never to forget the 17 million people living as in a prison in Red-ruled East Germany.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market edged upward in continued slow trading early this afternoon.

Most of the advances were less less than a point. The list opened mixed but some small losses were erased during the morning.

There was a little more activity than on Friday when total volume dipped to a 2½-month low.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was higher by .3 at 218.2 with industrials ahead .6, rails up .1 and utilities unchanged.

The weekend news of Russia's twin orbital spaceshot failed to cause much excitement in the market. Some aerospace issues that might benefit from increased U.S. expenditures in that field gained.

Brokers said however, that most investors were sitting tight to see what President Kennedy would say tonight about his tax cut plans. Most analysts are convinced there will be no cut this year.

Some of the savings and loan holdings companies pushed upward around mid-day. The group has been the subject of a number of market letter recommendations in recent days.

Financial Federation and Great Western Financial were ahead more than 1 while United Financ added about ½.

McDonnell Aircraft was ahead close to 1½.

2 Soviet Astronauts Still Up

tary satellites that would home on such spy-in-the-sky satellites as the U.S. Midas and Samos and destroy them.

Soviet announcements so far gave no indication when the two spaceships would be brought to earth.

Won't Come Down Today

An informed Soviet source said he believed the two cosmonauts would not come down today.

Sir Bernard Lovell, director of Britain's Jodrell Bank radio telescope, said in London Sunday he had been advised by Moscow sources that the flights would continue "a few days."

A U.S. tracking station near Johannesburg, South Africa, calculated from the orbits that both astronauts took off from a launching site in the Baikonur area near the Armenian border.

Robert Citron, chief of the Smithsonian Institution station, predicted the two ships would land near Krasny Kut, in the southeastern part of the Soviet Union.

Nikolayev told control headquarters he could see Popovich's ship through his porthole as the two ships hurtled through space completing each earth orbit in slightly more than 88 minutes.

14 Miles Higher

At its maximum orbital height of 157 miles, Vostok IV was 14 miles higher than Vostok III. They reached a minimum orbital height of 112 and 111 miles respectively.

The faces of both spacemen were flashed on Soviet television screens during their journey. The transmissions showed them doing such tasks as manipulating what appeared to be log books.

At one point, they carried on a three-way radio chat with Yuri Gagarin, the first man in space.

"Everything is fine, friends," Gagarin said. "Congratulations, till we meet on the earth.

"I watch the earth from the clouds," said Popovich. "To the right in the illuminator (porthole) I see the black, black sky. My spirits are wonderful. Everything goes on excellently."

Nikolayev broke in with: "Everything is excellent. I hear you excellently. My spirits are excellent."

Nikita Stands

are 739 higher educational institutions—and the lights burn long on the six-hour day, six-day week schedule. One of the most impressive sights in the Soviet Union is the University of Moscow.

Over the 15 republics of the Soviet Union there is a new skyline — thousands upon thousands of apartment houses.

Push Housing Program

It is the Russians' desperate drive to solve their gravest problem, housing.

If the goal is achieved 22 million apartments will be occupied by the end of 1965, conclusion of the current seven-year plan.

But construction in the main is appallingly bad and crude. Maintenance of the hastily built apartments and buildings is even worse. It is practically nil.

Mass transportation in the Soviet Union is skillfully handled, with equipment that outshines that of many American cities.

It is a fortunate man, indeed, who owns an automobile in the Soviet Union. Consequently, the burden falls on subways, motor-driven and electric buses, electric street cars, superb railroads and the one and only state-owned airline, Aeroflot.

Ninety-nine per cent of the Soviets rely on public transportation —and they get the best the state can offer.

What is the conclusion to be drawn after seeing, first hand, the fountain of communism in the Soviet Union?

Crises, tensions, and struggles for the minds of uncommitted peoples will be the world's sad lot for some time to come.

War? No signs of it — but the threat of it to plague mankind, perhaps interminably.

Communism, despite platitudes of "peaceful coexistence," plans faithfully to follow its original course—domination of the world.

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — South Viet Nam reported today its forces fought a heavy clash with the Viet Cong last Thursday in the southern province of Ba Xuyen and killed 21 of the Communists.

Rocket Firm Head Thinks Russians Ahead

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — A rocket manufacturing firm executive has suggested that Russia's latest successful manned orbital flights may mean the Soviet Union is ahead of the United States in a vital space field.

Robert B. Young, vice president and manager of the liquid rocket plant at Aerojet-General Corp., says they may have developed a cyclical life support system.

Young said the U.S. has been working on a system to produce food and water, needed to sustain life on long flights to the moon and beyond.

Cairo Youth Is Injured in Auto Mishap Saturday

A 20-year-old Cairo youth suffered a broken ankle at 4 p. m. Saturday, when the car in which he was riding went out of control and overturned off Route 20, Town of Durham.

Leeds State Police said Hans Valestine, of Cairo, was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital, Catskill, and treated for a broken ankle. William Trepel, 19, of East Durham, driver of the 1956 vehicle owned by Rita Russell, also of East Durham, apparently escaped injury.

Trepel was driving east on Route 20 when the accident occurred.

Dog Killed, Driver Runs

Area police today sought the driver of a car charged with leaving the scene after striking a dog on Washington Avenue early Sunday. A police report at 3:45 a. m., said Mrs. Joseph J. McConnell, of McConnell's Restaurant, 440 Washington Avenue, said her registered Doberman Pincher was struck and killed by a 1955 black and white Oldsmobile, and it continued out Route 28 without stopping. The dog was valued at approximately $400. Officers Vincent Eckert and Edward Edwards investigated for local police. The sheriff's office and state police were notified.

Dutchess Woman Saves Va. Youth From Drowning

An 8-year-old Virgina boy was rescued from drowning Saturday after he accidentally fell into 17 feet of water in the east branch of the Wappingers Creek at Hibernia Dam.

Mrs. Simon Race had left her home on Hibernia Road, Town of Clinton, with her 10-year-old daughter, Nancy when she heard Michael Melville, a neighbor, shouting for help. Mrs. Race saw the almost motionless boy in the water and she dashed to the creek and jumped in, fully clothed.

Mrs. Race swam about 15 feet and grabbed the boy and brought him back to shore. She applied artificial respiration and revived the boy.

Michael's father, Joseph E. Melville, Alexandria, Va., is spending the summer in Hibernia Road, while attending classes at the International Business Machines Corp. He said his son and Roger White, 10, of Millbrook, went hunting snake skins when Michael fell into the water.

Margaret Reynolds, 47, of Broadway, Port Ewen, reported a neck injury, in a mishap early Saturday afternoon at Broadway and the arterial route interchange. Officers Harry Short and Kenneth Radel listed her as the driver of the one car and the other was operated by Ronald Green Jr., 23, of 30 Warren Street. The Reynolds car, the report said, was "stopped in a line of traffic for a signal light and was struck in the rear" by the other car. She was to be treated by a doctor.

Myron Greenspan, 20, of 2139 East 13th Street, Brooklyn, was booked as an unlicensed operator after a mishap on Washington near Hurley Avenue, Saturday. Officers Harry Short and Kenneth Radel said a car driven by Arthur Saver, 60, of 156 Homecrest Avenue, Trenton, N. J. was "attempting to park when it was hit in the left rear" by the car operated by Greenspan. The latter posted $20 bail for city court appearance Wednesday.

Police said a car struck a pole Sunday afternoon at Spring and Wurts Street when a dog ran into the road. The car was driven by Josephine V. Carlton, 41, of Salem Street, Port Ewen, and was making a left turn from Wurts into Spring Street, when the dog ran into its path, the report said. Officer George Barringer investigated.

Donald Wenzel, 8, son of former Alderman and Mrs. Joseph Wenzel, 122 Hasbrouck Avenue, who was injured last Tuesday when he came in contact with a moving car at Hasbrouck Avenue and Theresa Lane, was reported still in critical condition today at the Benedictine Hospital. He is under treatment for internal, head and face injuries.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING...

ROGER E. SPEAR

Diversification Is Clue To Spreading Risk

Q) "I have about 90 per cent of my funds in International Business Machines and wonder if it would be wise to shift part of my holdings. What would you think of American Telephone 4¼ convertible debentures of 1973? Or would you suggest getting out of the market completely this summer?" R. N.

A) As older readers of this column know, I am all for diversification as a means of spreading investment risk. On this account, I believe you would do well to lighten your commitment in I.B.M. The Telephone 4¼'s of 1973 are convertible at 47½, which means 21 shares for each $1,000 bond. At present the bonds sell at $2,930 each and the shares into which they can be converted are worth $2,380. This seems much too high a premium to pay and I would prefer to switch directly into Telephone common. I wouldn't get out of the market completely this summer, but I would certainly hold strong cash reserves.

Q) I would like to know more about tax-exempt bonds, how they are priced and how many must be bought at a given time." M. V.

A) Tax-exempt bonds come in all shapes and sizes. Their price depends on three factors: (1) their credit standing, (2) maturity date, and (3) scarcity value. Most municipal dealers and buyers use Moody's ratings as a general classification of credit. Bonds which have been given the "AAA" rating, such as the State of New York's are of the highest quality; "AA" rated bonds, which would include the State of California's are next highest! "A" rated bonds which would include such bonds as the New York City's and Philadelphia's are next. Most tax-exempt municipals are quoted on a yield basis rather than a dollar price. They come generally in $1,000 denominations, but I would advise you to buy in units of $5,000. Lesser amounts are referred to as odd lots, and they are sometimes hard to dispose of.

Mr. Spear cannot answer mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Kennedy May

Kennedy would seize this opportunity.

Dissatisfaction No Secret

To date, Kennedy merely has said he will seek a top-to-bottom cut in individual and corporate tax rates, effective next Jan. 1. He also has promised the resulting revenue loss would be only partly offset by elimination of certain special tax benefits now available to limited numbers of taxpayers.

While Kennedy could point tonight to record July prosperity, in terms of production and income, he has made no secret of his dissatisfaction with recent economic growth.

It seemed likely that Kennedy would urge favorable action on a bill to encourage business investment in more modern equipment, by offering them tax credits. The Treasury has put great stock in this measure, coupled with the recent reform of tax depreciation guide lines, as a means of promoting growth.

Glaring

some of his major proposals in any campaigning he does for a number of Democrats up for re-election.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., who got Kennedy's personal help in the primary, still is explaining his vote against the administration's health care bill. However, Smathers is not likely to need any presidential aid in the general election.

The President already has been to Arizona to endorse the re-election bid of Democratic Sen. Carl Hayden. That was before Hayden voted to kill the health care bill.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., has led the fight against a communications satellite bill the President has put on his must list for passage by this Congress.

The guessing is that Kennedy will decide to take the bad with the good and plug with varying degrees of enthusiasm for the election of Democrats wherever he may be campaigning.

In Hollywood—

Funerals Can Be Dignified, Or They Can Get Out of Hand

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There was a sequence in "A Star is Born"—both the Janet Gaynor and the Judy Garland versions—in which the movie actress is mobbed at the funeral of her actor-husband.

Outlandish? Over - dramatic? Alas, it was not far from the truth.

The least attractive aspect of covering the Hollywood scene is reporting funerals. I have seen all kinds, from those marked by quiet dignity to ones that seemed right out of "A Star is Born."

Last week's services for Marilyn Monroe were conducted in a decorous manner with little of the bad taste that can affect such events. The small cemetery was heavily policed, on the outside by Los Angeles officers and the inside by policemen assigned from several studios.

None of the public was admitted within the cemetery walls. Those who waited outside the gate or watched over the walls were properly subdued. Perhaps if was the heat (93 degrees) or the lack of star names or the realization of the tragedy involved.

Unruly at Power Rites

The all-time low was reached with rites for Tyrone Power. That day could have made a misanthrope of Dr. Schweitzer.

All the creeps were out in force, and little effort was made to keep them in check. They swooped through the cemetery to stare at the interment, stamping over graves and knocking down flowers. One bystander was pushed in a lake.

The funerals of Lionel and Ethel Barrymore, figures of massive dignity in their lifetimes, were both marred by noisy, restive crowds that drowned out the religious intonations within the church. After both occasions, the mob swept through the place like locusts and picked the floral sprays clean.

A Hollywood synagogue was the scene of a near-riot the day Al Jolson was buried. A screaming crowd, largely of middle-aged females, had to be pushed away from the doors after the place became filled.

There Have Been Exceptions

These have been the exceptions, I'm happy to say. In most cases the undertakers and—or the studios involved have the good sense to take precautions against the depredations of the mob. It is easily managed: By keeping the public a respectful distance from the place of mourning.

There have been many funerals of Hollywood famous in recent times and most have been conducted in a fitting manner. Those of Clark Gable, Gary Cooper, Errol Flynn and others have been without embarrassing events.

To my mind the most appropriate of final rites was conducted for Humphrey Bogart. His wasted body was buried in complete privacy. His many friends gathered for a memorial service in a Beverly Hills church. John Huston delivered a touching tribute. Bogie was represented by a replica of his much-loved boat, the Santana.

The saddest of all Hollywood funerals ..e for those the crowd has passed by. You don't forget the sparse mourners for onetime greats like D. W. Griffith and Mack Sennett.

Former Health Official Dies in Albany at 74

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Dr. Walter J. Craig, former director of the Division of Orthopedics of the State Health Department, died unexpectedly Saturday at St. Peter's Hospital. He was 74.

Dr. Craig joined the health department in 1927 and remained with it until his retirement in 1944. Since then, he had been in private practice in Albany and later in Schenectady.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME (Registered U. S. Patent Office) By JIMMY HATLO

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—When President Kennedy tells the nation tonight just what date he thinks the Congress should cut tax rates and why, he'll be ending one episode in the summer's best ballyhooed cliffhanger.

But, like the old movie serials, he may leave as many or more questions than he answers:

What will Congress do? Will tax cuts now or next January be linked with tax reforms that close some loopholes—that is, cost some individuals or industries more? Will a tax cut, when and if voted by Congress, give the economy a real boost or just a trouble-breeding treasury deficit? Will it stave off a recession so many fear, either later this year or sometime in 1963?

Has Much Information

The President has more information than presently available to any outside the government, or to most within it. But the statistics which swayed his decision of necessity reflected the past—some gathered a month ago, a few even farther back.

Some, like orders for durable goods or government spending plans, give a clue to what is likely to happen in the future—but even those are subject to change, either up or down. Historical patterns also offer warnings or promises—although since World War II business history hasn't repeated itself in the precise cyclical ways the economists once preached.

Businessmen will take close note of the President's decision, even if they differ among themselves as to his reasons for it. The stock market especially is likely to react to his prediction of the course the economy seems to be taking and to his plans for guiding or changing that course, if those contain any surprises.

Conflicting Factors

But since World War II, businessmen have had to learn to live with two sometimes conflicting factors:

1. Day by day changes, often unpredictable and in unlikely corners of the world, can upset well laid plans more quickly now than in the past.

2. Many of the old influences have lost their zip, or have been dulled by economic tranquilizers.

Recessions or booms, therefore, aren't as predictable as before, nor as strong as a given set of circumstances once would have assured.

Entirely new forces in the world today give different coloring to old economic indicators. What the Common Market in Europe can do, what the Soviet Union may do, what forces the U.S. government may bring into play, all can soften the impact of a recession or curb the zest of a boom.

But this doesn't mean that reading the economic tea leaves is any easier.

Nor does President Kennedy's decision on the timing of a tax cut change all the forces pressing on the economy, some pushing it higher and some holding it back.

The economic story is still a serial—and for some time to come is likely to continue to be a cliffhanger.

FOOD FOR FAIR—Twelve-year old Sharon Duffy of the Hurley Bluebirds 4-H Club bakes molasses cookies for the Ulster County Fair Aug. 15 and 16 at Forsyth Park. She will be among the many county 4-H girls entering cooking and food exhibits. Food demonstrations will be given by 4-H members Wednesdday all day and Thursday 9 to 5 p. m. at the 4-H Club tent. (Freeman photo).

4-H Members Getting Ready For County Fair

County fair time is close at hand, and proves itself to be a busy time for area 4-H Club girls.

Preparations for food entries are numerous as the 4-H homemakers practice their baking and food preparations skills and complete the preservation of garden vegetables and fruits, or jams, marmalades and preserves. Each member seeks to utilize the knowledge and skill she has learned from her local 4-H Club Leaders teaching of this year's foods projects at her club meetings. All club entries must comply with the County Fair 4-H premium listings, and also be an exhibit of the products studied in the foods project in which the member has been enrolled this year. Practice teaches skill and understanding of the science of foods and nutrition. It assists the member in developing standards for their products. Each 4-H'er strives to enter her very best exhibit for judging at the fair.

The 4-H Club foods program is a popular one in Ulster County. Its importance as an educational program is shown through the results of member participation in activities and learnings in this field of study. Nutrition is an important phase of the foods program, as girls 9-21, learn the value of balanced meals and wholesome food nutrients in the growing teenage diet. Learning to plan, select, and prepare foods with nutritional value also demands skill, in retaining the color, shape and nutrients in the food products. Members also learn how to bake a better cake, pie or loaf of bread, by concentrating on the science of the ingredients used, and their function and value in the baked product.

Supplementing the regular foods project activity is the 4-H demonstration program. Demonstrations in foods include a variety of offerings. The local cherry pie bake held each fall and the apple pie bake prior to the Horticultural Show, both concentrate on pantomime demonstrating of skill and technique, along with the mastery of an excellent finished product. The county demonstration day is when members teach others what they have learned in foods projects with talking demonstrations. From this event opportunities for district and state participation of older members is made possible.

Demonstrations at Fair

Foods demonstrations will be given by 4-H members at the county fair. This activity will take place all day Wednesday and from 9 to 5 p. m. on Thursday, in the food booth of the 4-H Club Tent. Dishes to be shown include cakes, cookies, pastry, bread, salads and other one-dish meals. The products demonstrated will be baked in the booth and sold to the public. Also on sale in the food booth will be many homemade baked goods made by 4-H Club members. The food booth is sponsored by the Ulster County 4-H Club Leaders Association and will be directed by Mrs. William Larshen, Stone Ridge, local leader and 4-H Club executive committee member. All proceeds received from this stand will be turned over to the county 4-H Club camp fund.

Luck Factor Gains Points

By OSWALD JACOBY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

This week's series will discuss hands from the World Championship match between Italy and the United States last winter. This was played on International Match Points, or IMPs, in which the point differences on a hand were worth a certain number of IMPs.

Italy jumped off to a one IMP lead on the first hand. The American East-West pair reached two spades without any interference bidding by Italy and made their contract for a score of plus 110.

At the other table the American South chose to double the one heart opening and eventually the American North became declarer at three clubs. East opened the spade ace and continued with the ace and another heart. The eventual result was down three for a loss of 150. This left a net loss to American of 40 points which is one IMP.

The strategy represented by South's double with only 12 points and a balanced hand is rather doubtful, but if North had not run into a cross ruff he would have been down only one trick and America would have shown a profit rather than a loss. Thus, the match opened with a lucky result for Italy.

Railroads Given Right to Cut Rates On Drought Hay

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Railroads have received permission from the Interstate Commerce Commission to reduce freight rates by 25 per cent for hay shipped to drought areas in New York State.

The ICC action was announced Sunday by Joseph Sugden, chairman of the State Disaster Committee.

To receive the reduction, Sugden said, a farmer must present a certificate of entitlement signed by an official of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service in his county.

The U.S. Agriculture Department has designated 34 counties in the state as drought-disaster areas. As a result, farmers in the counties may graze livestock and cut hay on lands retired under the soil bank and other federal programs.

The freight-rate reductions are available to farmers in the same 34 counties, Sugden said.

Training Institute Planned by Rocky For Youth Help

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller has announced establishment of a training institute to help meet the growing need of several state agencies for experienced youth-workers.

Rockefeller said Sunday that "increasing demands ... have spread the supply of able, experienced youth - worker personnel ever thinner."

Rockefeller appointed Robert Coulson of New York City to assist in organizing the institute. It will be administered by the governor's interdepartmental Committee on Youth, headed by Alexander Aldrich. Aldrich is director of the Division for Youth.

The governor said the institute would be "broadly experimental and will draw upon the experiences of the academic and applied youth-serving fields."

To Prepare Exam For Determining College Degrees

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State Education Department has appointed Norman D. Kurland of Boulder, Colo., to develop an examination for students who do college work independently or by television.

The test would enable the state to determine whether a person who did not attend college regularly was entitled to a degree.

A person might attain college-level proficiency through adult education courses or courses offered by industry, as well as by television.

Kurland, 34, will be paid $15,000 a year. The appointment was announced Sunday.

Watching Family That Had Contact With Meningitis

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A family of six has been placed under medical observation here because of their contact with a victim of spinal meningitis in Massachusetts.

However, health officials said Sunday they doubted that Vincent Barone, a history professor, his wife, or their four children had caught the disease.

Police in Bedford, Mass., said one of the Barone children had played with a three-year-old child there who had been stricken with spinal meningitis.

They relayed a warning to the Barones through Syracuse police Saturday night. The Barones went at once to Syracuse City Hospital for tests. They returned home afterward.

The outcome of the tests has not been learned, but doctors expressed the belief that there was no danger to the Barones because of the brief contact with the child in Bedford.

Derived From Initials

The word "posh" derives from the initials of the phrase "port out, starboard home." The phrase was stamped on the cabin tickets of passengers sailing through the Red Sea. Westerly winds, which provided relief from the heat, blew on port cabins of ships sailing out and on starboard cabins of ships sailing home to England.

Murrow Rules Self Out Again For Senate Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward R. Murrow, director of the U.S. Information Agency, once again has ruled himself out as a possible Democratic candidate for the U.S. Senate from New York State.

Murrow said Sunday that a candidate for public office must have "a certain appetite and a special temperament."

"I have neither one," he said.

Murrow made the comments in reply to a question from Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., during a program taped here for use by New York State radio and television stations.

Murrow also said he does not plan to seek the nomination in 1964, when Keating will be up for re-election.

However, the former radio and television personality added:

"I have never had a horizon of more than 90 days."

Why We Say--

LONG STRING: We refer to a cord of wood as a measurement today in allusion to the fact that at one time a cord of string was used to measure a pile of wood. A cord of wood is 8 feet long, 4 feet wide and 4 feet deep.

Two Station Wagons To Replace Cadillacs

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The Guilderland Central School District has bought two station wagons and intends to deprive Walter F. Wessendorf Jr., a lawyer, out of a job.

Wessendorf was the center of a furor last year when he bid $1,300 and won a contract from the school district to drive his two daughters to a private school in Albany.

One other bid was received.

The girls, Marcia, 8, and Chanty, 6, attended Albany Academy for girls, which is about eight miles from their home in suburban Westmere.

Under state law, a school district is required to provide transportation for pupils at non-public schools that are within 10 miles of their homes.

Wessendorf used his two Cadillacs to fulfill the contract.

Alton U. Farnsworth, school district superintendent, said Saturday the station wagons had been purchased as an economy move.

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—The Aluma Craft Boat Division of Hupp Corp. of Minneapolis, Minn., has been bought by Alpex Corp. of Rochester.

Officials of both companies, in disclosing the sale Sunday, said Aluma was bought for more than $2 million.

Aluma manufactures aluminum and fiber glass boats up to 20 feet long. Alpex, which already makes a lightweight sailboat, produces plastic products here and in Bayonne, N.J.

Taxpayers Endorse Winston Site; Seek Traffic Relief

The Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association is the latest area organization to endorse the Winston property at Saugerties as the site for the proposed Ulster County Community College.

A resolution endorsing the site and calling on the college's Board of Trustees to make an early selection of the Winston site was passed at the annual meeting of the taxpayers group, Saturday night at Deanie's.

A second resolution authorized a committee to draw up a petition to the New York State Traffic Commission seeking special consideration for the Township of Woodstock with respect to alleviating dangerous traffic conditions in the township.

On the Winston site resolution, several members of the taxpayer group who had inspected the Saugerties property said it was an ideal location for a college campus. They said the generous offer of 50 acres of land and a magnificent building would mean a saving of at least $200,000 to county taxpayers. If the building is rejected, a gift of $50,000 plus the 50 acres will be available. It was the unanimous opinion of the members present that no site in Ulster County could compare with he Winston property, if the final selection is made on merit and nothing else.

Individual members of the organization were also urged to write letters to Harry Rigby Jr., chairman of the selections committee, endorsing the Winston site.

Ask Quick Action

The resolution endorsing the site will ask speedy selection of of a site, since, it was felt, the longer the decision is delayed, the bigger a political football the issue will become.

The association took cognizance of two negative State Traffic Commission reports on the Woodstock traffic situation.

It was the feeling of the group, however, that despite these reports, the citizens of Woodstock should not be deterred in their efforts to eliminate dangerous traffic bottlenecks and intersections. It noted that the Rotary Club had recently petitioned the Town Board on the subject.

It was felt that, if enough local organizations and individuals protest to the State Traffic Commission, some concessions may be made by the state group. The association felt that since the Town Board has indicated it will not pursue the matter further, local organizations and individuals should continue the fight to have the traffic blight of Woodstock alleviated.

The mere fact that Woodstock does not meet state minimum requirement on traffic density and other factors should not consign the township to these conditions now and forever, it was decided.

Re-Elect Melia To Second Term As WTTA Prexy

John Melia of Lake Hill was re-elected president of the Woodstock Township Taxpayers Association at the annual election meeting Saturday night at Deanie's.

Also re-elected were Lawrence G. Casey, Lake Hill, vice president, and Mrs. Frederick P. Platt, secretary. Arthur P. Shepard was named treasurer.

Six members were elected to the Board of Directors as follows: Fred G. Freitag, Karl Sieger, William Rudman, Benjamin Merch, Charles Greco and Alexander Settino. A seventh member will be named at the September meeting.

The resignations of James McVitty and Albert Jacquez were accepted.

Mrs. Fred Freitag, chairman of the bake sale, reported a profit of $32.66. She also read a detailed report on expenditures by the organization during the past fiscal year. She and her committee were given a vote of thanks.

Fred G. Freitag, delegate to the New York State Taxpayers Association convention at Schenectady, said the association is concentrating its heaviest fire on the Housing Bill amendment to be submitted to the voters this fall.

Freitag said the bill is designed to expand housing for middle income brackets, since very few vacancies now exist in lower income brackets. The bill, however, stipulates that 10 percent of the building in the new program be made available to lower income families.

Banquet Saturday

Freitag also reported progress on the Association's annual banquet next Saturday night, Aug. 18, at Deanie's. Councilman William West Jr., will be the toastmaster and the dinner is open to the public.

J. Stewart Slocum of Zena won the annual bond award of the club and Mrs. J. Monroe Longendyke won second prize of $10 in cash.

The president was instructed to address a letter to Supervisor Molyneaux asking for a reply to an earlier letter addressed to him seeking clarification of the status of individual members of the Planning Board in lawsuits involving the board and petitioners.

At the June meeting of the Town Board, the supervisor promised vice president Casey that an answer would be forthcoming in 30 days. The association has not received a reply.

During the discussion president Melia and ex-president Casey pointed out that communication from the association to the supervisor have been largely ignored in the past. Casey said that on one occasion he was given an answer to a letter by telephone. On another occasion, Melia recalled, he was told that letters could not be answered because the supervisor did not have a secretary.

Conservatives Meet Tonight; File State Suit

The Conservative Party Club of Woodstock will elect officers for the coming year at an open meeting tonight at 8:30 at Deanie's.

Besides the election of officers, the agenda includes: introduction of new members, kickoff of the Conservative Party and adoption of a petition of support of the following state candidates of the Conservative Party:

For governor, David H. Jaquith; lieutenant-governor, E. Vernon Carbanara; comptroller, Thomas D. Cole; attorney general, Frederick S. Dennin, U. S. Senator, Keiran O'Doherty.

William A. Jackson has been serving as temporary chairman of the Woodstock club for the past several months.

The Conservative Party on Aug. 8, instituted legal action to invalidate the law requiring that a state-wide indepent nominating petition contain 50 signatures for each county. Section 138 (5) (A) of the Election Law provides that such a petition must contain 12,000 signatures, with at least 50 from each of the state's sixty two counties, with Fulton and Hamilton Counties to be considered as one county.

The Conservative Party is attacking this requirement as a violation of the right to vote guaranteed by the New York State Constitution, as a denial of the equal protection of the laws guaranteed by the 14th Amendment to the United States Constitution, and as a violation of the right to vote for United States Senators as protected in the 17th Amendment.

Supreme Court Justice Lawrence H. Cooke of Albany signed an order, returnable on Aug. 10, requiring Mrs. Caroline K. Simon, the Secretary of State, to show cause why she should not be prohibited from enforcing the 50-vote requirement. If the Conservative Party's action succeeds, it will mean that the Conservative petition, as well as a petition of any other party whatever belief, will be valid if it contains 12,000 signatures regardless of the counties in which they are obtained.

Issues Statement

David H. Jaquith and O'Doherty, Conservative candidates for governor and senator, issued the following statement about the legal action:

"The conservative voters of New York State have had no meaningful vote for years. One device used to disenfranchise them is the requirement that an independent nominating petition must be signed by 50 voters from each county. A petition could contain one million valid signatures, but if it had only forty nine from one of the many small counties, it would be invalid. Thereby, the numerous signers of the petition throughout the state would be denied the right to cast a meaningful ballot, a denial effected by an absurdly minute handful of residents of one small county.

"The American system of representative democracy depends upon the ability of the electorate to make a reasoned choice in the privacy of the polling booths. Such a choice is manifestly impossible if absurdly technical impediments are erected to deny a large and responsible political body a place on that ballot. It is only through reasonable access of serious political bodies to the ballot that the integrity of the electoral process can be assured.

"The Rockefeller-Javits machine has typically relied upon the 50-signature requirement in its plans to stymie the Conservative Party. They have done so because they know that the Conservative Party has struck such a responsive chord that its success can no longer be prevented by any mean which would appeal to the conscience of a fair-minded citizen. That is why the entrenched oligarchs of the Republican Party are sparing no effort to reduce the Conservative hold in a few sparsely settled counties.

'If they can reduce our signatures in any one to less than 50, they will gratefully shelter themselves from the popular storm behind a legalistic facade. Their efforts, however, are destined to fail. For not only will the Conservative Party get on the ballot this year, it will in so doing consign to oblivion this archaic petition requirement which the most rigid and unreasonable of any in the nation.

"Henceforth, we intend that all New York voters shall have a genuine right of suffrage. In this design, all principled citizens of whatever political philosophy, can and ought to join."

All persons desiring the free transportation are requested to contact Dr. George Sullivan, district principal.

Planning Board Sets Hearing on Plans

The Woodstock Planning Board will hold a public hearing on the application of William Whitney for approval of a subdivision plan known as Woodstock Gardens. The subdivision is located on the northerly side of Old Witch Tree Road in the Town of Woodstock.

The hearing is scheduled Thursday, Aug. 16, at 8 p. m. in the firemen's hall in Woodstock. All interested persons will be given an opportunity to be heard on the application.

Health for All

Digestive System

Was it something you ate or someone you hate? The finest meal, eaten in bitterness, will upset your digestion.

When you get emotionally, upset, any part of your digestive tract can get upset too. This state of affairs can bring on nausea, vomiting, pain, diarrhea . . . you name it, you can get it. Continued tension and upset can help cause ulcers, constipation, spastic colon, colitis. Some people, without organic disease, are never free from some abdominal distress. That's because they're upset practically all the time.

Anger, fear, and other unpleasant feelings interfere with the flow of digestive juices and the rich blood supply the stomach needs for good digestion. So if you have had a shock or a severe disappointment, if you're fearful or angry, postpone your meal for a couple of hours. Wait until your uncomfortable emotions die down.

The dinner table is not the place for criticism, nagging or sharp arguments. Don't use mealtimes to relate all the frustrations and complaints of the day. Try not to think of them while you're eating. Don't pick on the kids at mealtime, even if they don't eat up all their vegetables. They're better off enjoying a relaxed meal, and you'll feel better, too, if you don't argue with them while you're eating.

If you have frequent digestive discomfort, don't decide for yourself that the cause is purely emotional. Constant digestive trouble calls for a visit to your doctor. Whatever the basic cause of your indigestion, the doctor is in the best position to help you.

Agreement Made By Marbletown to Join Chest Drive

Citizens of Marbletown have agreed to participate in the 1963 Ulster County Community Chest Campaign, Chest President John F. Schuehler announced today.

For several months Marbletown citizens have been meeting with Chest officials. Finally, the Marbletown citizens' group, satisfied that participation in the Chest would be advantageous to the community, agreed to tool up for next fall's campaign.

Formerly the Kingston Area Community Chest, it became the Ulster County Community Chest last year and was expanded to include Saugerties and New Paltz. Both communities exceeded their quotas.

"The inclusion of Marbletown," says President Schuehler, "is another step in providing better health, recreation and social welfare services for the citizens of Ulster County. Through a strong Community Chest, essential agency services are assured support."

Schuehler continues, "Single communities cannot usually afford to support a balanced program of health, recreation and social welfare services. Many communities joining together can. This is the advantage of a county community chest."

In the fall of each year, the Community Chest conducts its annual campaign for funds to provide its affiliated agencies with operating income. Presently, eleven separate agencies belong to the Chest. Six of these agencies serve the entire county. The Chest means one campaign rather than six or eleven.

The Chest also accepts fiscal stewardship of contributed funds. It therefore, assumes the responsibility for seeing that funds are budgeted and spent wisely in the greatest public interest.

Ulster Alloted $140,089.96 in Per Capita Aid

Ulster County has been alloted $140,089.96 as its share of $11,186.26 distributed as per capita assistance to the cities, towns and villages of New York State it was announced today by State Comptroller Arthur Levitt.

This payment is the second quarterly installment in the state's 1962-63 fiscal year.

The checks were mailed to the fiscal officers of the state's 61 cities, 550 villages and 932 towns.

Unlike other types of state aid, which are granted for a specific purpose (such as education, highways and health) the per capita aid can be used for any general municipal purpose.

This payment is allocated to the local units of government on a per capita basis. Each city receives annually the sum of $6.75 times the amount of its population, towns receive $3.55 for each inhabitant, and villages $3 for each inhabitant.

Big Chunk of Meat Lures Lion Back Again

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Timba is a lion who keeps a close eye on the attendants at Ross Park Zoo. From now on, the attendants will be keeping a closer eye on Timba.

Daniel Berina apparently failed to lock a door when he moved Timba, a 10-year-old male, to another cage Saturday while cleaning up.

"He followed me out of the cage," said Berina. "He just walked out."

Timba was lured back to his cage by the sight of Park Commissioner Michael Bednar waving a good-sized chunk of meat through the bars.

It was Timba's third bid for freedom in five years. The others, the most recent in January, also failed.

Old Arguments Are Reviewed by School Board

All the old arguments heard at the time of the last school bond vote were reviewed at the Board of Education meeting (on Wednesday) recently.

But despite all differences of opinion the board members were agreed that the present number of 700 boys and girls who will be on part time this fall must not be allowed to increase indefinitely.

Accordingly the board will within a few weeks announce the choice of an architect with whom to study the problems of how many school rooms and where to put them. The two chief arguments heard at the board meeting were the issue of how many classrooms and the site.

Most board members were not adamant about the choice of a site, though two members think the Main Street Building should be added to. The opponents of the proposal pointed out that the acreage available is not what it ought to be for additional rooms, and that the State Department stndards will not permit it. Most members seemed to feel that the question of site ought to be able to be settled amicably and wisely. The cost of the land, one board member pointed out is the smallest part of the total cost.

The second question, the number of rooms, found advocates on one side who believe that the public is unwilling to approve a bond issue at this time for more than one building. While others stated that one building of 14 rooms will not take care of those who are or will be on part time by the year the building is completed.

The latter numbers expressed the opinion that the people of Saugerties to finance the construction of enough school facilities to house their children provided they are properly informed of all the facts.

The board approved the appointment of Mrs. Herminone Kleeger of Rhinebeck as a teacher of remedial reading. Mrs. Kleeger is currently a teacher of that subject at Columbia University. She is a graduate of New Paltz State Teachers College and has several years of teaching experience.

The board approved the assignment of the following grade groups to the Malden and N. Flatbush Schools; Malden: 1st grade to be taught by Mrs. Gertrude Peetoom; second and third grades by Mrs. Marjorie King; 4th and 5th grades by Dean M. Bullock. It is expected that the 6th grade pupils of that area will go to the Main Street building this fall.

At the N. Flatbush building this fall 1st grade will be taught by Miss Goodrich; the 4th and 5th grades by Mrs. Leola Wilt. It is expected that the pupils in K, 3 and 6 will attend at Glasco. The assignments both at Malden and N. Flatbush were made on the basis of the grades in question having the right number in them to make up a group of reasonable size. School officials will shortly announce which pupils who are to be on a part time schedule will attend in the morning and which will attend in the afternoon. The 717 pupils who will attend on part time are in this year's second, third and fourth grades. Last year the fifth, sixth and ungraded classes were on part time.

Dr. Grant D. Morse, superintendent of schools, stated at the meeting that there appears to be no way to avoid placing part of the high school pupils on a part time schedule beginning a year from this fall.

The board acted to renew the insurance policy carried by the Roy Helsmoortel Agency that provides coverage against accidents of pupils under certain conditions.

This year the coverage will apply only while the pupil is on the school grounds. The upper limits are $2,500 against accident, and $1,000 death and dismemberment coverage. The policy also covers members of the football squad.

The board approved the tax warrant which authorizes the tax collector to collect local taxes in the amount of $692,991.71 between Sept. 1 and Nov. 10, inclusive.

President Robert Herb announced the following standing committees of the board for the year 1962-63.

Finance: Harry Hoffman Jr., chairman; Charles Riccardi, Richard Smith, Jack O. Pakanen.

Grades and Classifications: Edwin E. Olson, chairman; Smith, Riccardi and Buchan.

Buildings, personal property, and supplies: Richard Smith, chairman; Pakanen, Olson and Breitenbach.

Regents, Academic, library apparatus: Pakanen, chairman; Stycos, Buchan and Hoffman.

Grievance, Discipline, Compulsory Education: Stycos, chairman; Riccardi, Smith and Olson.

Textbooks: Riccardi, chairman; Olson, Breitenbach and Pakanen.

Use of school property: Richard Smith and Henry Breitenbach.

Recommendations by all committees must be given a majority vote of the board before bebecoming the policy of the district.

Pacific Crossed By Japanese Boy With Sailboat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Japanese youth who crossed the Pacific alone in a 19-foot sailboat on a diet of Japanese rice, beer, sake and fresh fish wants to stay in the United States two years to learn English.

The plans of Kenichi Horie, 23, of Osaka, are somewhat clouded by the fact he arrived without passport, visa, immunization record, proof of financial stability or a sponsor.

While the U.S. Immigration Service, the Public Health Service and the Japanese consulate work on the problem, Horie is staying at the home of a consulate employe in amiable protective custody.

Horie sailed into San Francisco Bay Sunday after a three-month voyage from Osaka. The surprised U.S. Coast Guard escorted him to St. Francis yacht harbor and called for the Immigration Service.

With the aid of his Japanese-English dictionary Horie got across to officials his plan to stay two years and learn English. Then he passed around cups of sake, a rice wine to curious onlookers.

The Coast Guard studied the little sailboat with small cabin forward and found only a tiny radio-direction finder, sextant and a compass. No auxiliary engine or radio communications gear encumbered Horie.

"Obviously one hell of a navigator," mused one Coast Guard man.

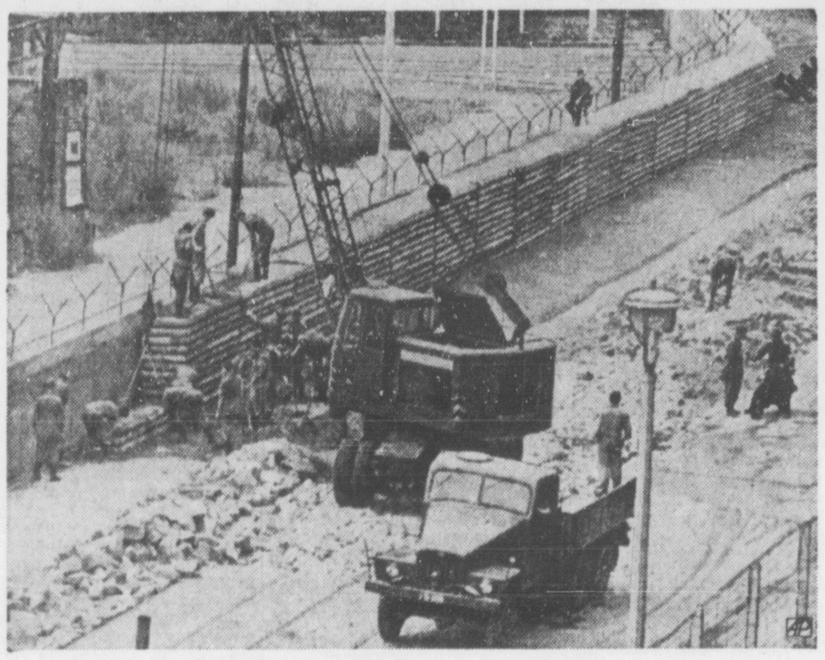

Horie's family in Osaka was overjoyed at the news of his arrival.

The Japanese government, which had given him up for dead, said it was astounded.

Japan had denied Horie a passport on the ground the planned trip was suicidal. His family was against it, too, but explained that Horie was a determined, adventurous youth.

Would Cut Service

The New York Central railroad today was expected to seek permission from the Interstate Commerce Commission to discontinue passenger and freight service on its Harlem division from Chatham, Columbia County, to Millerton, Dutchess County. A railroad spokesman said Saturday passenger and freight traffic moving between the two communities was not sufficient to justify continued operation.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I have a Freeman of July 25, 1907 at which time they list Section 8 and Section 9 of the Ashokan Reservoir lands, which included the business section and center of population of West Shokan to be taken down.

No doubt some of these people moved to Kingston. It was a trying time for many, for they had to give up their homesteads. In those days folks did not move around so much.

One of the big fires of that year happened when lightning during a severe thunder storm struck the coal elevator of the Kingston Coal Co. Just before it was struck the electric lights went out on the city streets.

They tried to sound the alarm from box 73 but it was out of order due to the storm. Then box 61 was sounded and the firemen responded immediately. By this time it is said the top of the building was a mass of flames and several streams of water could not quell the blaze. The coal pockets were of yellow pine and they burned furiously. They started working on the buildings nearby, and what they feared most was the burning of the coal pockets containing hundreds of tons. This was not easy to fight, and the firemen had to retreat from the intense heat of the hot coal fire.

A train of cars on the Ulster and Delaware siding caught fire from the coal pockets and they finally were able to pull it away. Telephone poles and cables were melted by the fire, it was said. Before the fire spread B. J. Murray, John J. Cuneo and Joseph Diamond were able to break down the company's gate and rescue the horses from the barn.

It was said at the time, the fire which took place that Saturday night was so spectacular because the lights were out all over the city and the sky was solely lit by the Kingston Coal Co., fire and witnessed by thousands of people.

In spite of the heavy rain, it is said, soon everyone wanted to get to the fire. I take it the electric power was resumed, for it is said, that trolleys from both ends of Kingston were coming in crowded with sightseers to the fire.

The building was owned by S. D. Coykendall and valued at about $20,000 the news item said. The coal company had between two and three thousand tons of coal in the pockets and shed. This paper of Thursday, July 25, 1907 said that the Kingston Coal Co., was able to resume its business early Monday morning with new coal loaded from cars which arrived since the fire.

That Saturday night July 1907 storm did damage in various places. During the storm the dwelling of Mrs. Richard Schrowang on the Saugerties Road near Andrew Kohl's Mountain View Hotel was struck. The lightning struck a chimney and followed it down to the house, wrecking the rear porch, taking the doors at the rear of the house off their hinges and knocking down the plaster in several of the rooms. The family were seated around a table in the room near the chimney where the lightning struck, but no one was injured.

A teddy bear which was standing in one corner of the room was carried across the room and demolished. Many fires were listed from that storm, especially of farm buildings, some filled with hay. No doubt some of the readers remember this storm and the Kingston Coal Co., fire.

Has 1 Chance to Look Good

No Tax Cut Is General Belief in Washington

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has two chances to get mussed up and one to look good in deciding whether an income tax cut is necessary now to give the economy a transfusion.

There is general belief in Washington the President in his nationwide broadcast tonight will decide against a cut at this time.

Any cut now would be based on the hope, and even that is in dispute, that people with more money to spend would spend enough of it to make the economy pick up and sail.

Can't Be Positive

Since economics is not an exact science, neither the President nor his advisers can be positive what turn the economy will take before the end of the year.

All he can do is make an educated guess based on the July economic statistics, with the help of those around him. If the economy holds up well until 1963, without a tax cut, he will look good.

There are two ways in which he could suffer damage, no matter what he decides.

If he asked for a cut this late in Congress, with the members anxious to get home for the election campaigns, he might be ignored. There is some powerful Democratic opposition in Congress to a cut now.

To be ignored on this would be one more Kennedy defeat in a Congress run by Democrats at a time when he plans to stump the country, asking the voters to elect even more Democrats.

While such a defeat would be a reflection on his leadership, a no tax-cut decision now, if the economy took a dive before the end of 1962, could be interpreted as a reflection on his judgment.

Has Caused Opposition

One thing is sure: A cut now, meaning less revenue for the government, would put the nation deeper in the red. The very thought of this has caused some sturdy opposition to a 1962 reduction.

Once through this rocky year, without a cut or a bad slump, then in 1963 Kennedy could ask for both a tax cut and tax reforms. The reforms would provide revenue to make up for that lost through a cut.

The President is expected to talk about the economy in general but such a talk might have been more effective, and made tonight's unnecessary, if he had made it last spring at the time of the steel dispute.

Let Criticism Pile Up

Kennedy thought he had persuaded the steel industry and the Steelworkers Union to reach a settlement making a price increase unnecessary. Suddenly steel boosted prices. Kennedy got angry. Steel dropped the increase.

Then Kennedy's relations with business began to deteriorate.

A nationwide talk by the President then — on the state of the economy and why he wanted moderation by business and labor — might have cleared the air, encouraged business, and done the economy real good.

Instead, Kennedy let the criticism pile up. Eventually he brought businessmen to the White House for talks. What he did then he probably could have done better in a broadcast.

Convicted Spy's Attorneys Will Challenge Order

By TOM OCHILTREE

LONDON (AP)—Dr. Robert A. Soblen's attorneys go to Britain's high court again Tuesday for another legal attempt to save the fugitive spy from the life sentence waiting for him in the United States.

The lawyers for the 61-year-old psychiatrist said they would ask the court for Soblen's release on a writ of habeas corpus and challenge the order Home Secretary Henry Brooke issued Saturday for Soblen's deportation to the United States.

Brooke issued the deportation order after repeated frustration of British government attempts to send Soblen to New York by El Al, the Israeli government-owned airline which landed Soblen in Britain July 1. The Israeli government, under severe political pressure at home, said it would take Soblen out of Britain but it would only take him to Israel, not to the United States.

Soblen late in June jumped $100,000 bail in New York and fled to Israel on a dead brother's passport. The Israeli government expelled him and put him on an El Al plane bound for New York with a U.S. marshal aboard.

As the plane crossed Europe, Soblen slashed a wrist and stabbed himself in the abdomen to get himself landed in Britain.

The British high court and the Court of Appeals already have denied Soblen a writ of habeas corpus and upheld the government's contention that the doctor had no legal right to remain in Britain.

It is estimated by linguists that at least 145 different languages are spoken in the Soviet Union.

Deaths

WASHINGTON (AP) — Elisha Hanson, 73, former general counsel for the American Newspaper Publishers Association, died Saturday. Hanson, a former newspaperman who became a lawyer and defended freedom of the press in cases before the Supreme Court, was the association's general counsel from 1935 until his retirement last April.

APPLETON, Wis. (AP)—Dr. Thomas Barrows, 62, former president of Lawrence College of Appleton, died Saturday of a heart attack while playing golf. Barrows served as president of Lawrence from 1937 until he resigned in 1943. In recent years he had been counseling director at the Robert Lewis Stevenson School in Pebble Beach, Calif.

Wolslegel of 1 Brookside Court, Lake Katrine and Frank William Sammons of 19 Browning Terrace, this city, were wed before a nuptial Mass 11 a. m. Saturday, Aug. 11 at St. Catherine Laboure Church, Lake Katrine. Mr. Sammons is the son of Mrs. Harold Anderson of this city and the step-son of the late Harold Anderson.

The Rev. William J. O'Donnell of the Church of Our Lady of Loreto, New York City, officiated at the double ring ceremony and read the Papal Blessing. The Rev. James J. McNally, pastor of St. Catherine Laboure Church, presided at the altar. Also present was the Rev. Robert D. Saccoman of St. Martin of Tours Church, Bronx. Angelo A. Atlomari of Kingston was organist and Mrs. James Sweeney, soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of creme silk linen. The removable Empire jacket styled with bateau neckline and abbreviated sleeves covered a sleeveless scooped neckline bodice with a cummerbund of reembroidered Alencon lace. The dome shaped skirt was floor length and featured a bouffant detachable train. The stylized headpiece of imported tulle and pearls secured the wide English illusion veil in matching creme color. She carried a stylized cascade of light green cymbidium orchids and miniature mums. The bride presented a bouquet of white carnations at the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

Sisters of the bride were honor attendants. Miss Sharon Marie Wolslegel of Flushing, L. I., was maid of honor and Mrs. Francis T. Spadafora of Kingston was matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Botto of Hicksville, L. I. and Miss Jean Desidoro of Saratoga Springs.

All were attired in champagne colored cocktail length gowns. The bodices of Golden lace featured circlet necklines and mid-length sleeves and the taffeta skirts were dome shaped. The waists were encircled with avacado green velvet ribbons ending at the back with bow and streamer details. Single rose head pieces in avacado green held circular tulle veils in champagne. They carried cascades of tangerine frenched carnations and ivy.

J. Richard Zeeh of Hurley, was best man for his cousin. Honorary best man was Francis T. Spadafora of Kingston. John N. Wolslegel of Lake Katrine, brother of the bride and Robert Maines of Kingston, cousin of the bridegroom served as ushers.

A reception for 125 guests was held at the Capri Restaurant, Port Ewen, with music for dancing by Joe Vigna and orchestra. Guests included the bride's paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wolslegel of Owego; the bride's maternal grandfather, Thomas F. O'Connell of Owego, and the bridegrooms maternal grandmother, Mrs. Lillian Mitchell of Kingston. Out-of-town guests included those from Long Island, Yonkers, Binghamton, Sidney, Detroit, Mt. Kisco, Bronxville, Plattsburgh, Waverly and Poughkeepsie.

After a wedding trip to Cape Cod the couple will make their home at 34 Smith Avenue, this city. For traveling Mrs. Sammons chose a two-piece white ensemble with green and white accessories and an orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School, class of 1958 and State University College, Plattsburgh, where she received her BS degree in education this year. She is a member of Phi Kappa Chi Sorority.

Mr. Sammons is also a graduate of Kingston High School, Class of 1958 and is an alumnus of Mohawk Valley Technical Institute, Utica. He is a member of Phi Beta Gamma Fraternity and holds an associate degree in retailing and business management. He is employed by International Business Machines Corp at Poughkeepsie.

New Paltz Gallery To Show Paintings By Modern Artists

Hugh Mesibov and John Gregoropoulos are exhibiting paintings and drawings, respectively, at the New Paltz Gallery through Aug. 28.

Mesibov shows paintings; watercolor, collage and gouache. He paints in the modern idiom, with boldness and spontaneity.

Hugh Mesibov is Philadelphia born and raised. He studied at the Pennsylvania Academy and at the Barnes Foundation in Pennsylvania. He has shown at the Brooklyn Museum, in the Whitney Annuals, the Pennsylvania Academy Annuals, the Library of Congress, the Corcoran Gallery, and has held one-man shows in Philadelphia, Chicago and in three New York Galleries. He has received awards and purchase prizes in six shows, including the Pennsylvania Academy Annual, and the Audubon Show. He is in the permanent collections of the Metropolitan Museum, the Pennsylvania Academy, the Barnes Foundation, the Philadelphia Museum, and the Canadian Society of Graphic Arts.

Mesibov lives in Monsey, N. Y., with his wife and three children. He has been art therapist at the Wiltwyck School for Boys for the past five years.

John Cregoropoulos, of Willimantic, Conn., combines power and grace in his strong black and white drawings. Sometimes powerful, sometimes purely calligraphic, these drawings are dynamic examples of abstract expression.

Gregoropoulos was born and educated in Greece. He took a masters of philosophy in Athens, Greece. He teaches painting at the University of Connecticut, Storrs, Conn., and this year is on a year's sabbatical leave in Greece with his wife and three small children. Upon his return the New Paltz Gallery will exhibit his latest canvases of the Greek scene.

Gregoropoulos has shown throughout the east, at the Boston Annuals, the Silvermine, Connecticut shows, in Essex and Mystic Connecticut, at the Lyman Allyn Museum in New London, Conn., where he has held several one-man shows. He has had one-man shows in two New York City galleries.

The New Paltz Gallery is located ¼-mile east of the New York State Thruway Exit 18. Hours are 10:30 a. m. to 6 p. m. daily; 10:30 a. m. to 9 p. m. on Friday, and from 1 to 6 p. m. on Sunday. The gallery is closed on Monday.

LADIES SHAKING HANDS WHEN INTRODUCED

Q: Recently I attended a convention with my husband. During the course of this convention I was introduced to many of his business associates. I extended my hand at each introduction. My husband criticized me for this, saying, "Ladies do not shake hands when introduced." May I have your opinion on this, please?

A: Ladies do not generally shake hands when introduced, but there was certainly nothing wrong in your doing so, and if the man being introduced to you extended his hand, it would have been very rude not give him yours.

Unusual But Not Improper

Q: I am not going to dress as a bride but am being married in a large church and would like to invite many friends and relatives to the ceremony. The number makes it very difficult to invite people verbally and by personal notes, and yet someone told me that I could not send formal invitations to a wedding at which the bride is not to be dressed in bridal clothes. Is this true?

A: It would be very strange to receive a formal wedding inviation and then arrive at the church and see the bride in an ordinary dress, but if you wish to send engraved invitations to your wedding and not dress as a bride there is no rule to prevent your doing so.

Q: In two weeks my husband and I are going to a 25th wedding anniversary dinner which is being held in a hotel. The men are going to wear white dinner jackets and the women cocktail dresses. Several of the younger men, including my husband, would like to wear plaid ties and plaid cummerbunds with their white dinner jackets. Would this be proper?

A: No, not for a party as formal as a 25th anniversary dinner.

Hyde Park Man Burned When Oil Stove Explodes

A 50-year-old Hyde Park man, injured early Saturday when he was forced to leap through a kitchen window as flames blocked exits, today was reported in fair condition at St. Francis' Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Hyde Park Trooper Edward Anderson said John Kwant, suffered first and second degree burns of his right side.

Troopers reported that Kwant told Anderson at the hospital that an oil stove in the living room of his home burst into flames. He assisted his wife, Bertha, 47, and children John Kwant Jr., 13, and Debby, 4, from the house and dashed back into the living room and tried to extinguish the fire.

Flames spread rapidly and Kwant was forced to smash a kitchen window and make his escape to safety.

Staatsburg, West Clinton and Roosevelt Fire companies responded to a call and on arrival firemen found the house in flames. The one-story four-room residence was completely destroyed.

Today Is Circus Day, Matinee and Evening Shows

Today is circus day in Kingston.

Back in 1892 Charles T. Hunt left Kingston with two wagons, four horses, and five men — to begin the now famous Hunt Bros. Circus which is showing at the Dietz Stadium lot at 2 p. m. this afternoon and 8 p. m. tonight. Doors to the main show open one hour earlier.

Hunt Bros. Circus today is the second oldest show on the road, and one of the largest of the traveling tent shows. The 1962 version is billed as the Royal International Circus, and the program of acts underlines the international flavor with famous names of Spangleland appearing from many parts of the world.

The current edition of Hunt Bros. also features an enlarged menagerie, plus the side shows, barkers, and all the features that spells out the American tradition known as the circus.

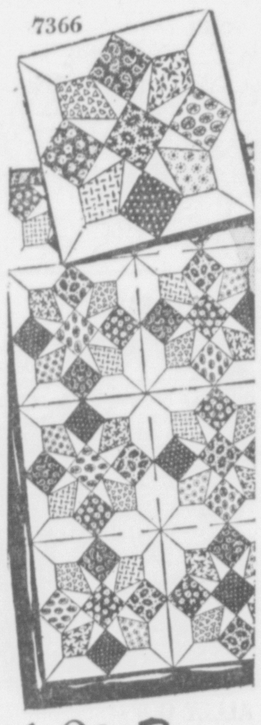

In speaking of the 1962 season thus far, Harry Hunt, director of the Hunt Bros. show, said that "this has been a pretty good year so far, and we are certainly happy to be back in Kingston where my Dad started this show."

No Agreement Reached

Charles Andola, president of the Highland Central School District Board of Education, said Saturday that agreement has not been reached by the board on the manner in which $25,000 will be spent for site improvement at the new high school on Pancake Hollow Road. He said, however, that the money should cover the cost of a roadway and parking area in front of the building, some seeding and sidewalks.

". . . THE WORLD'S A STAGE"—No matter what the weather, the audience keeps dry in the University of Detroit Theater Festival tent. But the poor players must use umbrellas to prevent being drenched while lining up outside the tent for processional entrance in "Hamlet."

matter of fact

The 1961 per capita consumption of major food commodities in this country continued at 3 per cent above the 1947-1949 level. Also continuing was the significant change in the eating habits of Americans. Namely, the decline in consumption of potatoes and cereal products, the substitution of vegetable for animal fats and an increase in the eating of poultry, as well as the degree to which citrus fruits replaced some other fruits.

3-County Airport Needs Survey Is In Final Phase

Field interviews are being conducted by the State Department of Commerce's Bureau of Aviation as the final phase of a survey to determine airport needs in the Ulster-Orange-Dutchess Counties area.

Edmund T. Lynch, director of the Bureau, said a report is possible before the end of 1962. He stated that only 3,000 of 35,000 persons in the tri-county area who received questionnaires to determine the air service requirements which could be served by an airport in the Newburgh-Poughkeepsie area, have responded.

Lynch said the percentage of replies was sufficient to reach a valid conclusion. He noted the survey was begun in May and at that time he said that while the Dutchess County airport at New Hackensack is virtually the center of gravity of the three counties, expenditures would be required there if the survey suggested its use as a tri-county airport.

Lynch stated that an analysis of replies to area questionnaires and interviews might suggest efforts to seek use of Stewart Air Force base, Newburgh, by civilian planes needing long runways.

Vacationer Found Alive; Fell After Overdose of Pills

A Rockland County man vacationing at Boiceville was reported in fairly good condition today at Kingston Hospital where he was taken Sunday suffering from an overdose of sleeping pills, Kingston state police reported.

Troopers said Louis Pape Sleezer, 36 of Stony Point, staying at a summer cottage on Traver Hollow Road, Boiceville was discovered at the foot of a stairway Sunday by a neighbor.

Kingston troopers alerted by Sleezer's wife, Elaine, who called from Stony Point, arrived a short time later and found Sleezer on the floor. He admitted taking the barbiturates and was conveyed to the hospital in Gormley's Ambulance.

According to troopers, Sleezer said he took the pills Thursday and fell down the stairs where he lay until discovered by a neighbor.

Assigned to the case were BCI Senior Investigator Frank B. Stainkamp and Troopers Robert Mackey and David Wachtel.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Did the Poughkeepsie Hoe-Bowls forfeit their NY-NJ League game with the Kingston Braves Saturday night at Dietz Stadium? Or is the official result a 5 to 3 victory for the locals?

What Poughkeepsie player (or players) took a swing (or swings) at base umpire Tony Crispino, following the conclusion of the stormy ball game?

Answers to these questions are somewhat obscure today, in the absence of official statements from the local management or league headquarters.

General Manager Fred J. Davi of the Kingston Braves told the Freeman sports department that he did not attend the special meeting called by league president, William Straub of Saugerties, Sunday night at Poughkeepsie.

Field manager Dick Bartsch of the Braves, who represented the local club, declined comment and said that any report on the Saturday night episode would have to come from President Straub. Efforts to reach Straub by telephone this morning were unavailing. He was reported to be in Hyde Park and would not be available until this afternoon.

Ted Kilburn, league statistician and official scorer for the Braves, who reports the games from the Braves, declined to comment beyond a terse statement in his weekly report to the sports department.

Jordan's Version

Fritz Jordan, the Poughkeepsie field manager, was not so reluctant to discuss the incidents that occurred. In addition to admitting that he was ejected from the game by Umpire Crispino for questioning a decision at first base in the 5th inning, Jordan criticized Crispino for appearing on the field in civilian clothes and for smoking on the field. He said the league will send a letter of protest to the Kingston Umpires Association. A KUA official said, however, that Crispino is not a member of the Association.

At the meeting in Poughkeepsie last night, plate umpire Herb Wolf's report was read and it said he thought somebody had swung at Crispino near the entrance gate in a scuffle after the game was over.

Wolf's report, however, did not give names.

However, it was learned that two members of the Poughkeepsie team — right fielder Butch Veronesi and catcher Maynard Darrow — are receiving letters from president Straub this morning. According to information available, no fines were levied by the league president.

It was also established that Manager Jordan concentrated a steady verbal fire at the umpires after he was ejected from the game and went to sit in the stands and refused to leave the premises as ordered by Umpire Crispino.

Shortly after the 5th inning incident, Umpire Crispino made a public announcement that the game was being forfeited to Kingston. The game continued, however, for the regulation nine-inning distance.

Early Trouble

There were a couple of calls early in the game that also produced flareups between Jordan and the umpires. In one inning, Jordan said, Crispino called a Kingston batter out after the third baseman (Rich Sewell) had caught a line drive. Sewell threw to first base apparently completing double play to end the inning. Jordan claims that Umpire Crispino called the double play ending the inning and the Poughkeepsie players trotted off the field. However, Jordan said, after his club had left the field, plate umpire Harold Wolf overruled Crispino and and said it was not a legal catch and sent the Poughkeepsie team back on the field.

It was also established that after Crispino had announced the forfeit to Kingston, Umpire Wolf ordered Jordan to leave the stands and go to some remote place in the stadium and let the game continue.

A notation on the blotter at police headquarters this morning acknowledged a call to Dietz Stadium at 10:42 Saturday night. Officers Thomas Carpino and John Kennedy responded to the call. In their report, the officers said that when they arrived, "all was straightened out."

Gardner Impressive

The incidents during and after the game overshadowed a brilliant pitching performance by Kingston's Paul Gardner. He allowed three runs (all unearned) in the first two innings and then applied the collar to the visitors during the remainder of the tilt.

Deke Johnson started the Hoe-Bowl first by reaching base on an error. After he swiped second, Howie Mann drew a base on balls and then Butch Darrow singled to score Deke. Mann reached third on the hit when Ron Secreto dropped the throw from the outfield. A single by Butch Veronesi scored Mann.

Kingston struck back with a pair off Mickey SaVino, the Poughkeepsie southpaw. Bob Bondar walked with one out and then stole second. With two outs, Chick Boice walked and Bill Chase delivered both runners with a base hit to left.

Gardner was plagued by bad support in the second. SaVino led off with an infield hit and when Bob Bondar didn't hustle after the ball, Mickey scooted all the way to second base. A sacrifice by Johnson moved him to third and Mann then hit a sacrifice fly to center.

The locals knotted the count in the second when Gardner singled and two outs later scored on a hit by Joe Modica.

Gardner was simply supberb over the last seven innings. He allowed only three hits after the second inning. Paul finished the evening with seven strikeouts and he walked only two batters.

SaVino was tagged for the winning markers in the sixth when Boice singled with one out and went to second on a passed ball. Dick Bartsch then applied the clincher with a two-out triple to the bank in left-center. Paul Gianuzzi's infield hit scored Bartsch with the final run.

Gary Brown hurled two scoreless relief innings for the visitors but his teammates couldn't solve the offerings of Gardner.

Giants Sweep Los Angeles Club

Marichal Halts Leaders, 5-1; Mets Are Beaten

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

You might say the Dodgers spent a lost weekend with the beats in San Francisco.

Thanks to Felipe Alou and friends, the San Francisco Giants have saved the National League pennant race. A three-straight sweep over Los Angeles has slashed a fat 5½ game lead to a mere 2½ games.

Instead of an early knockout in mid-August, the Dodgers may have to fight it out right down to the wire. Al Dark, manager of the Giants, said he needed to win five of seven from the Dodgers to have a chance. He already has won three.

The three straight were accomplished with Felipe Alou getting eight hits and scoring seven runs in 12 at bats, boosting his average 10 points to .328. In the Dodgers series he batted .667. Willie Mays, a pigeon for Dodger pitching in earlier games, awoke with four hits and five runs scored in 10 trips.

Tommy Davis and Frank Howard, who ruined the Giants in Los Angeles in late July were kept under control. Tommy had three for 12 and Howard managed only two hits in 11 at bats in three games. However Davis took over the league batting lead at .345.

Juan Marichal turned back the Dodgers with four hits Sunday while the Giants won 5-1. Alou had three singles among the 10 hits off loser Stan Williams and Larry Sherry.

Cincinnati's surge, interrupted last weekend by the New York Mets, has been renewed. The Reds have won eight in a row, climbing within seven games of the Dodgers. They made Freddy Hutchinson's 43rd birthday a happy one Sunday with an 8-4 victory over the Mets. Gordie Coleman, Lee Cardenas and Wally Post hit home runs.

Pittsburgh outlasted Chicago 5-4 in the finale of their long series. The three games consumed nine hours and 53 minutes with respective times of 3:12, 3:09 and 3:32. Bob Skinner hit his 15th and 16th homer on successive at bats to win for relief man Jack Lamabe over Don Elston.

Callison Slugs

Johnny Callison drove in seven runs to lead the Philadelphia Phillies in a doubleheader sweep over St. Louis 7-3 and 9-7. Callison's two-run triple in the first game was an important blow. He won the second game with a three-run homer in the eighth.

Houston broke its seven-game losing streak by beating Milwaukee 8-5 in 105-degree temperature although the Braves scored two in the ninth and had the bases loaded when the final out was made. Bob Bruce was the winner over Lew Burdette.

Joey Jay got off to a shaky start at Cincinnati when Charlie Neal of the Mets hit a three-run homer in the first. But the Reds bombed Roger Craig and successors for three homers. It was Jay's 18th victory and Craig's 18th defeat.

Cal McLish won the opener for the Phillies with the aid of Callison's hitting and Clay Dalrymple's homer. Don Demeter, who had three hits in each game, drove in three runs in the second game with his 18th homer and a double. Dallas Green won it in relief over Lindy McDaniel. Ernie Broglio lost the first. Stan Musial lost the batting lead to Davis when he went hitless.

Pittsburgh trailed 4-3 in the seventh when Skinner hit his second homer, following Dick Groat's single.

Norm Larker homered for the Colts and Roy McMillan and Amado Samuel for the Braves in the contest that finally ended when Russ Kemmerer, fourth Colt pitcher, made Frank Bolling ground out.

Atlanta Player Wrecks Syracuse

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When husky Fred Hopke was with the Syracuse Chiefs he delighted in delivering game-winning blows against Atlanta.

So the Crackers acquired his services earlier this season, and he responded by wrecking Syracuse in a couple of ball games.

The Chiefs got Hopke back, and just in time.

The first baseman banged out three homers for Syracuse Sunday, the last one with two on and two out and the Chiefs trailing by one run, to provide the muscle for an 8-6 nightcap victory over the Crackers. Atlanta won the opener 3-2.

Columbus and Buffalo tangled in another doubleheader that had an important bearing on the last playoff spot, but neither made any progress.

The Jets whitewashed the Bisons 9-0 in the opener, and Buffalo returned the favor 3-0, in the second game. The split left Buffalo in fourth, a game ahead of the Jets.

Seventh place Richmond took a 6-2 win in the opener over the second place Toronto Maple Leafs but the Leafs swarmed back for a 4-0 victory in the nightcap.

The Rochester Red Wings topped the league leading Jacksonville Suns 9-6.

Charleston Wins Eastern Twinbill

The Charleston Indians swept a doubleheader from Binghamton Sunday, 5-4 and 4-0, to extend their winning streak to eight—their longest this season — and move into third place, a half game ahead of York in the Eastern League.

In other games, second-place Elmira defeated league - leading Williamsport 3-0 and York beat Springfield 4-3.

Charleston built up a 5-0 lead in the first four innings of the opener. Four of the runs were unearned as the result of three Binghamton errors.

George Denyer tossed a four-hitter for the Indians in the nightcap victory.

Elmira spoiled Dave Getz Day at Williamsport by handing the young lefthander his sixth loss against seven wins. Bonus Baby Dave McNally tossed the four-hit shutout to post his 12th victory against 10 losses.

A single to right by Dean Robbins with two out in the ninth gave York its victory over Springfield.

Yankees Win on Hit by Maris

Eighth Inning Single Defeats Detroit, 2-0

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roger Maris isn't going to hit 61 home runs this season. He may not even hit .269. He did both last season.

Right now Roger is hitting .254, which is a very good average for most pitchers. It isn't so hot for one of baseball's highest paid hitting stars.

The New York Yankees gave the green-eyed, blond slugger a $70,000 contract this season well knowing he wasn't going to hit 61 homers, but full of high hopes he might improve his batting average.

He's done neither, but still may be worth the money.

Over the weekend Maris either scored or drove in every Yankee run in three games.

New York edged Detroit 2-0 Sunday. Roger drove in the first one and scored the second. That, along with the five-hit pitching of Bill Stafford (10-7), was all it took.

The victory, plus Minnesota's 5-3 conquest of second place Los Angeles, gave the Yanks a 5½ game edge as they started a two-week road trip. Chicago edged Kansas City 1-0, Boston beat Baltimore 4-1 and Cleveland defeated Washington 5-3 in the other American league action.

Maris, departing from his hit-'em-out theory of 1961, used most of the weapons in a hitter's arsenal in his weekend performance. In the first game of a doubleheader Saturday, won by Detroit 7-2, Roger drove in one run with a single, the other with a sacrifice squeeze bunt.

In the second game, won by the Yanks 3-2 in 10 innings, he scored the first one after drawing a full-count base on balls. His 26th homer of the season accounted for the second, tying the game.

Then he won it in the 10th with a ground smash off the first baseman's glove, driving in Bobby Richardson, who had doubled.

Stafford was locked in a scoreless duel Sunday with Ron Kline when the Yanks broke through in the eight. Tom Tresh drew a lead-off walk and was sacrificed to second. Maris singled to right, driving in Tresh. He moved to second when Mickey Mantle was walked intentionally, and scored on Elston Howard's single.

Bob Allison drove in two runs and scored two himself in leading the Twins to the triumph over the Los Angeles. It pulled Minnesota to within one game of the second-place Angeles. The Twins, helped by two Angel errors, had built a 5-0 lead for lefty Dick Stigman (7-3) when Felix Torres' eighth-inning homer accounted for all the Los Angeles runs.

Earl Wilson (9-5) spaced four hits and struck out nine Orioles in leading Boston to its fifth straight. A three run homer by Ed Bressoud was the big hit for the Red Sox.

Jim Landis' 15th homer accounted for the only run in Chicago's fourth straight victory and eighth in 10 starts. The six-hit pitching of Ray Herbert (12-7), who left after walking two men in the eighth, and Juan Pizarro shut out Kansas City.

Harry Bright staked Washington to a quick 3-0 lead in the first inning, but Cleveland's Jim (Mudcat) Grant shut out the senators the rest of the way. A pair of two-run homers by Gene Green brought the Indians from behind.

Palmer Wins Tourney, Sets Mark in Earnings

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer, the great one, came to the American Golf Classic with two goals in mind and achieved them both.

First, Palmer wanted to master the treacherous 7,165-yard Firestone layout with its monstrous No. 16 hole, which measures 625 yards. Then he wanted to win enough money to surpass his own earnings record, established in 1960.

The Pennsylvania pounder, whose galleries resemble Ghengis Khan's hordes, put together four magnificent rounds of 67-69-70-70 for a 276 total, four strokes under Firestone's par 35-35—70, to win top money of $9,000.

By Five Strokes

He finished five strokes ahead of the field to boost his total earnings to $80,198, surpassing the mark of $75,262 he established two years ago. It was his eighth tournament triumph this year. Palmer, 32, now has a career total of 36 victories.

No. 16, which cost Palmer the PGA victory in 1960, was humbled this time. In each and every round, Palmer scored a birdie.

"I played it differently this time," said Palmer. "But despite four birdies, I still have a lot of respect for that monster."

Palmer, who will forgo action until the "World Series of Golf" at Firestone next month, defeated Mason Rudolph by five strokes. Rudolph, putting together a 31-35—66 in the final round, finished with a 281 for second money of $4,600. Finishing in a tie for third place with 284s were U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus, Don January, Al Geiberger and Billy Maxwell—all earning $2,500.

Porterhouse Wins Big Trot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rodney's offspring made the American Trotting Championship a family affair by taking the top two positions in the $50,000 event Saturday night at Roosevelt Raceway.

Porterhouse, a 4-year-old son of the master sire, slipped between horses and beat Duke Rodney, another son by Rodney, to the wire by a neck.

The victory, worth $32.40 for a $2 win ticket, qualified Porterhouse for the International Trot at Roosevelt next Saturday.

Porterhouse's time of 2:32 3-5 for the mile-and-a-quarter knocked two-fifths of a second off the world record set in 1953 by Florican and equalled by Su Mac Lad winning the International last year.

Su Mac Lad plagued by hoof trouble, finished fourth in the American Championship, three-quarters of a length behind the third-place horse, Silver Song.

New Zealand's entry in the International, Ordeal, who has been racing in this country, won the first $10,000 leg of Batavia Downs' Autumn Gold Trotting series two weeks ago, and finished fourth in the second leg Saturday.

Helen Brooke K, a 16-1 shot, won the second leg in 2:02 4-5.

At other tracks Saturday night:

Vernon Downs — Ted Hanover ($28.20) won the first $1,000 leg of the August Pacing Series in 2:00 1-5.

Saratoga Raceway — Yankee Tardios ($7.20) easily won the $2,200 Malone Pace over a muddy track in 2:12 1-5.

Late Rallies Enable Winners To Top Rivals

S and E Inc. won a City Baseball League doubleheader last night at Dietz Stadium, stopping the 50 Club, 4-3 and trimming Acker Bus Lines, 9-3.

Gary Barnes had three singles, including one which drove in two runs for S and E in the sixth inning against the 50 Club. Chick Boice doubled for the winners, who had six hits off the slants of Tony Gallo.

Mike Spada hurled the second game triumph. He allowed only six hits while walking one and striking out 11 batters. A six-run rally in the fourth frame did the trick for the winners.

Bob Bondar socked three hits for the winners and Gene Spada doubled and had three runs batted in. Len Whitten had a single and triple for Acker's.

Tonight, S and E will meet the 50 Club at 8 o'clock.

On Friday, 50 Club beat Acker's, 4-2, after losing to the same team, 7-6, in a suspended contest. Frank Allen was the winner over John Nolan.

Jaipur, Ridan, Decidedly At Saratoga Track Saturday

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jaipur and Ridan and possibly Decidedly slug it out Saturday in the 1¼ miles of the $75,000-added Travers Stakes at Saratoga with a strong claim to the 3-year-old turf title awaiting the winner.

The highly regarded filly, Cicada, also is scheduled to start.

Jaipur, owned by George D. Widener and with Willie Shoemaker in the saddle, is the likely choice for America's oldest horse race off victories in the Belmont Stakes, Choice, Jersey Derby, Withers and Gotham.

Ridan, star of Mrs. Moody Jolley's stable, lost face when he bowed to the lightly regarded Black Sheep in the recent American Derby at Arlington Park. But the son of Nantallah, unbeaten in seven starts as a 2-year-old, never has been out of the money in 10 outings this year, if you don't count the Florida race in which he ran third and was disqualified.

Whether Kentucky Derby winner Decidedly will be in the race probably will be decided after a workout at Saratoga today. Other probables include Cyane, Prego and possibly Black Beard.

Cicada Will Start

Trainer Casey Hayes said Sunday that C. T. Chenery's Cicada was trained for the race and will start. But she was a disappointment in last Saturday's $57,000 Alabama Stakes over the same track, running third behind E. Barry Ryan's Firm Policy and the lightly regarded Lincoln Center in the 1¼-mile race for 3-year-old fillies.

Eastern campaigned fillies ran one-two in the 1⅛ miles of the $61,800 Pucker Up Stakes for 3-year-old fillies at Arlington Park. Royal Patrice, the 2 to 1 choice from the Harbor View Farm, beat the Darby Dan Farm's Polylady by a length to earn $39,300. She was timed in 1:48 1-5.

Hughes Captures Washburn "500" Race at Rhinebeck

Overhauling Harry Brazee on the 133rd lap, Carleton Hughes of Troy never relinquished the lead and went on to win the coveted Washburn "500" Memorial Trophy race, Saturday night at Rhinebeck Speedway.

Brazee led up to the 133rd lap when a car driven by Hoppy Jensen of Bristol, Conn. blew its engine, spilling oil and causing Tom McGrath and Brazee to tangle. Later in the race Ron Van Etten and Brazee tangled with the race continuing on the caution flag.

John Van Leuvan took second place, with the ill-fated Brazee finishing third. Following the three leaders were Ben Stone, Ron Kidd, Hoppy Jensen, Cavanaugh, Glass and Mehm.

In addition to the lion's share of the purse, Hughes won two trophies — the Keller Fire Company Award and the Hayes Mercury Award.

Tom Miller of Kingston captured the sedan feature.

Garrison Is Winner

Doug Garrison of Hudson captured the feature race and the $500 purse and Dobler Brewing Company Trophy that went with it, Saturday night at Lebanon Valley Speedway.

Garrison needled his way through the early traffic to build up a quarter-lap lead, then fought off challenges by Stretch Van Steenburg and Johnny Flach.

Van Steenburg was second, followed by Flach, Don Rounds, Nels Grignon and Link Pettit.

Heat winners included Garrison, Link Pettit, Van Steenburg, John Roelphs captured the consolation.

The four-state 35-lap championship event will be held Saturday night at Lebanon Valley.

Moore, Maeki In Main Fight

Traveling Davey Moore, the world featherweight boxing champion, ventures into Helsinki, Finland, Friday night for a defense of his title against Finland's Olli Maeki.

Maeki, a local favorite with only 10 pro fights and an 8-1-1 record, will be a real long shot against the consistent 29-year-old champ from Columbus, Ohio and his 55-6-1 record.

The first world title fight ever held in Scandinavia will be staged at Olympic Stadium, built for the 1952 Games, and will be seen by some 25,000 paying $150,600. Moore is supposed to get $30,000 for his end.

Barney Ross, the former lightweight and welter champ, will referee the 15-round match.

It will be Moore's fifth defense of the crown he won by knocking out Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria, March 18, 1959. He has lost only once in a 34-bout span over six years. His last previous defense was against Kazuo Takayama in Tokyo last Nov. 13.

Emile Griffith, the welter king, also will be busy this week, renewing an old acquaintance with Denny Moyer in a 10-round non-title match at Tacoma, Wash., Saturday. The fight will be a feature of the annual convention of the National Boxing Association, Aug. 18-24.

Griffith and Denny, younger of the fighting Moyer boys from Portland, Ore., met twice before Griffith won the title. Each won once.

In his last outing, July 13, Griffith successfully defended against Ralph Dupas at Las Vegas.

The fight will be carried on network (ABC) television.

Giant Players Back in NL Race

By DICK BARNES
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Neither popoff optimism from Giants quarters nor sinking pessimism from the Dodgers is in evidence today despite San Francisco's three-game weekend sweep over Los Angeles that rebuilt a neck-and-neck National League pennant race.

Juan Marichal, hurling an excellent four - hitter, stopped the Dodgers 5-1 Sunday to complete the sweep that began with 11-2 and 5-4 victories Friday and Saturday.

The second-place Giants thus pulled within 2½ games of the leaders and cancelled the Los An-Angeles 3-game sweep of two weeks ago that apparently had knocked the Giants from the race.

"I don't want to pop about this," smiled Giants manager Alvin Dark. "Talk to the players, they all played great the whole series."

From the players came only pats on the back for each other and confident smiles, but no cocky biasts as they realized the season has seven weeks left.

Dodger Manager Walt Alston, asked if he thought a 2½ game lead was sufficient, reminded listeners he had never said a 5½ game margin, which the Dodgers had before Friday's game, was enough.

"Sometimes even 13½ hasn't been enough," he said, referring to 1951 when the Giants overcame a Dodger lead which was that big at precisely this time of the season.

"But just because the Giants won three," he added, "I don't think they ought to get overconfident."

Mickey Wright Wins Tournament

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mickey Wright of Dallas figures she learned a valauable lesson in the Kansas City Women's Open Golf Tournament, even though she took first place.

The ball had been bouncing right for the LPGA's top money-winner of the year until she came to the four-day, 72-hole test on Hillcrest's 6,804-yard par 72 course.

Her 69 on the first round was matched by Jackie Pung of Daly City, Calif. Then she had to make a one-stroke lead stand up the rest of the way, as she shot 73-73-71 for 286.

Mary Lena Faulk of Sea Island, Ga., was her challenger the second and third rounds.

In the last go-round Sunday it was Mary Mills of Gulfport, Miss. who had a chance to tie Miss Wright on the last hole.

Double bogeys plagued Miss Wright on the third round and she had to bear down hard to keep ahead.

"I've needed that," she said later, referring to the bad holes. "I've needed it all year. I've developed an attitude where I think that all I need to do is step up to the ball and hit it. But that shook me up."

Miss Mills turned in 71-79-69-68—287 for second place. Miss Faulk slipped to third at 290 with a 74 Sunday.

Green Bay, Houston Win Exhibition Tilts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After the Green Bay Packers crushed the College All-Stars 42-20 with three last quarter scores, Packer ace Paul Hornung gave it as his opinion that a good pro team would have beaten the NFL champs "by five touchdowns."

If that is so, the Packers have improved by eight touchdowns and a field goal in only a week. That cannot be happy news to the other 13 NFL clubs.

In the American Football League things looked familiar today, too. The Houston Oilers, twice champions, and the San Diego Chargers, twice runners-up, both looked powerful.

All 14 NFL clubs and all eight AFL entries played weekend exhibitions. It was the kickoff for all the NFL clubs except the Packers, and for half the AFL teams.

The Packers toppled the Dallas Cowboys at Dallas 31-7 and the Oilers whipped Denver 33-17 at Atlanta Friday night. Houston quarterback George Blanda, reduced to kicking chores by a thyroid operation, kicked four field goals and three points after touchdown.

In NFL Saturday action, the Los Angeles Rams smothered the Washington Redskins 37-7 at Los Angeles, Cleveland took the Detroit Lions 17-14 at Detroit, Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Bears 19-14 at Atlanta, San Francisco outscored the Minnesota Vikings 30-24 at Seattle and the New York Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals played a 21-21 tie at Canton Ohio in pro football's first Hall of Fame game.

In the AFL, San Diego shut out Dallas 17-0 at San Diego, and Oakland tripped the Boston Patriots 21-20 at Providence, R.I., Saturday. The Buffalo Bisons handed the New York Titans their second exhibition loss 20-10 at New Haven, Conn., Sunday.

Johnny Unitas looked to be back in peak form, after being handicapped last season by an injured finger on his throwing hand, as he passed for two Colt touchdowns and scored another. For the Eagles, Sonny Jurgensen showed no effects of the shoulder separation he suffered in January's runner-up bowl game.

In a battle of traded quarterbacks, Jim Ninowski of the Browns passed for two touchdowns against his old Detroit mates, now handled by ex-Brown Milt Plum. A field goal by Lou Groza was the difference.

Another quarterback at a new address, Ed Brown, moved the Steelers well against his old Bear team, with two field goals by Lou Michaels, one for 48 yards, providing the margin.

DiMaggio Back For Last Farewell To Former Wife

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Joe DiMaggio was among the hundreds of mourners who returned to Marilyn Monroe's crypt after the funeral to say a last farewell.

She was entombed last Wednesday at a cemetery in Westwood.

Guy R. Hockett, managing director of the Memorial Park, said DiMaggio, second of the blonde actress' three husbands, said his goodby last Friday.

"He came to the office to check over the flower cards and read the hundreds of telegrams," said Hockett.

"When he left the office there were about 18 or 20 persons in front of the crypt. 'I guess I can't say goodby now,' he said dejectedly.

"I told him to wait a moment. I walked over to the people and explained that Mr. DiMaggio wanted a moment or two alone at his former wife's crypt,' said Hockett.

"The people were all very nice. They walked away and let Mr. DiMaggio have his moment alone in front of the crypt."

Hockett said the park was full of mourners Sunday with cars bumper to bumper, some who drove through and some who brought flowers — "people who care a little, people who loved and admired her.

Candidates Talk About Bringing Space Age Work

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Democratic gubernatorial and senatorial candidates have pledged themselves to attracting space age industry into Pennsylvania through expanded technical education opportunities.

Richardson Dilworth and his running mate, U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark, outlined what they termed their "Program for Prosperity" in Pennsylvania in a joint statement issued at the biennial convention of the Pennsylvania's Young Democrats.

The candidates had no specific cost estimate for their proposal, although it was labeled a multi-million-dollar, 10-to-20-year program.

Clark, who seeks election to a second six-year term in the Senate, said the bulk of the cost would be borne by federal programs already in effect or near enactment.

Junk President's Farm Bill, Advice of Sen. Keating

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R-N.Y., urged Congress today to junk the Kennedy administration's farm bill this year and organize a study commission to recommend a program next year.

"This administration has failed to chart new directions for American agriculture," he said in a prepared Senate speech. "The time has come for Congress to take the initiative."

He said the administration's wheat program amounts to a bread tax on consumers and he contended Congress could save the taxpayers $1.5 billion by junking the farm program proposed by President Kennedy.

He urged the chairman of the Senate and House agriculture committees to organize a joint bi-partian study commission on the farm problem.

In the Nytralite Aggregate plant's preliminary work, McDonough directed the important task of securing properties in the Kingston area. This consisted of making property maps from deeds and tracing ownerships so that options could be secured. He also helped develop the preliminary plant design.

MRS. GRACE O'TOOLE

New Executor For Catholic Charities Here

Mrs. Grace O'Toole has replaced Mrs. Mary Ceysens as executive social worker in charge of the Ulster County office of Catholic Charities, 261 Fair Street, Kingston. Mrs. Ceysens resigned at the end of May. Miss Ruth Garrity continues to serve as the agency's secretary.

Mrs. O'Toole is a graduate of the Fordham School of Social Service and has had extensive experience in the family service program of Catholic Charities. She served most recently in the agency's Bronx office. She now resides with her husband and children in the nearby Catskill mountains area.

The Ulster County unit, of which Mrs. O'Toole takes charge immediately, is one of the largest established of the almost 200 welfare and health agencies comprising the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York. Its total budget is furnished from the funds raised in the annual springtime Appeal of Catholic Charities. In 1962 the Rev. Mrs. O'Toole's professional specialty is in family relations counselling. Available to her, in addition to her own knowledge and skills, are many services of the total Catholic Charities organization centralized for economy's sake in various specific locations. These together with the health and welfare resources of Ulster County and New York State comprise the helping tools with which Mrs. O'Toole will work in behalf of families and individuals overwhelmed by trouble and in need of guidance and help.

Negroes Turned Away at Some Churches Sunday

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Singly or in small groups, Negroes tried to worship at segregated white churches in this racially troubled city but only one got past the doors on an otherwise relaxed Sabbath.

A Negro woman, Doris Derby, 22, was admitted to St. Paul's Episcopal church. Two other Negroes attended Mass at St. Teresa's Catholic church, but members of their race have worshipped there before.

Two churches turned Negroes away. A white New York minister, the Rev. Ralph Lord Roy, led two Negroes to Trinity Methodist church. He said they were asked to come back some other time.

Two Negroes who tried to attend Central Baptist church said a white man told them they would have to leave or he would summon a policeman.

The president of the Albany Movement, W. G. Anderson, said it was "sacrilegious that worshippers are turned away from a house of God."

He disclosed plans for a major drive in Albany to register Negro voters and said his organization would "continue to test public facilities."

The efforts to use segregated facilities, he said, were being made on the basis of a statement by the city attorney, H. Grady Rawls, who said Friday in Recorder's Court that the city did not enforce its segregation ordinances.

Albany's city parks and library remained closed after they were locked Saturday when Negroes tried to use them.
